Will Miss the Tulips.

Visitors to Cataract cemetery this spring will miss the lovely beds of tulips that have always been seen along the drives. Owing to the very high cost of bulbs, the cemetery company did not purchase any this autumn.

Hard on the Coal.

The continued cold weather is hard on the coal bins. Citizens think that it is high time that the weather man let up on the cold weather. The coal dealers are receiving a lot of rush orders, and the supply is fast disappearing.

To Increase Wool Output.

The machinery at the Bancroft Woolen Mills is being overhauled, with the expectation of increasing the output of the mills this coming season. This year's wool clip is already making its appearance at the mill, as some farmers have already clipped their sheep.

Had Shoulder Broken.

The many friends of little Florence Tolles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tolles, Cataract, will be very sorry to hear that she is in the General Hospital, Kingston, suffering from a broken shoulder, the result of an accident while at play at her home on Tuesday afternoon.

Will Attend Meeting.

The question of forming an amateur baseball league with two teams from Kingston, Brockville and Gananoque, Alexandria Bay, Ogdensburg and possibly some other places will be taken up at a meeting to be held in Brockville this Saturday afternoon. Stanley Trotter, of this city, will attend the meeting.

Belleisle Veterans' Club House.

The Great War Veterans have adopted plans for a two-storey memorial home or club house to be erected in Riverside Park, for which the council has given permission. The structure will be a thoroughly modern one in every respect. Upstairs it is planned to have a large hall for dancing and entertainments. The city voted $10,000 toward the erection of the home.

Losing Good Men.

W. A. Stroud says the demands of new industries for labor would be met in Kingston. We were losing a good many men because they were obliged early in the season to leave the city for outside jobs as they occurred, but they invariably expressed their desire to remain in Kingston, as it was a most desirable place in which to live. They will be glad to come back if Kingston offers them the opportunity.

New Carleton Place Club.

Dinty Moore has a local following in Carleton Place among some of the young boys. A clubhouse had been fitted up in a garage and had been named "Dinty Moore's Club Room." This supposedly safe retreat was discovered, and it was found necessary to make a hasty exit and abandon the place. Later, the same crowd was discovered enjoying a quiet smoke underneath one of the mills. Serious consequences were avoided by appealing to the proprietors and promising not to offend again.

Farm Labor Problem.

Seventy dollars a month and board was offered the other day to a young farmer if he would remain in the neighborhood instead of taking up other employment. Another instance is cited of $50 a month, free house, privilege of planting a garden and potato ground, keeping cows, pigs, hens and in fact conducting a farm of his own on a small scale as the tempting bait handed out to a married man. The farm labor problem is said to be very acute, and many farmers will get along without hired help.

Want Accommodation.

When interviewed regarding the housing situation and the approaching May moving, a prominent real estate dealer stated that there was never greater scarcity of accommodation. He was approached for houses for ten officials who are coming from the Portsmouth Penitentiary from Edmonton, but he was unable to secure even rooms for any of them. As a result, sleeping accommodation had to be provided for the officials in the old insane ward inside of the prison walls. There have been many sales of houses, and the prices, while not excessive, have been quite firm, showing that there is a steady demand for suitable property.

The Cheese Situation.

When interviewed regarding the proposal to change the present method of marketing and selling cheese, as announced by the organizers of the United Dairy Co-operative Company, L. W. Murphy, one of Kingston's most prominent cheese buyers, stated that there was nothing in it for the farmers. He thought that there was greater competition in the present boarding system, and that the farmer received the benefit of that competition. Mr. Murphy is an authority on cheese, having been engaged in the business all his life. Even if the proposal was favorably received and put into operation, he felt that there were conditions entering into the marketing and sale of cheese that would have the effect of seriously disturbing the consistent carrying out of the method as announced by Mr. Cowan and Mr. McCaffery, the promoters of the company, with the result that the present system would be resumed.

Local Labor Situation.

