Happenings in the City and Vicinity —What the Merchants Offer to the Readers of the Whig.

Go to church tomorrow. W. Swaine, piano tuner, orders at McAuley's, or phone 544w.

"How quickly the weeks fly by," said a citizen, "I will be dead before I know it."

Kingston is calling strongly for the resumption of work on the new Welland Canal.

J. M. Campbell is humping in his endeavors to locate some new industries in Kingston.

Service at the Mission, Montreal street, will be held Thursday evening instead of Wednesday.

Baseball will soon be enjoyed here. The outlook is good for a fine grade of ball. The fans are priming up.

Rev. W. T. G. Brown is to preach anniversary sermons in the East End Methodist Church, Montreal, on Sunday.

The southerly and westerly winds are keeping the harbor filled with broken ice. It moves slowly down the river.

Just now the ladies are busy house cleaning and trying on hats. They cannot really tell which is the most tiresome.

Quite a number of families are making arrangements to move on May 1st. There has been a marked advance in rents.

And now to find a good lot for the location of the new public library. With $80,000 a real up-to-date building can be reared.

Martha Ann Gibbs, widow of the late Robert Hamilton, of Portland, passed away at Inverary, on Friday. She was ninety years old.

Now is the time to have your piano tuned. We carry two expert tuners and will assure entire satisfaction. C. W. Lindsay, Limited.

Chief Armstrong and his men did splendid service at the Newman and Shaw fire last night. They saved the city from a serious conflagration.

The painters and carpenters are on the rush these days. So are the carters. Tons of ashes are being transferred to the city dump.

Lt.-Col. Andrew Gray, M.P.P., officer commanding the 47th Frontenac Regiment, was in the city Saturday in connection with military matters.

Notice—The "High Cost of Living" can be lowered. See top of column (1) page (5). Continued daily.

The block pavement on Wellington street, between William and Earl streets has been upheaved by the frosts and many yards will have to be relaid.

Superintendent Phillips is making ready to begin work in the city park. Sand is being drawn for use and the cleaning process on the grounds is under way.

If the water works plant were placed at Ontario Park, the intake can run out into the lake pure water could be secured with a minimum of filtration.

An automobile collision occurred at the corner of Brock and Division streets on Friday night in which a woman was injured, and both cars were badly damaged.

The Canadian National Railway has a splendid service to Ottawa and Toronto from Kingston. The equipment is first class in every detail. The patronage is good.

The Whig has not been able to handle all the copy coming to hand as expeditiously as it could wish owing to a shortage of men due to illness and other causes.

Thomas McAuley feel quite lonesome as he is almost the only business man who has kept store for over half a century. He has seen many business changes in his time.

The automobile business in Kingston is keen. Many new machines are being added to the long list of those owned here and not a few have exchanged or sold old autos for new ones.

"I thought I would have a ton of coal over to start next winter with," said a citizen. "Instead of that the weather has compelled me to invest a handful of bucks in an additional ton."

We will rent you a piano, and at end of six months if you feel like purchasing instrument we will allow the six months rental on purchase price, and arrange easy terms on balance, C. W. Lindsay.

A citizen recalled to the Whig, on Saturday, that it was just a year ago Monday (April 19th), the girl street car conductors finished their work in Kingston and he added: "And how we miss them too."

The loss of Waldron's dry goods house will be seriously felt. They conducted an up-to-date establishment and the firm and staff were extremely obliging and painstaking. The Messrs. Waldron were adepts in business.

Thomas Jordan, son of Prof. Jordan, Barrie street, has returned from Toronto. While in that city he attended a session of the Ontario legislature. He was impressed with the way that the farmer members attended the meetings.

WAS RESURRECTED AT HEARING OF MUSKRAT CASE

A Baron Once Owned One-Third of the Island—Two-Thirds of Island Church and Crown Reserves.

In connection with the Wolfe Island muskrat case heard at the court house on Thursday, many interesting things were brought out in the evidence. The patent, which the late William Grant received in 1823 from the Crown, when he received one-third of Wolfe Island was read. The late William Grant, who was at the time of his death, known as Baron de Longdale, leased certain lots on Wolfe Island to farmers for a period of ninety-nine years. Since that time most of this land had been bought outright from the lessee. Some of the land was leased for periods of twenty-one years with the option of extending the lease.

Rev. J. A. Allen, who formerly preached on Wolfe Island, was a son-in-law of the baron and the late Grant's heir. The famous author was a grandson of the baron.

The other two thirds of the land on the island was church and crown reserves.

Some of the older men who reside on the island remember the time after the digging the canal that portions of the land on the south shore of the island where the canal crossed the main water, would drift out into the main stream, due to the current. On Friday one islander told the Whig he could remember Sunpoint when the old steamer Pierrepont would be the day towing acres of this floating land out into mid stream.

CANADIAN JEWISH RELIEF FUND

All next week a campaign to raise funds for the relief of millions of starving children and adults in Central and Eastern Europe will be carried on in Kingston and the United States.

Kingston is asked to aid in this humanitarian work, and on Sunday, at 3 p.m., a meeting of citizens is called at the Jewish Synagogue on Queen street.

Humanity's needs know no creed. A large attendance is desired to consider the matter. All who have compassion for those in distress are earnestly invited to attend.

Married at Cornwall

The marriage of Miss Lena Blanchard, daughter of Alexander Blanchard, Cornwall, to William Shaw, formerly of Leigh, County Lancashire, Eng., and son of Henry Shaw, Kingston, was solemnized at the Church of the Nativity, Cornwall, on Monday last by Rev. Ewen McDonald. Only the immediate friends of the young couple were present. Mr. Shaw was a member of the Canadian Siberian force, and saw service in that country, returning to Canada last fall. That the young couple may have a life filled with happiness and prosperity is the sincere wish of many friends. They will reside in Cornwall.

FARM WAGES NOT ENOUGH

Scotch Farm Hands Who Came Here Prefer Laboring Work—Outside Places Ask For Laborers.

Allan Stroud, local agent for the Ontario Employment Bureau, when speaking to the Whig stated that many "out-of-town firms are asking for men to work in their plants but so far he has been unable to get any local men to leave the city to accept these positions. The local men realize that it will be only a short time until the Locomotive Works and other plants take on more men and are not anxious to leave.

Mr. Stroud said that the Dufferin Construction Company which has the contract to do some construction work on the Kingston-Gananoque road about five miles from the city are anxious to get men. They are paying good wages.

Many farmers are applying for help but they cannot get sufficient men. During the past week a number of men and their wives arrived from Scotland. They came to Canada with the idea of going on the farms. When speaking to the local agent they stated that they could not afford to go and work on the farms for $50 a month, free house and milk, and for that reason, would sooner do laboring work. Before leaving the old land they stated that they were told by the authorities that farmers were paying $75 to $100 a month with free house and milk. One of the men applied at the local labor bureau and when informed of the wages paid said that he would sooner do construction work for $3 a day and his keep.
