

Livingston's January Sale

The Clothing buyer who has neglected our 20 per cent. Discount Sale in our Ready-to-wear department and wants to "get in" on it will have to get busy, as there are not many more days left in January. We sound this note of warning because we dislike to have our patrons say, as they often do, after missing one of our sales:

"I'm so sorry that I did not get in when you were holding your January Discount sale."

—All sales for cash.

Livingstons

75-77-79 BROCK STREET.
"If Off Your Koute It Pays to Walk"

Scarce Goods At Right Prices

Hemstitched Linens in plain and fancy
Damask—TRAY CLOTHS—RUNNERS—
SQUARES—LUNCH CLOTHS—TABLE ENDS—SERVIETTES.

All pure linen at prices much below present

Mill quotations.

R. WALDRON

YOUNG WIFE DESERTS BABY

BECAUSE HUBBY SCOLDED HER FOR GOING OUT AT NIGHTS.

Mrs. Rosaline Rose Was Allowed to Go on Suspended Sentence—John Wesley Jackson Got Goods Under False Pretences.

There was a sad picture in Magistrate Farrell's court on Thursday morning. Mrs. Rosaline Rose, aged nineteen, but who looks a mere slip of a girl, was charged with deserting her fifteen months' old baby. Her husband occupied a seat near the prisoner's box, and had the baby on his knee. The child cooed at the mother, and wondered what all the fuss was about.

The mother ran off to Cornwall a few days ago, and left her baby. Questioned by the magistrate, she said she went to Cornwall alone in search of work. The magistrate remarked that it was a most unnatural thing for a mother to run away and desert her baby, whereupon the young mother stated that she had become dissatisfied over conditions at home and wanted to go away.

"I wanted to go out at nights, but he would not let me," remarked Mrs. Rose, nodding towards her husband. "I did not like the way things were going. If I went out at nights he always scolded me."

Magistrate Farrell did not like the idea of having a little home broken up, so he decided to allow the young wife to go on suspended sentence, and she left the court room with her hubby and baby, along with the police matron, who will give some good advice and do her best to keep the little home as it should be.

John Wesley Jackson, who was arrested at Cornwall at the same time as Mrs. Rose, both being brought to Kingston by Constable Frederick Clark, was charged with having secured a table lamp and a flash light from H. W. Newman under false pretences. He pleaded "guilty," but did not care to say anything further.

Pressed by the magistrate regarding the whereabouts of the lamp and the flashlight, the accused stated that the flashlight was at his home, but he refused to tell the magistrate where he had left the table lamp, stating that he did not want to get anybody into trouble; he would rather take all the blame on his own shoulders.

The magistrate remarked that Jackson had a very bad police record, stating that he had been up on charges of theft and vagrancy, and had been given opportunities to make good. He remanded him till 2.30 p.m. for sentence.

Gordon Bryant had a double charge to answer to, that of being intoxicated, and also with having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling. He pleaded guilty to both charges.

"If I had any brains, I would not be here," said Bryant, who went on to tell how he met some men at the corner of Bagot and Queen streets, who had a "crock." One drink led to another, and so on, until he went under.

Bryant just had a wee drop left in his bottle when the police corralled him, and thus the charge of having liquor in a place other than his own private dwelling was laid. He had just taken another drink he could have discarded the bottle and escaped with a $10 fine. But such is life.

Bryant was very sorry for his experience, but the magistrate had no other way out of it than to take on a fine of $200 and costs, with the option of three months in jail.

Was Given Six Months.
John Wesley Jackson appeared before Magistrate Farrell at a special session of the Police Court at 2.30 Thursday afternoon, and was sentenced to six months in the Ontario Reformatory.

Magistrate Farrell remarked that the accused had been before the court on charges of theft, disorderly conduct, and vagrancy, and had been given a chance. If his conduct was not good in the reformatory he would be liable to a two-year term.

Theatrical

"Winnipeg Kiddies" Here.

How'd you like to make love to six pretty maidens? Oh, boy! That's what little Jackie Finesilver does every day in his young life. And he's only ten years old—the smallest and cleverest boy comedian on this continent. He's a member of the Original Winnipeg Kiddies who come to the Grand Opera House to-night and Friday. He spends a million dollars on these fascinating little misses every day—on the stage, of course, and he scatters his wealth around as though he owned the Canadian mint. He is only one of this troupe of clever juvenile artists, and all the others are equally worthy of mention.—Adv.

"Fair and Warmer" Coming.

