

Gentlemen:

Here's an exceptional fine offer for just six days. Livingston's made-to-measure, extra quality Blue Serge Suits at $65.00. Here is the reason for this unusual offer—we anticipated market conditions early last May before prices advanced to their present level and placed an order with one of the largest and best known agents for a quantity of pure dyed Blue Serge Woollens, and in order to keep our tailoring shop busy during the "between seasons" we will make you a Suit from this lot at $65.00. If we were to purchase these same woollens to-day we would have to charge you $85.00, but remember this offer is good for 6 days only. However, you have the privilege of placing your order now and having your Suit made up and put aside until wanted.

Dress Suits to measure, specially priced.

HELD INAUGURAL MEETING

PORTSMOUTH COUNCIL GOT "INTO HARNESS" MONDAY NIGHT.

Memorial For Men Who Paid Supreme Sacrifice in the War Was Further Discussed—Council Wants Work on Breakwater Completed. The Portsmouth Council got "into harness" on Monday night, when the inaugural meeting was held. Reeve Jas. Halliday presided, and the other members present were: Councillors R. J. Baisan, M. J. Kennedy, John R. Marks, and the new member, Alexander Atkins, who takes the place of Councillor Clark, who retired. There was only a small amount of business on the slate, and the council had an early adjournment.

Christopher Baiden and John M. Kennedy were appointed auditors, and H. S. Asseltine was appointed a member of the Board of Health. It was decided to ask the penitentiary authorities to complete the work on the breakwater. The question of the memorial to be erected for the men from Portsmouth who paid the sacrifice in the war was also under discussion, and the council will get it under way this year. A monument is to be erected in the park, and will have the names of all the men from the village who served overseas.

It is likely that at the next meeting arrangements will be made for the sending of a deputation to Ottawa to see about needed improvements to the village.

Theatrical

"Fiddlers Three" Coming. One of the most remarkable women in the theatrical world is Miss Marie Belge who comes to the Grand Opera House on Saturday, Jan. 17th, matinee and night, in John Cort's sparkling production of the musical play "Fiddlers Three". Miss Belge, whose work as prima donna of the Antwerp Opera House ended with the coming of the German army, is but a little over a year in this country. Forced out of her beloved Belgium by the Hun, she traveled through Canada and gave her voice to the suffering millions she had left behind. Coming to New York, she found herself penniless, but through the perception of Mr. Cort, she was placed in the leading role of "Fiddlers Three." The sensation created by her voice, her beauty and her dramatic fire, is now a theatrical history and it is something out of the ordinary for a new singer to make theatrical history in these swift moving days of Jazz. Made into rippling melody, the story of the Violin Maker of Cremona was discovered a way of making the most beautiful fiddle in all Italy, "Fiddlers Three" has become during its one year of life, a musical comedy classic. The cast is a large one and includes Tom Conkey, whose baritone voice has been a feature of the New York Hippodrome; Tom Dingle, whose eccentric dancing has made him one of the most imitated of jaspers; Gilbert Clayton, who, as Paganini, the satirical violinist, presents a startling picture; Horace Sinclair, the vicious Edna Morn, Ethel Dwyer, and one of the most beautiful choruses of recent years. The production of "Fiddlers Three" is one of John Cort's greatest achievements.—Adv.

As Griffin's. A large audience witnessed last evening the initial showing of Geroldine Farrar's mammoth spectacle, "Flame of the Desert," which is her latest Goldwyn photoplay, and presents a powerful love story of mystic Egypt filled with the color and romance that is bred deep in the heart of the sand-swept far east. A magnificent spectacle revealing a great uprising in the Far East and a woman's courageous fight for love and happiness. Don't miss seeing "Flame of the Desert," or you will have missed seeing the greatest production yet seen in Kingston in many months. In addition to the above feature, our usual line of added attractions are shown, and of first importance is the clever comedy picture, in which that peer of comedians, Larry Semon, takes the honors. "Dew-Drop Inn" is the title of his latest laugh maker, and judging by the frequent burst of applause and uproarious laughter heard amongst the audience last evening, this picture easily sustains his reputation of being the best in his line. This particularly good bill will be shown to-night and again tomorrow.—Adv.

SOME SWEET MUSIC IN THE POLICE CELLS
Youth, With Mouth Organ, Played "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles."

There was sweet music in the police cells on Monday morning, and people who had business in the Police Court wondered who was responsible for the sweet tones, for as a rule everything is pretty sad with the unfortunates who fall into the police nets. An investigation was made, and it was found that a youth charged with theft, had a mouthorgan, and he was amusing himself, and at the same time entertaining some other unfortunates who happened to be "in" by playing some of the latest airs including "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles." In the latter selection he made a big hit.

Y. M. C. A. Notes. Capt. F. B. Wilson, who was with the overseas "Y" for four years, and is now district secretary for the National Council of the Y.M.C.A. was in the city Monday in consultation with the staff of the local association, and also interviewing a number of directors in connection with the third national convention to be held in Toronto next week. The swimming tank of the local association, which has been giving so much trouble of late, is being repaired. The classes are well under way after the holidays and already are coming back again to old form. The property committee have in mind the painting and redecorating of the locker rooms and bath rooms in the early spring.

WOMEN NOT CONVINCED

By Macphail Lecture on Danger of Democracy.

Toronto Star. Moving a vote of thanks to Sir Andrew MacPhail on Saturday afternoon at the close of his lecture at the university on "Women in Democracy," Prof. John MacNaughton, who avowed himself a friend of long standing of the distinguished speaker, nevertheless took the opportunity to say, "Doubtless, there are few in the audience who have not been, like myself, violently opposed to many of the ideas he has advanced."

The attitude of a number of prominent Toronto women who listened to the lecture, or read reports of it, strongly resembles that of Prof. MacNaughton, their attitude tinged with amusement, as well as characterized by more or less indignation. Alderwoman Mrs. L. A. Hamilton says: "I don't think we need worry about Prof. MacPhail. He seems to be suffering from a bad attack of pessimism. I should judge that he leaves God entirely out of his calculations, since he gives not even a hint of what we believe, which is that man is a spiritual being. "I don't think that women need worry at all about his utterances or take them seriously. They are so reactionary as to be quite ludicrous."

CO-OPERATION IN EDUCATION.

Subject of Address Before Parent-Teachers' Association. An interesting meeting of the Parents' and Teachers' Association was held in the Collegiate, Monday evening, the Rev. J. W. Jones presiding. A hearty vote of thanks was moved to the committee of ladies who so ably carried out the social evening held in December.

The general and financial reports, presented by Miss McCormack, for the Girl Guides, were most encouraging. In the discussion that took place, the advantages of equipping the large assembly room of the Collegiate with seats, heat and a projecting lantern were pointed out by several members of the association. W. G. Anderson, of the Collegiate staff, gave a very practical talk on "Co-operation in Education." The parents were especially interested in the discussion on co-operation between teacher and parents. After the meeting adjourned, the building was lighted throughout to permit of inspection. The annual meeting will be held in February.
