

An Opportunity For an Easter Suit

Made-to-Measure Special Scotch and English Tweeds and Worsteds; regular $65.00, $70.00 and $75.00 values.

FOR ONE WEEK ONLY

$59.50

See our window. Come early and make selection.

Livingstons

75-77-79 BROCK STREET.

"If Off Your Route It Pays To Walk"

FOR

WEDNESDAY

A Sale Of Linen Bedroom Towels

86 dozen Linen, Huck, Bedroom Towels—hemmed ends; good, strong-wearing quality; in a useful size, 18x33; at the very special price of

$2.19 for 1/2 dozen.

Owing to the very low price and limited quantity, not more than two dozen will be sold to any one person.

—Sale at 9 o'clock.

—See window.

R. WALDRON

A NOTED RAILWAY MAN

D. B. HANNA, WHO SPEAKS IN KINGSTON TUESDAY EVENING.

D. B. Hanna, President of the Canadian National Railways, Arrived in Kingston Tuesday Afternoon, and is to Speak at the Citizens' Banquet.

From the comparative obscurity of a clerkship in the auditor's office of the Grand Trunk Railway at Montreal, Mr. Hanna has risen to become one of the great railwaymen of Canada. As president of the Canadian National Railways, a system embracing the Canadian Northern, Intercolonial and National Transcontinental railroads, he will become, with the absorption of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific lines, the active head of the greatest rail transportation system in the world.

Mr. Hanna is Scottish by birth. His railroad service dates back to 1874 when at the age of 15 he entered the employ of the Glasgow, Barrhead & Kilmarnock railway of Scotland, as a junior clerk and ticket agent. As is customary in Scottish institutions, he received a thorough training on this road and on the Caledonian railway of Scotland, upon which for our years he was a freight clerk.

In 1882 he came to Canada and joined the Grand Trunk as clerk in the auditor's office at Montreal, leaving that road for a similar position in the New York offices of the New York, West Shore and Buffalo Railway. In 1886 he became chief accountant of the Manitoba and Northwestern railway. Thereafter his promotion was rapid, and he was appointed in succession treasurer and land superintendent of the road.

Mr. Hanna's services with this railroad led Mackenzie & Mann to commandeer him for the post of general superintendent of the Canadian Northern railway, then in 1908 practically in its cradle. With this system he has since remained, seeing it become a transcontinental railway. In 1902 he became third vice-president of the railroad, and in 1907 its general manager. When the Canadian Northern was taken over by the Government, he was chosen by the Government to become its head.

Theatrical

At the Grand.

To-night will be the last showing of the splendid programme of feature pictures now running at the Grand. Constance Talmadge, the charming Select Pictures star, is seen in her latest production, "The Veiled Adventure." The play is a beautiful romance, and romance, it might be said is Miss Talmadge's "long suit." The star is supported by an excellent company and the play is one of the best ever produced. H. B. Warner, the well known motion picture actor, is also seen in a delightful comedy entitled, "A Fugitive From Matrimony." The plot deals with the efforts of a young society man to escape matrimony, and the many amusing situations that ensue, make a novel vehicle for this talented star, and many laughable moments for the spectator. There are also reels of comedy, and a very interesting reel of Pictorial Life. This bill is completed by an act of superior vaudeville and is seen for the last time to-night.—Advt.

Coming to the Grand.

For the last three days of this week, the management of the Grand offers a programme of photoplays that is sure to please the most critical. Mary Pickford, who has been rightly styled the "queen of moving picture actresses," is seen in the first big picture she has produced for the Big Four, "Pollyanna." This is the "glad play," taken from Eleanor H. Porter's novel of the same name. The play is one of cheerful philosophy and gladness, and no one can witness this picture and go away feeling gloomy and out of sorts with the world. Mary Pickford has appeared as a child in many pictures, but never in a production of such beauty as "Pollyanna." The play points out that as bad as things are they might be worse, and the star emphasizes this point in a delightful manner. The cast is an excellent one and adds greatly to the success of this production. There will also be another splendid feature, "Look," from the novel of that name by Arthur Somers Roche, with a wonderful cast, including Ora Carew and Darrell Foss. This programme will be shown Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.—Advt.

"The Passing Show."

The greatest of all Winter Garden revues, "The Passing Show of 1918," under the direction of Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert, will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday evening, March 10th. Like its predecessors this revue is a huge, whirling conglomeration of fun, farce, comedy, spectacle, extravaganzas, and travesty. In this show there are two sets and twenty odd scenes—a swiftly moving frolic, bewildering in its surprises. This is the seventh passing show. The first having been produced in 1912. The book and lyrics of the show is by Harold Atteridge. The music is by Sigmund Romberg and John Szwartz. It is an extraordinary array of talent that the Messrs. Shubert have brought together for this "Passing Show." Heading the list are Eugene and Willie Howard, who have appeared in six Winter Garden extravaganzas and who were last seen as the stars of "The Show of Wonders."—Advt.

At Griffin's.