With the magic of a spectacular New York success still strong upon it, "Fair and Warmer" will come to the Grand Opera House, Saturday, January 24th, with a special bargain matinee, when Spaeth and Company will present this most dazzling and ludicrous of the Avery Hopwood royal line of farces, with an excellent cast of farceurs. "Fair and Warmer" made one of those successes along Broadway that run up the standard of all later attractions. It sold out from its first performance, so that there was never any New York advertising necessary. It was in demand from every part of the country a good six months before Spaeth and Company were able to put it on tour, thus assuring it an eager welcome.—Adv.

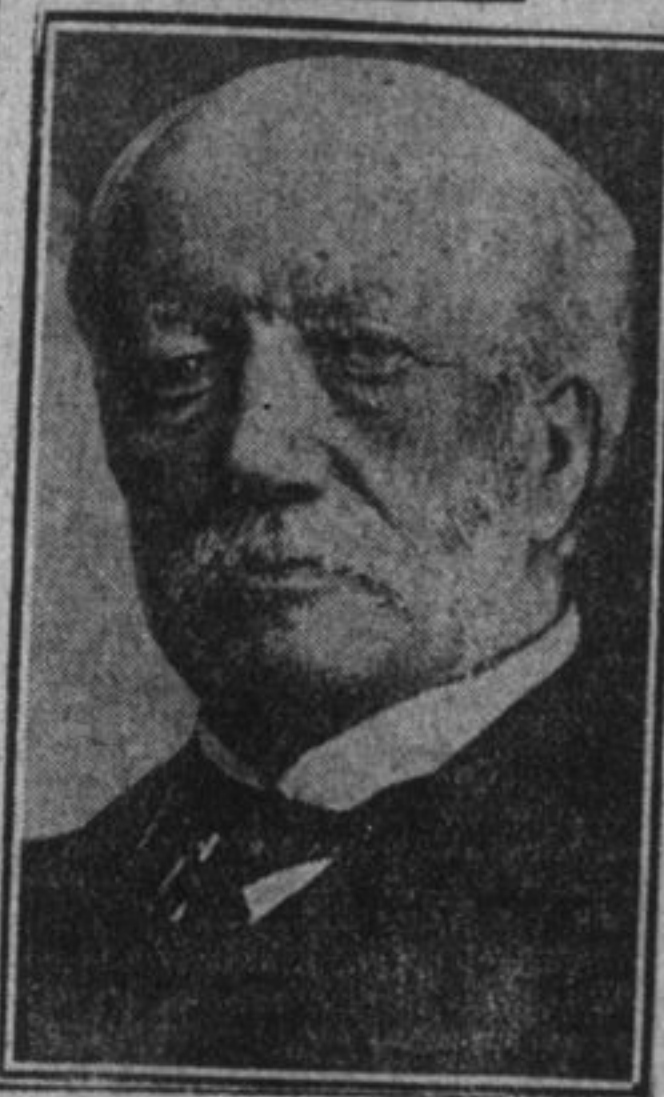

At Griffin's.

Frank Keenan, world famous character actor, will headline the bill at Griffin's for to-day, Friday and Saturday, when he will be shown in a typical picture entitled "False Code." It is the story of an upright American business man, whose unprincipled partner plots to emesh him in a web of "planted" evidence that sends him to jail for twelve years. Like a man, he took his medicine, and then he made his enemies pay—pay for the home, the wife, and the good name they had robbed him of. It's a real Frank Keenan picture—full of real blooded action, suspense and its just share of sympathy and romance. As an extra feature, the stage woman's war series picture entitled "Fighting Mac," and starring Maelyn Arbuckle, will also be shown. This is the second of these series to be shown at second one will be awaited with pleasurable anticipation. A Sunshine comedy entitled, "Footlight Maids," brightens up the programme con-Griffin's, and judging by the interest shown in the first one last week, this considerably, and our usual Scene and Educational Weekly lends the right touch of variety to an admirably selected programme, which cannot fail to please our most critical patrons.—Adv.

At The Strand.

All laughs and sunshine are promised in "Why Smith Left Home," Bryant Washburn's new Paramount-Artcraft picture, which is coming Thursday, to the Strand Theatre. The story was adapted from George Broadhurst's stage success of the same name and concerns the escapades of Smith and his pretty bride on their tempestuous honeymoon. They are married "on the double" and against Marian's Aunt Mary's wishes. Hard luck stalks them from the start, and in such rapid-fire order do the adventures come that Smith hasn't even time to imprint that first nuptial kiss. Train wrecks, fires and a raging storm are among their misfortunes, and matters reach a climax when Smith is discovered in what looks like a compromising position with the good looking serving maid in their honeymoon bungalow. Marian starts home to auntie, but an earthquake helps Smith pull some average stuff, and all ends happily. Lots Wilson, leading lady of "Love Insurance," is again Mr. Washburn's chief support.—Adv.

