"WARNERHEIM" DOORS CLOSED.
Now That Mrs. A. C. Warner Has Passed Away.

Colebrook, Jan. 24.—On Christmas day, Janey Garrison, widow of the late Coleman Warner, of Colebrook, died at the residence of her son-in-law, G. H. Anderson, Napanee, and in her passing her family lose the kindly ministrations of a loving mother and daughter; her friends, a faithful companion; and the village of Colebrook a good citizen.

Mrs. Warner had been ailing for some months and in August last left "Warnerheim," Colebrook, and made her home with her daughter, Mrs. G. H. Anderson, Napanee, with whom she was living at the time of her death. Here she was lovingly cared for and had the presence of her three daughters during her last three days. Confined to her room but two days, she grew worse rapidly, until death came as a welcome release from suffering at 5.30 Christmas afternoon. The sad news came as a great shock to friends, with her not knowing the end was near until a few hours previous to her demise.

Deceased was born in 1855 and was the daughter of the late George Garrison of Hart Lake, near Moscow, and of Mary Garrison, now of Napanee. In 1876 she was married to A. C. Warner, son of the late Charles Warner and Hannah Wartman of Colebrook. Seven children were born to them, three of whom predeceased her, Hattie in 1895, Estella in 1910, and Belva, wife of S. O. Martin, Ottawa, in 1917. Her husband also predeceased her in 1916. The surviving children are Arthur of Sask., George, wife of W. S. Holmes, Ottawa, Florence, wife of G. H. Anderson, Napanee, and Mary, wife of L. B. Shorey, Acton. She is also survived by her aged mother, Mrs. Mary Garrison, Napanee, one sister, Mrs. F. S. Wartman, Napanee, one brother, C. N. Garrison, and two grand-children, viz., Master Warner Martin, Yorker, and Miss Doris Anderson, Napanee.

Perhaps not many are called upon to sacrifice so much time and pleasure to the care of others, as was the late Mrs. Warner. Aside from the cares of raising a large family, it was her task as well as privilege, to devote her life for the past nine years to the care of an aged mother; to open her home during the winter months for several years past to an aged aunt, for whom she cared during her last illness two years ago, and to care for her husband's invalid mother during her last long illness several years ago. The blessed heritage of the memory of these deeds, coupled with many other acts of kindness, will inspire those who mourn, to the best in life. Considering these things, a more appropriate text could not have been found for her funeral sermon than that chosen by her pastor: "In as much as ye have done it unto the least of these ye have done it unto me."

The late Mrs. Warner was a member of Colebrook Methodist church for many years and deeply interested in its welfare, although home-ties and illness prevented her regular attendance; a member, and for several years president of the Ladies' Aid, and a life-member of the Canadian Red Cross Society, in which she endeavored to do her "bit."

She seemed the embodiment of all that was good and pure, and the same strength of character that remained undaunted through years of care, and enabled her still to look cheerfully on life and give the welcome smile to others, helped her through long days of illness to bear her sufferings with great fortitude, for after learning that her life was to be short, she was still more patient and resigned.

On Sunday, Dec. 28th, after a short service conducted by Rev. Dr. Shorey, at the residence of her son-in-law, the remains were conveyed to Colebrook Methodist church, where the funeral was held at two p.m., the Rev. Everson of Yorker being assisted by Rev. Dr. Shorey, Napanee. Interment took place in the cemetery north of Colebrook.

The bereaved were her four sons-in-law, S. O. Martin, Ottawa, G. H. Anderson, Napanee, L. B. Shorey, Acton, and W. S. Holmes, Ottawa. Those who loved her covered the casket with a beautiful blanket composed of orchids, white carnations, lilies and roses. In life she was extremely fond of flowers, devoting much time to the care and cultivation of them.

The hospitable doors of "Warnerheim" are closed, and the death of Mrs. Warner means to Colebrook the passing of the Warner family from the life of the village. This is keenly felt as this highly esteemed and respected family, descendants of U. E. Loyalists from all branches, have been residents since 1842.

AN ORIENTAL GARDEN.

Persian City of Shiraz Retains Much of Beauty.
In the midst of a broad expanse of barren ground lies the flat-topped Persian city of Shiraz, which was once so wonderful a sight as to cause the visitor to cry, "God is great!" and by the fascination and beauty to make him forget forever his native land.

The Shiraz of the present is still fascinating, though its power over the traveller's memory has waned. The stranger may hurry through the narrow streets lined with square houses, but on the outskirts of the city he must linger and dream awhile in the Persian gardens celebrated in many songs by the poets of the land.

Shiraz is proud of being the home of two of Persia's noblest poets, Hafiz and Sadi, both of whom were enthusiastic over the charms of their native city. The city, has changed greatly since their day, succeeding generations still view it through the rose-and-gold light of poet's fancy and still boast of its wonders.

The citizens of Shiraz honor most the man who can quote most fluently and extensively from the poems of Hafiz; yet his grave, in the garden beyond the city, is neglected and desolate. A high brick wall encircles the garden. Within, the tomb of the poet is marked by a plain and a marble slab, on which is carved one of his verses. All about the beloved singer lie his followers and admirers, their graves headed by stones which peep through rank grass.

The gardens of Shiraz have such names as "Garden of Heaven's Desire," "Garden of the Berry of Happiness," and "Garden that Displays the World"—names which they do not always live up to in appearance, because of their owners' dreamy contentment. In letting well enough alone. Yet even the neglectful gardens are deliberately beautiful. Tiny streams wind through them, cypress and elms trees shade them pleasantly, roses clamber riotously over old walls and a shabby ornate summer house peeps from among the trees.

"He Called Me Bill!"
Our friend Tom Mills, of Felling, New Zealand, relates to us a delightful story about William Massey, New Zealand's war premier. "I was waiting on Queen's Wharf, Auckland, some three years ago, waiting for my son to land from the hospital ship which was to bring him home with his seven wounds from Gallipoli," says Tom. "Beside me stood Massey, who was waiting to welcome the ship on her first voyage as New Zealand's hospital ship. When the ship got within half a big Anzac, leaning over the bulwarks, spotted the premier and yelled out: 'There's Massey, boys! Hello, Bill!' The Premier's front name is William. Like a flash he turned to me and exclaimed, excitedly, 'Did you hear him, Mills—he called me Bill!'"—Cartoons Magazine.

Chatham Officials Salaries Raised.
Chatham, Jan. 27.—At a special meeting of the city council it was decided to give a general raise to the city officials. The increase in the salaries total over $5,000. A 20 per cent. increase was given to the men of the fire department, and not a single official was overlooked in the generosity displayed by the council. It was shown that the city officials were underpaid in comparison with the other cities of the same size, and that they received too little in view of the importance of their duties and also the high cost of living.
