HIRED MAN FACES SERIOUS CHARGE

Is Accused of Attempting to Murder Ward of Orphan

Brockville, March 22 .- When arraigned in the police court, Saturday upon a charge of attempting to murder Miss Margaret McGee, a ward of Fairknowe Orphan Home, at the farm of W. A. Moulton, near Lansdowne village, ten days ago, John O'Connell, aged twenty-three, pleaded not guilty. Sufficient evidence, however, was taken to commit him for trial at the spring assizes. The prisoner and Miss McGee were employes of Moulton, and it is charged that during the absence of Moulton and his wife, O'Connell, without apparent provocation, attacked the girl in a barn, whither she had gone to feed some poultry. She was the principal witness called. According to her testimony, the accused, after beating her into insensibility, locked her in the barn for dead with the intention, it is said, of returning to her, Mrs. George Lucey, Main street. Many of them were truthful. Some were not.

But there was confusion and lack of uniformity. An intelligent comparison was impossible. Details regarding distribution were not generally given because there was no standard of practice in keeping the records.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations has brought order out of chaos. To-day the Bureau's system of keeping records is almost universal among the better publishers. Uniform reports are furnished to advertisers verified by that absolutely independent organization.

The experienced advertiser demands A. B. C. reports and if the publisher has nothing to hide, he gets them.

A. B. C. reports in the British Whig are furnished on request. No other Kingston paper gives this service.

The Telephone Ettuation

The World At The Telephone

The demands upon the telephone nowadays are enormous. Everybody telephones. As a result the complexities and perplexities of the business were never so pressing.

Wherever you turn, especially in the larger cities of this continent, telephone men are wrestling with the greatest difficulties they have ever faced.

Very heavy demands for new connections have come right atop of world-wide shortage of vital material.

The heaviest traffic loads in the history of the business have come when facilities were lacking because of the scarcity of material, and when labor unrest and unsettlement were most_

Expanding business in all lines means insistent demand for extensions of telephone facilities. The cumulative requirements of a -fast growing community like ours tax our resources to the limit !

We were never trying harder than we are to-day to make our facilities and service meet the demands of a difficult situation.
