THE HON. W.R. MOTHERWELL

FORMERLY OF SASKATCHEWAN GOVERNMENT VISITS KINGSTON

Addresses Queen's Political Science Class on the Development of the Grain Growers of the West.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, late Minister of Agriculture in the Saskatchewan Legislature, is in the city, and on Friday morning addressed Dr. Skelton's political science class at Queen's University, on the "Organization and Development of the Grain Growers of the West." He said the movement among the farmers of the west was prompted by the laws of self-preservation. They had to get together for the purpose of defeating the grain elevator monopoly as exercised by the railways. They secured the Grain Act, and the prosecution of the Canadian Pacific Railway for violation of the act was the first blow at the monopoly. From that time the existence of the Grain Growers Association was justified, and it grew rapidly in numbers in all of the prairie provinces. It was never intended that the organization should engage in politics, as it was the firm conviction of the promoters that it should avoid politics if it would escape the fate of similar farmers' movements in the past. In 1906 it was decided to form a commercial branch and the Grain Growers Co-operative Company was formed and this was followed by the Co-operative Elevator Company both of which have become strong institutions.

The entry of the Grain Growers into politics was due to the formation of Union Government which got out of touch with the people and left the door wide open. The result is that the grain growers are in politics and time alone will show whether the movement is a desirable one for the country as a whole. Many are sympathetic toward the movement, but in the judgment of thoughtful people vocational representation is fundamentally unsound and unstable.

Hon. Mr. Motherwell pointed out how the farmers movement could be made a wonderful assimilating influence with the new Canadian of foreign birth or extraction. He declared that Britain's success as a world power rested upon her ability as a great colonizer and her ability to secure the full confidence of her new citizens. Canada was not doing the right thing by her adopted citizens in the great west; and should promptly remedy the wrongs inflicted upon those people and give encouragement to the organization that offers the means of assimilating the various elements in the population and making loyal Canadian citizens.

Hon. Mr. Motherwell is the guest of his nephew, Mr. Fleming, a student at Queen's University, and will be in the city over Saturday.

CONDEMNED WOMAN VISITED BY PARENTS

Had a Drive of Twenty Miles to Get a Train for Kingston.

The mother and father of Mrs. Lovice Thompson, sentenced to be hanged on December 17th for the murder of her baby, came to the city on Friday, and paid a visit to their daughter in the county jail. They live at Elm Tree, one of the remote places in Frontenac county, and had a drive of twenty miles before reaching a railway to make the trip into the city. The prisoner is keeping up well under the terrible strain, and she and her parents are confident that the death sentence will be commuted to life imprisonment. The case is now under consideration by the Department of Justice at Ottawa. Mrs. Smith, police matron, visited Mrs. Thompson on Tuesday, and wrote a letter to the woman's parents.

COUNTY COURT CASE.

Toronto Traveller Sues Sam Y. Lee For Damages.

At the sitting of the county court, which will be held next week, the case of F. W. Smith, of Toronto, vs. Sam Y. Lee, proprietor of the New England Cafe, King street, will require the attention of the court. The plaintiff, who is a commercial traveller, is asking damages for injuries he received while in the restaurant owned by Sam Y. Lee. A month ago, Smith, in company with another traveller, Desmond Green, went into the restaurant and ordered some sandwiches. When the order was served, it did not suit Smith, and he objected, with the result that a fight resulted, in which Smith was badly banged by being struck over the legs with a bar of steel. Green had the Chinaman arrested on the charge of assault, and he was fined by Police Magistrate Farrell. On Friday morning the witnesses were examined at the court house.

Theatrical

"Gloriana"

Six plays, all successful in one year, is the astounding record of Catherine Chisholm Cushing, who wrote the book and lyrics for the great New York musical comedy success, "Gloriana," which opens at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, Dec. 6th, with a special matinee. Before appearing on the theatrical field as a playwright, Mrs. Cushing was well known throughout the land as an authoress. The story concerns Gloriana Gray, a society girl, who is obliged by financial reverses to earn her own living as a singing and dancing teacher. Under stress of circumstances she assumes the name of a timid friend who is too bashful to claim the fortune of a supposedly dead husband, because she is unknown to his folks, thereby precipitating a situation that results in more than two hours of lively and diverting entertainment. The sale for seats has already opened and indications point to a capacity audience, as the tickets are being rapidly disposed of.—Adv.

At Griffin's.

"The Virtuous Model," shown for the first time at Griffin's yesterday, is a picture that appeals to the mind and to the eye. It is a story of Paris, its notorious chiquettes and beautiful art studios. Dolores Cassinelli, the lovely dark eyed star of "The Virtuous Model," is a star comparatively new to filmdom, but by her enactment of the difficult role of Denise Fleury leaves no doubt in your mind as to her talent. "The Virtuous Model" is an intensely dramatic story of life as it is lived in the famous art studios of Paris and in the Montmartre district, and cannot fail to please all who see it. Miss Evans, the talented exponent of popular songs, is remaining for the balance of the week, and received a very enthusiastic reception again last evening, when she sang some new songs.—Adv.

HELD AN OPEN MEETING.

Court Frontenac, I.O.F., Had Fine Gathering on Thursday Night.

Court Frontenac, I.O.F., held an "open meeting," on Thursday evening, to extend a welcome to Brigadier-General A. E. Ross, a member of the Order, and the gathering was one of the most enjoyable ever held by the lodge. General Ross delivered a splendid address, dealing with his work overseas, and it was listened to with intense interest. He referred to many matters in the time at his disposal, and the members were very pleased to have him present and to hear his talk, which was most illuminating. Chief Ranger R. W. Allen presided. High Vice-Chief Ranger Graham also delivered an address on the benefits of the Order, and his remarks were most timely.

Following the address, a very choice musical programme was rendered. The programme included a duet by Mrs. G. Prager and Mrs. C. Walker, two solos by Mr. Gask, and also a solo by Mrs. Prager. Mrs. Prager sang with fine effect, and her numbers were very warmly received. She is possessed of a sweet, clear voice. Mr. Gask's selections were given in splendid voice, and well merited the hearty applause. The duet by Mrs. Prager and Mrs. Walker was ably rendered.

Comfort, Convenience, Time.

Three essentials in travelling, on which is based the new improved service via Canadian National Railways, between Kingston and Ottawa. Comfortable first-class coaches; convenient service from Kingston at 7.45 a.m. and 2.15 p.m.; returning from Ottawa (Central Station) 12.30 noon and 4.50 p.m. Morning train from Kingston and afternoon train from Ottawa run through without change, thus obviating the necessity of change on route; and on the new schedule a very material saving is effected in time. For full particulars enquire City Agent, 217 Princess street, Kingston.
