

VETERANS TO PERPETUATE

THEIR MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE FOR ADVISORY PURPOSES.

Candidates and Members Held a Dinner on Saturday Evening—Mayor Nickle Was One of the Speakers. The candidates and members of the Veterans' Municipal Committee sat down to a very enjoyable informal dinner in the Army and Navy Veterans' Hall on Saturday evening. About thirty-five were present, and a very enjoyable evening was spent. The chairman, in introducing the mayor-elect, said that the results of the campaign were so gratifying that it was only fitting that the committee and its candidates should gather around the festive board to celebrate.

Mayor H. C. Nickle devoted his entire remarks to the work being done for the relief of veterans and their dependents who are in need. He referred first to the post-discharge relief fund, which was being handled by the officials of the Canadian Patriotic Fund. He told of many problems dealt with and assisted by this fund, which is used to give relief in the homes of soldiers who are in distressed circumstances through sickness in the family or other uncontrollable circumstances. The mayor also spoke of the unemployment relief fund, and said that although some people called it charity, it was a mighty good thing for those in need of assistance. The one great danger, that harm is being done to the really genuine cases by the fakers, and he appealed to the veterans' associations to deal with a firm hand with all those who were faking and were thus hurting the men who were really deserving of help.

Lieut.-Col. Randolph Creeker heartily endorsed the attitude of the mayor towards the men who did not play the game, and urged that the associations should deal with them. By doing this they will accomplish much for the veterans. There is a tremendous amount of unrest in the country to-day, and the duty of the veteran is to play the game to combat this unrest. This is a great duty, and if the veterans only have patience and do not become radical they will accomplish a great deal. Alderman-elect James Angrove, Messrs. J. W. Connor, M. M. Hood, Captain Fitzgerald and others also spoke. During the evening the necessary measures were taken to perpetuate the Veterans' Municipal Committee as an advisory committee, to confer upon all matters of interest to the veterans and to the city in general. This new organization will act as a connecting link between the welfare of the two veterans' associations of Kingston.

It was decided that a monster assault-arms and boxing exhibition be held in the armouries as soon as it can be arranged, under the auspices of the veterans' advisory committee.

HE PASSED BOGUS CHEQUES

YOUTH ADMITTED HIS GUILT AND REMANDED IN POLICE COURT.

J. H. Black Placed Under Arrest in Gananoque and Brought to Kingston—Says He Does Not Mind Going to Jail for His Crime. J. H. Black looks a mere slip of a lad, although his age is down in the police records as nineteen. He was placed under arrest in Gananoque on Saturday night by Constable Leslie Armstrong, on a charge of passing bogus cheques in Kingston. He admitted the charge against him, that of securing money under false pretences, when arraigned before Magistrate Farrell in police court on Monday morning, and was remanded for a week in order that some inquiries can be made about him.

Black put over a number of cheques on local merchants. He would call at a store, make a few purchases, and then give a cheque, and in each case he had a most substantial cheque, and would pocket the change and say he would call for the goods later. He simply wanted the money. He played the trick four or five stores, the largest amount being for $23.

The accused says his home is in St. John, N.B., and that both he and his father served overseas. He says he does not care if he goes to jail or not, and would just as well serve a term as wander around the country. When he went into the bogus cheque game he expected to get caught. He made no bones about his arrest, but on the other hand appeared to be glad that he had been rounded up. Since coming home from overseas he claims his home life was not of the best and that he became wayward as a result.

BISHOP IN ST. PAUL'S

Makes an Appeal on Behalf of Forward Movement. Bishop Bidwell was the special preacher at St. Paul's church on Sunday evening. He dealt with the Forward Movement which is engaging all the activities of the church. His Lordship said that the religious revival that was confidently expected in England at the close of the war did not take place. It was, therefore, the duty of the church everywhere to institute and carry to a success a great spiritual awakening. There were splendid opportunities open to the church in Canada to-day and she had to go forward.
