

QUEEN'S HOCKEY PROTEST

IS SAID TO BE BASED ON GOOD GROUNDS.

Intercollegiate Playing Rules the Same as Those of the O. H. A.—Results of Curling Games.

Thomas McNeil, manager of Queen's junior intercollegiate hockey team, when asked why he had entered a protest over the Queen's Varsity final game, which was played in Toronto on Saturday afternoon, stated that when the round was a tie after three periods had been played, Queen's played the overtime time period under protest. Manager McNeil claims that intercollegiate hockey is governed by O.H.A. rules. According to these rules, when teams are playing in final games and the score is a tie on the round, another game must be played on neutral ice to declare the winner. Varsity claims that there is another clause in the intercollegiate rules which cancels the rule which Manager McNeil refers to. It is likely that the protest will be heard in Kingston on Wednesday.

A Curling Record. A. W. McLean, of the local curling club, has established a record of which any curler should feel proud. In this event he made 109 points while the second man scored ten points less. In the club doubles he is doing well.

On Monday evening in the play-off to declare a winner in Group 2 of the club series, Skip McLean won from Skip C. F. Smith by a score of 15 to 9, and will now meet A. H. Warwick, winner of Group No. 1. The winner of group No. 2 and group No. 1 will meet A. Strachan in the finals. There is every chance that F. D. Lyman will skip the Strachan rink in the finals, as Mr. Strachan is not very well.

With the exception of Vorwarts, the Liberal journals have not yet expressed themselves on the Hindenburg candidacy. The organ of the majority Socialists, however, declare it "the biggest of all the stupidities committed by Hindenburg under the influence of Heiflerloh and Ludendorff." It classifies the field marshal as the foremost exponent of the military-civilian caste, and predicts that his elevation to the presidency would put a definite end "to the mighty movement for a revision of the treaty of Versailles, which is daily gaining momentum abroad."

The Telephone Situation. The Man Who Knows. "The real underlying cause of unrest and discontent, which is in turn the cause of present social and business conditions, is ignorance of the other fellow's problems, lack of appreciation of his difficulties."—N. C. Kingsbury. We have found that the more our subscribers and the public know about our business, the more smoothly it runs—the better the service. In other words, when people understand something of how complex and infinitely detailed a modern telephone system is—especially in a big city—the more readily they co-operate with us in our efforts for good service. We have found that the most satisfactory subscriber to deal with, is the man who has been through a telephone exchange and has seen it in operation. His criticism is always considerate, always fair and helpful, just because he knows what an intricate, comprehensive and yet delicate thing a modern telephone system is. That is why we invite subscribers to visit our exchanges, and why, from time to time, we endeavor to tell in the newspapers just what the telephone situation is. THE BRITISH WHIG does not take any particular credit to itself for belonging to the Audit Bureau of Circulations. To supply A. B. C. reports on its circulation is good business practice on the part of any publication and the British Whig is glad to render this necessary service to advertisers. It is not that the British Whig requires any check on the honesty of its circulation statements. It is because it is honest that it is able to qualify for A. B. C. membership. Circulation falsifiers are not eligible. The British Whig is a member of the A. B. C. because it wishes to identify itself with advertisers, advertising agents and other reputable publishers in this co-operative effort to discountenance unfair methods. The advertiser has one way only of distinguishing. He knows that every publication that belongs to the A. B. C. tells the exact truth about its circulation. With other papers he lacks that assurance. The Bureau's report on the circulation of the British Whig will be sent to advertisers on request.
