R. WALDRON

Theatrical

At the Grand.
To-night will be the only showing of the splendid programme of high-class photoplays, the management of the Grand has arranged for the one only. Monroe Salisbury, the popular Universal star, is seen in a six-reel feature, "The Blinding Trail." The play is a story of a rugged camp boss, who is inveigled into marriage by a luxury-loving creature of the city, whose friend, alone of the two, senses the greatness of the man. The friend bides her time. A year of marriage and the wife proves false, while an accident has killed the sight of the man. When his vision returns his eyes are opened also to the desirability of "the patient one" and love succeeds the shallow make-believe. There are reels of comedy and other subjects, and a two-reel drama starring the popular actor Tom Mix; also an excellent musical vaudeville and a splendid musical programme rendered by the Grand's augmented orchestra.—Adv't.

Fiske O'Hara Coming.
Announcement of the coming of Fiske O'Hara, the popular Irish actor, in a new, romantic comedy, "Down Limerick Way" by Anna Nichols at the Grand Opera House on Friday and Saturday, March 5th and 6th with a special bargain matinee on Saturday will bring joyful anticipation to the hearts of the many friends Mr. O'Hara has made in this city. Augustus Pitou, has provided this first of Irish favorites with a sparkling comedy which has all the glamour and gaiety of the Emerald Isle. There is a pretty love story, which will captivate all tastes, and a plot that keeps the interest of the audience happily engaged. Mr. O'Hara who comes with a selection of new lilting song ballads never before rendered, is supported by a splendid company and a special orchestra on tour.—Adv't.

"The Passing Show."
Superbly appointed and with feature acts coming and going in pleasing and bewildering rapidity, that wonderful outburst of travesty spectacle and song "The Passing Show of 1918" will be seen here at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday, March 10th.

The long cast is headed by the ever-popular Willie and Eugene Howard, who are today considered two of the best fun makers before the public. The other members of the cast are Roy Cummings, Will H. Philbrick, John Burke, Edward Basse, Helen Carrington, Emily Miles, Lee-ta Corder, Alexander Dagmar, Blanche Parkes, Peggy Brown, Mary Booth, Billie Shaw and Dorcas S. Area, not forgetting a Winter Garden Beauty Chorus of 125.

The growing of the girls is unusually attractive. Scenically, "The Passing Show of 1918" is stupendous unique, novel and extraordinary.—Adv't.

At Griffin's.
A glimpse into the inner circle of the pugilistic world will be given screen lovers who see Charles Ray in his latest Thos. H. Ince production "The Egg Crate Swallow," which will be shown at Griffin's today, Friday and Saturday. As the story goes, Charlie starts out as a helper for the express agent in his town, who also happens to be his girl's father. A packet of money is stolen and suspicion points to Dave Haskell, the agent. So Charlie skips out of town to mystify the folks a little and lands a job in Chicago as sparring partner for a noted pugilist. In the meantime a cheap sport from the city is trying to win Charlie's girl back in the home town. Charlie wins a big battle in the city ring just in time to discover that the city chap is really the thief, and all is serene again. A Sunshine comedy, "The Roaming Bath Tub," and the Gaumont Weekly, scenic review, complete the programme, which is sure to prove of a highly entertaining order.—Adv't.

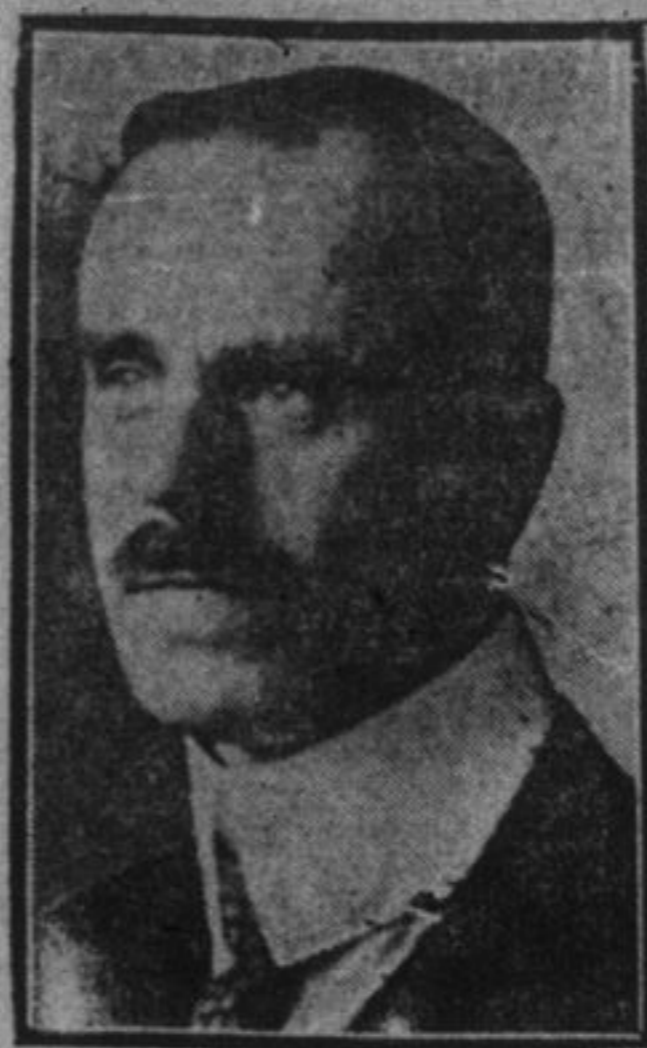

At the Strand.
An unknown element in dramatic screen production, the introduction of animal comedy to relieve tension, has been successfully practiced in "Back to God's Country," by James Oliver Curwood, adapted from his famous magazine story, "Wapi, the Walrus," which will be seen at the Strand theatre to-day. Nell Shipman, popular American screen favorite, as Dolores; Wheeler Oakman, Wellington Playter and Charles Arling, in other roles in the cast, portray their parts with the aid and support of nearly two dozen animals, consisting of bears, wolves, lynx, fox, deer, mountain lions, raccoons, porcupines, goats and other forest beasts—trained to perfection by expert animal trainers. Probably no picture production ever released has a more unusual array of animal talent. Cost of the animals, although great, was minor in comparison to the cost in time and patience to induce them to develop an affection or hatred toward the various cast members with whom they were to work. Critics have placed a high approval on "Back to God's Country," and the local management promises it will be one of most pleasing attractions to be seen at that theatre in several months.—Adv't.

Our January Thaw.
Kingston had its "January Thaw" on Thursday. It was late in arriving, but it was certainly a real thaw. The weather was spring-like and under the rays of Old Sol, the snow was an easy prey. Thomas Timms, of the city engineer's department, had a staff of men out clearing away the water tables. The Weather Man promises some more cold weather yet, so the snow will not go away in one big rush.
