Purchases Residence.
J. B. Hunt, manager of the Renfrew flour mills, has purchased an $8,000 residence and property on Clifton Road, Westboro, from the estate of the late William Ross, and in future will reside in it.

Teachers Granted Generous Increases
At the regular meeting of the Smith's Falls Board of Education the teachers of the Collegiate Institute staff and the lady teachers of the public schools were granted generous increases in their salaries.

Bridge Across Bay at Deseronto.
Deseronto residents may call a meeting to formulate plans to approach the government towards the erection of a bridge across the bay at Deseronto. It is expected much influence can be brought to bear to carry out the project.

Leaving For Lanark.
Mrs. James McIlraith, Clydeville, is removing to Lanark much to the regret of her associates. The place they occupied is now in possession of Donald Cameron, Flower Station, and William Heftron, Lanark.

Leaders' Camp.
The first National C.S.E.T. Leaders' Camp is to be held at Algonquin Park, on August 20th to 30th, and will consist of teachers, laymen, lawyers, doctors, educators, ministers farmers Y. M. C. A. and church secretaries, and a group of choice older boys.

Not Much Cheese.
The Frontenac cheese board is called to meet on Thursday, 22nd inst., at 1.30 p.m. It will be the inaugural meeting and it is hardly likely that there will be much cheese offered for sale as many factories have only started and some will not start until May 1st.

Last Day for Licenses.
Thursday was the last day for the receiving of the payment of carters' licenses and there has been a great rush the past few days paying the license fees into the chief of police. Any person found carting without a license will be summoned before the magistrate.

A New Position.
Major the Rev. G. I. Campbell, in charge of the district covered by the Montreal Conference, representing the Methodist church during the Forward Movement campaign, has been appointed organizer for the Inter-Protestant church census drive to be carried out in Ottawa.

Died in New Jersey.
Mrs. Maria Ford, aged about seventy-six years, wife of the late Captain Wayland F. Ford, passed away this week at the home of her son in Red Bank, N.J. Mrs. Ford has been in failing health for some time, suffering from a complication of diseases including Bright's disease. L. H. Ford, Clayton, N.Y. is a son.

McIntosh-Vandervoort Wedding.
The marriage took place at Trenton on Monday of a well-known Belleville young man, Jack McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McIntosh, to Miss Ethel Vandervoort, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Vandervoort. Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh left on their bridal trip to Toronto and other places. They will make their home in Belleville.

Will Not Be Aboard.
George Rattray, for many years the popular purser of the ferry steamer Wolfe Islander, is reported to be confined to his residence through illness. Mr. Rattray will not be on the steamer this season, but will devote himself to his cheese business. He is the proprietor of St. Lawrence cheese factory and has established a reputation for his cheese, much of which is sold for local consumption.

Formerly of Cape Vincent, N.Y.
Word has been received of the sudden death on Tuesday, in Fargo, N.D., of John H. Forsyth, a former resident of Cape Vincent, N.Y. Death was due to pneumonia. Mr. Forsyth was about seventy-six years of age. He married Miss Lizzie Toole, Cape Vincent. He was an active Mason and an attendant of the Presbyterian church. One sister, Miss Cynthia Forsyth, lives at Cape Vincent.

To Have Steamer Trip.
In connection with the visit to Kingston in June, of the International Deep Waterways Commission, J. M. Campbell, president of the Board of Trade, intimates that he hopes to be able to have a steamer placed at the disposal of the commission and to give the members of it a close view of the Thousand Islands. The steamer might go as far as Brockville, with the commission, a large number of members of the Kingston Board of Trade accompanying them on the excursion.

Fined a Second Time.
Nathaniel Easton was met by members of the Belleville police force when he stepped off a passenger train at the union C.P.R. and C.N.R. station on Wednesday. He had two suitcases heavily laden with liquor. Easton was put under arrest and charged with a breach of the Ontario Temperance Act. In court he admitted the offence and was found guilty and fined $750 and costs. Last year Easton was fined $350 for a breach of the act.

CANADIAN JEWISH RELIEF FUND.
All next week a campaign to raise funds for the relief of millions of starving children and adults in Central and Eastern Europe will be carried on in Canada and the United States. Kingston is asked to aid in this humanitarian work, and on Sunday, at 3 p.m., a meeting of citizens is called at the Jewish Synagogue on Queen street. Humanitarian needs know no creed. A large attendance is desired to consider the matter. All who have compassion for those in distress are earnestly invited to attend.