W. A. Stroud, local manager of the Ontario Employment Bureau, when asked concerning the labor situation, stated that Kingston had not enough industries in operation during the winter months to employ all available labor in the city. When summer came, with construction work of various kinds, a large number of men were engaged at outdoor work, but as soon as the weather grew cold in the fall hundreds were affected injuriously in enforced idleness, because there was no industries at which they could work. The situation is now rapidly improving, but there is still much labor available.

Addressed Chamber of Commerce.

Francis King, of Kingston, general counsel of the Dominion Marine Association, addressed the Chamber of Commerce at London, Ont., Thursday, in an effort to offset the campaign of J. E. Armstrong, M.P., to have legislation passed to control inland shipping. The argument of Mr. King was that the rates fixed by the Dominion Railway Commission were not excessive, necessary, nor desirable. He argued that control of the water transportation services would end competition, stifle commerce and retard the growth of great public services, with the result that the harbors of Canada would be full of idle shipping. He branded as false the accusation that the Dominion Marine Association is a monopoly created to control freight rates, and also that the Canada Steamship Company had made huge profits. He further denied that the carriers of bulk freight on the inland waters of the United States are controlled as the Armstrong Bill proposes to control them in Canada.

THANKFUL MOTHERS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she would use nothing else. The Tablets give such results that the mother has nothing but words of praise and thankfulness for them. Among the thousands of mothers throughout Canada who praise the Tablets is Mrs. David A. Anderson, New Glasgow, N. S., who writes:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children and from my experience I would not be without them. I would give every other mother to keep a box of the Tablets in the house." The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Too Sudden to Suit Him.

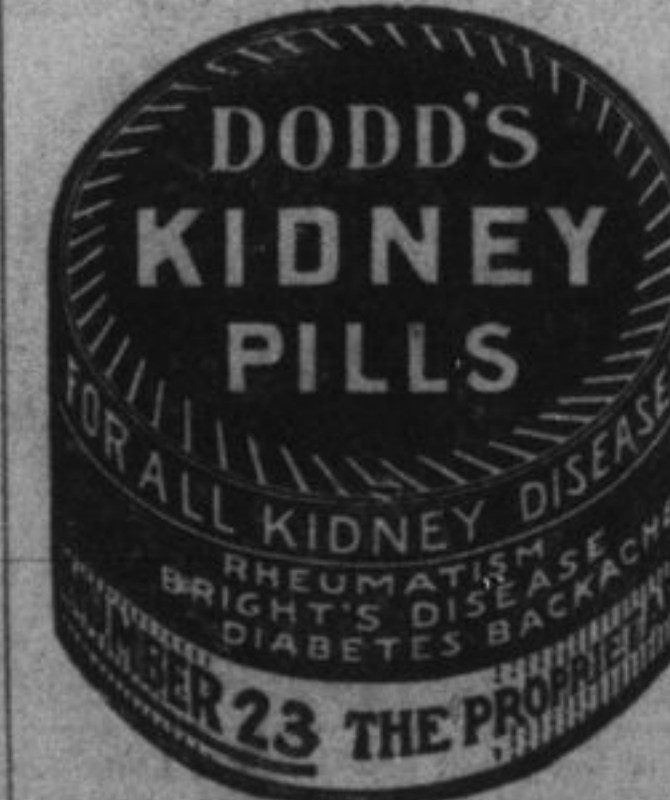

The Bishop of Southwark, who recently created a mild sensation by announcing his decision not to open any more bazars, preferring, he said, to devote himself to other more important work, is famed in clerical circles as a teller of somewhat unconventional stories.

One of the best concerns a certain country parson who, during a long drought, offered up a fervent prayer for rain.

When the service was over, a sexton offered his congratulations.

"Your prayer for rain was soon answered, sir," he said. "It's pouring."

"Dear me!" exclaimed the parson. "What a nuisance. I've left my umbrella at home."
