WOOD ALCOHOL POISONING

CAUSED THE DEATH OF WILLIAM CHORLEY, PETERBORO.

He Was Found Unconscious in His Boarding House and Was Removed to Sydenham Hospital. William Chorley died in Sydenham Hospital on Friday morning, one hour after his admission for treatment for wood alcohol poisoning. The circumstances connected with his death are very sad and another case is added to the long list of victims of wood alcohol taken in mistake for whiskey. Chorley enlisted in the 93rd Battalion at Peterboro in 1915 and went overseas, where he served in France in the 1st Battalion, C.E.F. He was wounded and placed under treatment in British military hospitals until he was fit for removal to Canada. He reached Kingston as a returned casualty July 12th, 1919, and took up vocational training under the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment.

On Thursday morning a medical officer was summoned to attend him at his boarding house and found him unconscious from drinking wood alcohol in mistake for whiskey. He had him removed to Sydenham Hospital, but no treatment was of any avail and the unfortunate man passed away without returning to consciousness. An inquest was not considered necessary. The deceased was born in England and his next-of-kin reside there. He was single, thirty-four years of age and had no relatives in this country.

SIR FREDERICK O. LEWIS

WAS EDUCATED AND DID BUSINESS IN KINGSTON.

He Helped Charles M. Schwab to Turn Out Submarine—He is With the Canadian Vickers, Limited, Financial Post, Toronto. Frederick Orr Lewis, who received a baronetcy among New Year's honours, was president, as he still is, of Canadian Vickers, Limited, when Charles M. Schwab arrived in Montreal, post haste after submarine for the British Government. It had been hoped that the construction of these defenses could have been secured in the United States, but the idea incurred opposition at the time, and Mr. Schwab, with his characteristic energy, and indomitable force of character, determined to see what Canada could do in this line. He secured the great shipbuilding works that F. Orr Lewis had been largely instrumental in having established here, in conjunction with the British firm, prepared to do this work. It is said it took only a few minutes for a bargain to be struck by which the works were taken over and operated. Later on Canadian Vickers both built and repaired a large number of these under-water craft for the British navy. Following this signal service the Vickers works constructed a number of cargo vessels for the mercantile marine during the past two years. It was with this concern, and the huge British plant for shipbuilding, and the manufacture of guns of the largest calibre, and other engines of war, that Sir Frederick Lewis has been most interested of late years, and it might be surmised the King was very upon him by the King was in recognition of the services he was able to perform through his connections chiefly with the Vickers works.

How I Cured My Rheumatism
BY PETER SAVALA
I threw away my crutches in seven days, in two months, I was a well man—and I have never had a twinge from rheumatism since. I returned to this country in two months, absolutely free of every trace of rheumatism. The whole story of my life in America—how I became crippled with rheumatism and how I found the treatment which cured the disease and drove it out of my body—I will gladly tell you FREE. It makes no difference how swollen or distorted your joints may be; how severe the pain; or how discouraged you are; I feel sure that I have the means of helping you to find relief in a few days and a lasting cure in just a few weeks. Send no money. Just write me personally. Say: "Tell me how you cured your rheumatism, and how I can find the means of helping you to find relief in a few days and a lasting cure in just a few weeks." NEEDS OF THE SCHOOLS

DISCUSSED AT MEETING OF PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.
Of Victoria School—Miss Hoppin, Dr. H. E. Day and Mayor Nickle Were the Speakers.
A meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Victoria School was held on Friday evening, in the kindergarten room. The president, Mrs. Coleman, occupied the chair, and in spite of the severe weather, there was a very good attendance.

Miss Hoppin gave a very interesting paper. She spoke of the necessity of better school equipment, if the best work was to be done by the pupils. Lack of material caused waste of valuable time. Miss Hoppin also referred to the need of a special teacher for backward pupils. It was also pointed out that the average attendance in Kingston, was forty-two pupils per class, the largest of any city of its size in Ontario. Even when a new school was built, the average would be thirty-nine, the largest average attendance in Ontario, excepting Toronto and Niagara Falls. Much better work could be done if the average attendance was smaller.

Miss Hoppin spoke of the increase in salary, asked for by the teachers, and felt that the amount asked for was really necessary to enable a teacher to meet her expenses and do her best work. Mrs. Coleman spoke, thanking Miss Hoppin for her paper. Dr. H. E. Day also gave an address, dealing with the diseases of children, and emphasized a number of most important things. Among the chief points he stated that children must be healthy in order to study; there was urgent need of isolating people; that a special teacher was needed for defective children; that isolation was necessary for many diseases, but that the people isolated should be properly looked after; that there was great need of a man who could give his entire time to looking after the health of the community, to see to proper isolation, etc. Mayor Nickle was also present, and delivered an address. After the meeting adjourned the members took tea together. The meeting as voted one of the most enjoyable held by the association.

But it was in the hardware business that the new baronet served his longest apprenticeship and he is known all over Canada as president of Lewis Bros., Limited, wholesale hardware merchants of Montreal, transacting one of the largest businesses of the character in Canada. Mr. Lewis was born in the city of Hamilton, on February 11, 1862, and was the second son of the late William Thomas Lewis, a native of Swansea, Wales. The father operated a line of boats on the Great Lakes many years ago, between Chicago and Kingston, Ontario, and retired from active business in 1890, moving to Montreal, where he died in 1908. The son received his education at Kingston, and embarked in the hardware business in that city. Joining the wholesale firm of J. Macklestone & Company, Mr. Lewis applied himself diligently to the mastering of details of the hardware business and on retiring from that firm decided to enter business on his own account. This he did in 1887, but he remained in the smaller city only one year. Realizing the advantages of the larger and rapidly growing centre, he moved his business to Montreal in 1888, where the firm of Lewis Brothers was begun, his brother, James Graham Lewis, the present vice-president of the company, being associated with him. For several years the firm was known as Lewis Brothers and later was formed into the present company of Lewis Brothers, Limited. Of this company F. O. Lewis became president, and holds the position to-day.

While the varied interests of Mr. Lewis, call him away, he still looks upon and calls Montreal his home. Last summer he spent several months in Montreal and is always greatly interested in his progress of his intellectual venture, the firm of Lewis Brothers, Limited, and still takes a keen interest in the business of his early choice. It was in the year 1907, that Mr. Lewis transferred his activities very largely to the Canadian Vickers, Limited. But other industrial and financial concerns claimed his services, and for many years he has been a director of Montreal Cottons, Limited, and follows the fortunes of the industry very closely. He is also a director of the Merchants Bank of Canada. Club life has found in Sir Frederick an enthusiastic member, and he is connected with the Mount Royal, St. James, Forest and Stream, Canadian, Montreal Hunt, Royal Montreal Golf, Royal St. Lawrence Yacht, of Montreal; while outside of that city he is a member of the Rideau Club of Ottawa, and also the Wellington Club of London, England.

It was the experience of Sir Frederick to board the ill-fated Lusitania when it was torpedoed off the Irish coast on May 1st, 1915. He had the good fortune to be rescued, but only after an exciting and trying experience.

Paul Deschanel was elected president of France by the national assembly at Versailles on Saturday. He received 724 votes.