Married in Montreal.
The wedding of Coralie Laurie Cook, niece of Mr. and Mrs. S. Burrows, Belleville, to Lieut. Joseph George Caldwell, son of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Caldwell, Belleville, took place Thursday at the residence of the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace H. Robb. The honeymoon will be spent in Quebec. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell will reside in Guelph, Ont. The out-of-town guests were Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell and Miss Caldwell, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. S. Burrows, Belleville.

Wants Marriage Annulled.
In Supreme Court, Ogdensburg, Lulu Buck is the petitioner against Emery W. Buck for annulment of a void marriage. Plaintiff was the wife of Arthur Fuller and defendant Buck represented to her that he had obtained a divorce for her from Fuller. Believing she was divorced, she went to Prescott and married Buck, with whom she lived until she discovered she had been deceived. Hence the action to annul the marriage with Buck. One child, a girl two years old, resulted from the second marriage.

Robbed by Bolsheviks.
Ald. Isaac Cohen has received a letter from his brother, in Lithuania, advising that the Bolsheviks have robbed him of everything they could carry away and then burned his property. He was a man of very much wealth, and was engaged in a wholesale business. His great regret is that in view of his circumstances he was not able to educate his seven children as was his purpose. He also intimated that a sister who lives in the same province could not be communicated with, and he had not heard from her for a long time.

Men Who Worked Together.
Referring to the death of Robert Herring, who claimed to be the first commercial traveller in Canada, P. Slavin, of Deseronto, tells the Post he knew Mr. Herring very well. They were employed in the same store in Kingston and worked together for about four years, from about 1856 to 1860. The store was called the Montreal House, of which James Davis was proprietor. It was located at the corner of Princess and Bagot streets, where Messrs. Macnee and 'Minnie' wholesale warehouse stands. Mr. Herring was a smart, active man, and understood the dry goods business to perfection. The late Samuel Caraley, Montreal, and F. X. Cousineau, both of whom became eminent merchants afterwards, were also employed in the same store at the same time.

Meeting at Deseronto.
The St. Mark's branch of the Woman's Auxiliary held their annual meeting on April 13th at the rectory. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Radcliffe; first vice-president, Mrs. G. D. Smith; second vice-president, Mrs. Dalton; recording secretary, Mrs. Foley; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Childs; treasurer, Miss Violet Smith; Dorcas secretary, Mrs. McMath; leaflet secretary, Mrs. Childs; secretary babies' branch, Mrs. Kettle. The annual reports were read and were most encouraging and all pledges met. The meeting was well attended and enthusiastic.

A Very Sudden Death.
A very sudden death happened at the home of Mr. Buckburo, 144 Janette avenue, Windsor, on Sunday evening when Levi Ducharme, formerly of Oconto, took suddenly ill with acute indigestion and died within three hours. The young man was twenty-four years of age and had been employed at the Ford Motor Works for several years. During that time he had received a few good promotions. He leaves a father, mother, and brothers and sisters at Oconto, and a host of friends at Windsor. He was jovial and kind, and won many friends. Centennial Lodge No. 423, I.O.O.F. of which he was a member, took charge of his body and will have it buried in the family plot at Oconto.

Kingston's Housing Problem.
A citizen, who has very wide knowledge as to building propositions, says that Kingston needs at the present time between three hundred and four hundred houses. Prior to the war, an average of one hundred houses were built every year, and during the war there was no construction of any account carried on, and the deficiency in good houses is now very apparent. His suggestion is that Kingston could very quickly get houses erected if the city council were to pass a by-law granting exemption of general taxes for five years to all those who build houses. "You would see them spring up in great numbers," was the final comment of the gentleman, in suggesting the desirability of the by-law to a Whig reporter.

THIS FIVE-LEGGED COW NAMED THE "PROHIBITION COW."

Did you ever hear of a five-legged 'camel'-humped cow? Just recently the animal full grown was shipped with other cattle to Rochester to be killed. With prohibition in force the five-legged hump cow did not make a hit with the slaughter-house gang, who all decided to let it live a while, and try to sell it to some museum.