"Brothers Divided," which opened an engagement at Griffin's yesterday, presents Frank Keenan in one of the most delightful, whole-souled, human interest pictures it has been our good fortune to show in a long time. In the dual role, Frank Keenan draws such a definite line between the two brothers of totally different temperaments as to make one forget they were the one man. So kindly and lovable has Mr. Keenan made the ex-convict brother, who is not afraid to face the truth, and so crabbed and selfish and unlikable the other brother, who oppresses the workers in his mill, that one frequently finds it difficult to believe that both characters are enacted by the one man. A pretty little love story runs throughout the story between Tom's musical son, Max, and the florist's pretty daughter Ruth. We cannot recommend more delightful entertainment than "Brother's Divided," and feel sure patrons who see this picture will thoroughly enjoy it. A good comedy picture, and an exceptionally picturesque Outing Chester are on the same bill, which will be shown again to-night and to-morrow.—Advt.

MARY PICKFORD in "Pollyanna" In "Pollyanna," at the Grand Opera House, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, of this week.

BLUNDER ON TICKER UPSETS WALL STREET

Misleading Report, Due to Sender's Haste, Breaks the Stock Market.

New York, March 9.—When the voice of Justice Pitney started to drone out the decision in the case of McComb vs. Eisner in the United States supreme court in Washington at noon yesterday, a reporter, with a telegraph operator at his side, attempted to beat competitors with the news by guessing at the decision. He guessed wrongly.

The result was one of the wildest days in the history of Wall street, in which industrial stocks crashed and then literally skyrocketed through the roof.

At 12.09 one of the news tickers printed this bulletin: "Stock dividends income." This was the interpretation of the reporter in Washington, gained from the first few sentences of the decision.

Another bulletin followed in which it was stated that the contention of the government had been upheld and that stock dividends were taxable.

To spread the erroneous report more completely a news service which had been beaten on the story by about four minutes "picked up" the news from its competitor and assistant in flashing to all parts of the financial district the report that the decision had been favorable to the government.

The result was as sudden and complete a drop out of the market as Wall street has seen in many a day. Stocks were thrown overboard without regard to values. Prices crumpled one, two, three and even four points at a time as stocks poured into the exchange.

Editor of Medical Journal. Dr. Frederick McKeelvey Bell, well known in Kingston, and a brother of R. C. Bell, of this city, and Dr. J. H. Bell, of Hamilton, has been appointed editor-in-chief of the International Medical and Surgical Journal at New York in conjunction with his position as chief medical officer of the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

The management committee of the Board of Education met on Monday and arranged a compromise as to salaries with the teachers. The report will come before the board on Thursday night.

Robert Irving died in Toronto, on Saturday. He was born in Kingston in 1859 and was unmarried.

HANSON, CROZIER & EDGAR PRINTERS

Market Square, Kingston

DAILY MEMORANDUM.

Band at Pasco rink to-night. See top of Page Three, right hand corner for probabilities.

BORN.

MCCANN—At Westport, Feb. 25th, to Mr. and Mrs. John S. McCann, a son.

ORMSBEE—At Battersea, on March 6, 1920, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Ormsbee, a son.

DIED.

DOHERTY—In Kingston, at the Hotel Dieu Monastery, on March 5th, 1920, Rev. Sister Doherty. Funeral from Hotel Dieu Chapel on Thursday morning, where a solemn requiem mass will be sung at 8 o'clock for the happy repose of her soul. Friends and acquaintances are kindly invited to attend the mass.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. William Kennedy, Cole Lake, Ontario, wish to thank their many friends and neighbors for kindness shown them during their recent and bereavement in the death of William McConnell.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank our many friends for their floral offerings and many kindnesses shown to us in our recent and bereavement in the death of our beloved mother, Catherine A. Cannon. The family.

JAMES REID

The Old Firm of Undertakers. 254 and 256 PRINCESS STREET. Phone 147 for Ambulance.

ROBERT J. REID

The Leading Undertaker. Phone 577. 290 Princess Street

M. P. KEYES

Undertaker and Embalmer. Undertaking Parlor, 255 Princess St. Ambulance Phone 1899.

JOHN CORNELIUS

Undertaker and Embalmer. Parlor: 274 Princess Street. Phone 599.

The Loveliest of the Smart, New Fashions for Spring in all Their Captivating Moods and Fancies.

SUITS

that are the very loveliest of many Springs.

AND DAY BY DAY--

This brilliant exhibit grows more fascinating with the never-ending stream of new arrivals. Suits in belted models, Tailored models, Box Coat models and Rippled models—are here in splendid variety of Serges, Tricotines, Gabardines and Poplins—at most moderate prices:

$35, $40, $45, $50, others up to $90.

NEW TAFFETA FROCKS

Also Satin, Georgette and Crepe de Chene. Any woman would love the jaunty spring ways of the Taffeta Frock, Satin or Georgette. They attain added beauty by use of pleatings, ruffles, pipings, embroidery in endless, original frivolity, that is quaintly fascinating.

There is a wonderful selection of modern, exclusive, but not expensive.

John Laidlaw & Son, Ltd.

Rubber Boot Weather RUBBERS FOR ALL

- Rubber Boots for Children.
- Rubber Boots for Boys.
- Rubber Boots for Men and
- Boot Rubbers to fit all the different shapes of Shoes.

Lockett's