

THE JUDGMENT OF PARIS

By Juanita Hamel

When Paris awarded the golden apple to Venus and declared her the most beautiful of the three goddesses, doubtless the other two—Juno and

Minerva—were green with envy. But Cupid is plainly in a quandary when placed in the position of Paris. I'll wager that he'll shake his curly head and say, "I can't play any favorites—I simply love them ALL!"

VETERANS ASK MAYOR NICKLE TO RESIGN And Also Their Representatives in Council—Angry Over Appointment.

A large number of veterans attended the city council meeting Monday evening, arriving just after the Board of Works report was passed. This report included an appointment of Miss Goodearle as city engineer's clerk. The veterans apparently desired to be heard, as two of their number had a whispered consultation with Mayor Nickle, but the latter informed them that the question they desired to speak about had been put through and could not be re-opened at this time.

One of them, Blomley by name, was locked in the armoury before noon, but the other, a prisoner from the penitentiary, named Gabor, who had been sent to Rockwood as being insane, is supposed to have headed across the ice for Cape Vincent. The United States immigration authorities at Cape Vincent have been notified.

THE AIR IS AGOG WITH PROPHECIES

As to the Possibilities at the Forthcoming Session of Parliament. (Canadian Press Despatch) Ottawa, Feb. 8.—Three weeks from Thursday parliament opens for what may prove to be the last session for the present government. The air is agog with prophecies. There is considerable discussion of the seasonal programme, but the talk is rather of seasonal probabilities than of programmes whether or not the session will end in a general election.

In government circles the situation is admitted to present pitfalls. None the less there is a confident expectation expressed that the government will weather the storm and remain in power at any rate until after redistribution which will follow the census of next year. Apparently the outcome of the session will depend largely on the strength of Hon. T. A. Crerar, former Minister of Agriculture. The rapid growth of the farmers movement in the west and Ontario, and indications that it is spreading into the Maritime provinces and even to a certain extent in Quebec give to Mr. Crerar an unquestioned position of power.

Last year an opposition tariff amendment was defeated by fifty-four votes but it had the support of fourteen liberal Unionists. Tariff amendment by Mr. Crerar supporters along lines of the farmers platform, might very conceivably attract a much larger measure of support from rural members and the Government be defeated. On the other hand it is questioned if Mr. Crerar could secure the measure of support from Unionist members necessary to defeat the Government. Parliament has still technically three years to run. It is improbable that the general elections would return more than a comparatively small proportion of the present rank and file of the House of Commons.

ASQUITH WOULD GIVE IRELAND SOME POWER

Would Put Customs and Excise Into Hands of New Irish Parliament. (Canadian Press Despatch) Paisley, Scotland, Feb. 8.—Mr. Asquith devoted himself last night to the Irish question. He declared that the only effectual means of getting at the root of the Irish trouble was a generous system of Irish government. He was, he said, prepared to give the new Irish parliament control over customs and excise in order that the Irish might be in this respect on the same footing as self-governing dominions. He would not refuse to consider dispassionately any scheme of settlement for Ireland which the Government might bring forward, but it must be a permanent settlement. It was not supposed that an Irish parliament would make anything in the nature of a predatory system of fiscal injustice against Ulster. To credit them with that was to credit them with the intelligence of savages. The principle of self-determination should also be applied to Scotland. It was common sense to free the imperial parliament from burdens that cannot be freely discharged.

Lincoln County Council will, instead of erecting a county memorial to men who lost their lives in the war, make grants to municipalities individually erecting memorials. Authority to deal with the question of eligibility for membership in the U. F. O. was left by a meeting of directors in the hands of the individual clubs. The British Columbia government has decided not to appoint any new commission to inquire into the question of compensation. At New York another sharp break in British exchange occurred to-day, when demand bills declined to $3.38 1/2. As a result of a referendum, Verdun, Que., will remain "dry," the vote showing 725 majority against the "wets." A genius is a man who knows when to keep his mouth shut.
