TWO TRUE BILLS RETURNED

IN CASES OF JOSEPH ROGERS AND J. A. SWEETMAN

Judge Lavell Refers to the Small Allowances To Jurors—Cases Heard in the County Court.

The sessions of the county court were opened on Tuesday afternoon. Judge Lavell presiding.

Three cases occupied the attention of the grand jury, in the case of Joseph Rogers, charged with abduction the jury reported a "true bill" and also reported "true bill" in the case of J. Alexander Sweetman, charged by W. P. Peters, with the theft of $85. In the case of John Gann, Leo Mahar and James Delph, charged with theft the jury presented "no bill." J. L. Whiting, crown attorney, presented the cases before the grand jury. Andrew McFadden, of Sunbury, was chosen foreman of the grand jury.

In his charge to the grand jury, His Honor referred to the three criminal charges and also referred to the fact that the fees for the jurors and witnesses attending the courts had reminded the names for many years, and that jurors and witnesses had been put to a financial loss in attending court. His Honor presented the matter before the jury for their consideration, to make any recommendations they might consider proper.

According to the present scale, jurors are paid at the rate of $2.50 a day and mileage. Witnesses residing in the city are paid $1 a day. Witnesses residing in the country, called on criminal cases, receive no pay, while witnesses on criminal cases three miles beyond the city are paid $1.50 a day and mileage. Provision is made for the payment of $1 a day in indigent cases.

In the case of Margaret Kelly vs. Thomas Fitzgerald the younger, for slander, judgment was given for $2 and costs, the costs amounting to $200.

In the case of Henry M. Snook vs. Charles H. Clarke, a claim to set aside deed of land, adjourned till December 16th.

The case of Eytan Warburton vs. Salvation Army, claim for $163.50 value of certain articles taken from his bedroom in the Salvation Army Hotel at Kingston adjourned till Dec. 16th.

Verdict of "Not Guilty."

After the grand jury presented its findings, the case of J. Alexander Sweetman, charged by W. P. Peters, with the theft of $85, was heard by Judge Lavell and a jury, when a verdict of "not guilty" was rendered, and the accused discharged. J. L. Whiting conducted the prosecution, the prisoner being defended by A. B. Cunningham. On being arraigned, Sweetman pleaded "not guilty" and after evidence had been given on behalf of the prosecution, went into the box on his own behalf.

Sweetman was employed as a salesman by Mr. Peters, in his automobile business, and the claim of the prosecution was that Sweetman had received a cheque from a Kingston man, for $85, had cashed the said cheque, but had failed to turn the money over to Mr. Peters. Witness, Mr. Whiting, said that Sweetman had on Aug. 31st, 1918, been in his employment as a salesman, with authority to collect accounts. Witness claimed that Sweetman had received a cheque for

You Can Tell Which People Have Iron in Their Blood—Strong Healthy, Vigorous Folks—

City Physician Says Ordinary Nourished Iron Will Increase the Strength of Nervous, Muscular Tissues in Two Weeks' Time in Many Cases.

ONE glance is enough to tell which people have iron in their blood. They are the ones that do and dare. They are the ones in the working class. Sleepless nights spent worrying, the supposed ailments, constant dosing with habit forming drugs and narcotics, and useless attempts to brace up with stimulants or other stimulants are what keep them suffering and vainly longing to be strong. Their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. Without the blood has no power to change food into living tissue and, therefore, nothing you eat does you good, you don't get the strength out of it. When iron is supplied it enriches the impoverished blood and gives the body greater resistance to wear and tear. Numbers of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while have most astonishingly increased their strength and endurance simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this, after they had in some cases been going on for months without getting benefit from anything.

If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nourished iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength and see for yourself how much you have gained. There is nothing like good old iron to help you get your color and energy back. It is not only good for your blood, but it is also good for your nerves. It is easily absorbed and assimilated like natural iron. It will strengthen you in any way, otherwise it may prove worse than useless.

Manufactured by: Warranted True Nourished Iron is one of the most potent iron compounds. Unlike the cheap, adulterated iron preparations, it is pure and does not injure the stomach, make the blood, nor irritate the bowels. The manufacturer's name and address are on the wrapper. It is dispensed in this city by G. W. Macdonald, L. T. Best, and all other druggists.

... money had not been returned over to him. Witness also stated that the amount of the bill was $85.00. The amount of the bill was $85.00. The amount of the bill was $85.00.

Witness admitted, on cross-examination by Mr. Cunningham, that he could not balance his books. He was short in his cash on more than one occasion. On one occasion he recalled that he was short about $70. Witness said he carried the cash around in his pocket.

J. A. Sweetman, the accused, went into the box. He said he had been employed by Mr. Peters as an automobile salesman, and sold on the basis of fifty per cent. He had been associated with Mr. Peters from January, 1918, till July, 1919, when he had been arrested on the complaint of Mr. Peters charged with the theft of $85.

Mr. Sweetman said he received a cheque for $85, from a local man, had cashed it at a local bank, and handed the money to either Mr. Peters or the latter's son. He had never heard anything about this cheque until he was arrested. Witness said he made the entry in the ledger for the $85. He had made the entry going over the books. The accused said that he had collected sums amounting as high as $5,000, and handed the money over to Mr. Peters or the latter's son. He had never received a receipt for any money he had handed over in this way. Very often cheques were made out in favor of the witness. He cashed them and handed over the money to Mr. Peters or his son.

The jury took but a very short time in rendering a verdict in the case.

TWO HISTORIC PICTURES

BY SIR JOHN LAVERY, A.R.A., NOW IN KINGSTON.

They Depict the Surrender of the German Navy—Also a Painting of Sir David Beatty by This World Famous Artist.

We have pleasure to inform the residents of Kingston that Captain W. P. Richardson, of the Lancashire Fusiliers, who is staying at the Randolph Hotel, will be very pleased to show to anyone interested specimens of the two famous pictures painted by Sir John Lavery, A.R.A., entitled, "The Surrender of the German Navy." This event is probably the most remarkable in history, and Sir John Lavery was asked by the British Admiralty if he would paint a picture of the surrender of the German navy which would be for all time a witness to this the most wonderful date in the history of Britain's glorious navy.

Not the most remarkable feature regarding the painting of these pictures is that as far as can be traced, it is the only time where the artist was an actual eye-witness to the scene.

Sir John Lavery, disguised as a British naval officer, made his sketches on board Admiral Sir David Beatty's flagship, "Queen Elizabeth." It was his original intention to paint only one picture, but at the last moment Admiral Sir David Beatty decided that the quarterdeck was too glorious a spot in the history of the British navy to accept personally the swords of the German officers. He, therefore, decided that his command should receive these delegates, and they were afterwards escorted to the fore-cabin of the flagship. Sir John Lavery thereupon decided to paint two pictures; one called "Night" which depicts the arrival of the delegates of the German navy, and the second picture called "Morning" showing Admiral Sir David Beatty at the head of the table in the fore-cabin, with his officers on the right, and the delegates on the left, while he is reading the terms of surrender.

These two pictures will be famous throughout the history of the British Empire, and coming from the palette of such an artist as Sir John Lavery, A.R.A., they are bound to be received in Kingston as they have been received elsewhere.

Anyone desiring to view these pictures can do so free of all cost by making an appointment on the phone with Captain Richardson. These pictures will be on view up to Friday morning at six o'clock at sample room 35, Randolph Hotel.