SIR JAMES A. GRANT

is in a dangerous condition at St. Luke's Hospital, Ottawa, suffering from a fractured hip. He is one of the few surviving members of the first Canadian Parliament. Sir James was physician to the Governor-General of Canada from the time of Lord Monck until 1905.

Are Seeking Members.

The membership committee of the Board of Trade, consisting of Chairman P. McL. Stephen and his staff, are as busy as bees in inducing old members of the Board to renew their membership. When this work is completed a canvass of the professional men in the business and professional life of the city will begin. An opportunity is now afforded them of making the Kingston Board of Trade rise to the occasion, and place it where it ought to be among the most enterprising of all similar organizations in the province. Kingston is sadly in need of a rejuvenated and enlarged organization, especially now that the Council anticipates the appointment of an industrial commissioner to work in conjunction with the Board. This membership drive should meet with a hearty response from every live business man in the city.

Hot House Radishes.

Rhubarb, Cucumbers, Lettuce, Parsley, California Cauliflower, Celery, Shallots, Green Peppers, Brussels Sprouts, etc., at Carnovsky's.

HANSON, CROZIER & EDGAR PRINTERS

Market Square, Kingston

DAILY MEMORANDUM.

See top of Page Three, right hand corner for prohibitions.
Stag Euchre, Y.L.C.B.A. Friday evening.
Leap Year skate: hand in attendance. Palace rink to-night.
Euchre, Y.L.C.B.A. Thursday evening.
Woman's Canadian Club lecture by Miss Carman. Convocation: Hall to-night, 8 p.m. Admission to non-members, 25 cents.

DIED.

CHAPMAN—In Kingston, at 236 University Avenue, on Jan. 21st, 1920, Charles A. Chapman, only child of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chapman, of Buffalo.

Funeral from above address Friday afternoon, at 2.30 to St. Mary's Cathedral.

Friends and acquaintances are respectfully invited to attend the Libera-

TETRO—In Kingston, on January 21st, 1920, at the family residence, 100 Ordinance street, Michael, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tetro.

Funeral from above address Friday morning, at 8.30, to St. Mary's Cathedral, where a solemn requiem will be sung at 9 o'clock for the happy repose of his soul.

Friends and acquaintances are kindly invited to attend.

(Cleveland and Picton papers please copy.)

JAMES REID

The Old Firm of Undertakers.
254 and 256 PRINCESS STREET.
Phone 147 for Ambulance.

ROBERT J. REID

The Leading Undertaker.
Phone 577.
230 Princess Street.

M. P. KEYES

Undertaker and Embalmer.
Undertaking Parlors, 254 Princess St.
Ambulance Phone 1520.

JOHN CORNELIUS

Undertaker and Embalmer.
Parlors, 274 Princess Street.
Phone 599.

Our January Sale

—of—

Real Irish And Scotch Linens

IS A SALE

of the largest, most comprehensive linen stock in Kingston. It offers 20% to 40% saving on everything. Surely you are going to buy Linens now or in the future. This is no substitute for linen. Human ingenuity and science has failed to produce a fabric which has the basic qualities of linens. There is a pride and satisfaction in the possession of genuine linens that is splendid. It is our honest opinion, and it is the one shared by practically every one posted on linen conditions, that prices will ascend before they descend. It is safe to figure that this sale with its many savings constitutes the most favorable linen buying opportunity that will be available in years.

JOHN LAIDLAW & SON

Table Sets

Of pure Irish and Scotch linen, consisting of cloths with borders all around, circular and square effects, with napkins to match.

In conventional or floral designs, laurel, fleur-de-lis, poppy, scroll, rose and stripe, mistletoe, thistle, lily of the valley.

Sizes of cloths:

- 2 yards x 2 yards
- 2 yards x 2 1/2 yards

Sizes of Napkins:

- 22 inches x 22 inches
- 24 inches x 24 inches

Table Damask

By the yard—64, 68, 70 and 72 inches wide; Irish or Scotch manufacture; in many beautiful designs; some can be matched with Napkins—on sale at Special Prices.

John Laidlaw & Son, Ltd.

One More Word

ABOUT OUR BOYS' BOOTS SALE

This Week Only

- They are all good, solid leather.
- They are from $1.00 to $2.50 cheaper than the old prices.
- They are from $3.00 to $5.00 a pair cheaper than the new Shoes will be.

Lockett's