"If Off Your Route It Pays To Walk"

Theatrical

At the Grand.
 "The Right to Happiness," the wonderful Universal Jewel production now running at the Grand will have its last showing tonight. This photoplay is one of the strongest ever produced on the screen and has for its star the foremost emotional actress of the screen, Dorothy Phillips. The plot runs the gamut of human emotions, love, hate, revenge, and is the most powerful play ever turned out by the director, Allen Holubar, who has directed most of the large productions for the Universal. The star is supported by an unusual cast of players, some five thousand being used. Cities were built and burned for this picture, and the famous moon scene is without equal in motion picture history. The play is a timely one dealing with the unrest that is prevalent through out the country today, and offers the only sane solution to the problem. There are reels of excellent comedy and a splendid musical programme by the Grand's augmented orchestra which completes the bill seen for the last time tonight.—Advt.

Coming to the Grand.
 "The Great Air Robbery" is the title of the super feature coming to the Grand the first three days of the coming week, and it has for its star the world famous aviator, Lieut. O. L. Locklear, who startled the whole world by his remarkable feats in mid air. In this picture Locklear jumps from aeroplane to aeroplane 5,000 feet from the earth, and in fact walks all over an aeroplane as though he was walking along the street. The fight between a gang of air pirates who have robbed the United States Air Mail and the pursuing plane is just one of the thrilling incidents in this play. Charming Francella Billington plays opposite the star and the picture on the whole is a triumph of motion picture magic. There will be another feature of note, "The Road to Divorce" with Mary MacLaren as the star. The picture is directed by Philip Rosen the man who filmed the "Miracle Man," and is a great lesson brought home by the appealing story. A splendid musical programme by the Grand's augmented orchestra will complete this bill.—Advt.

"The Revelations of a Wife."
 Written as a successor to those mystery plays now playing New York, namely "The Invisible Foe," "The Woman in Room Thirteen," "Three Faces East," "The Unknown Purple," "The Crimson Alibi At Nine Forty-Five," etc. "The Revelations of a Wife" looks like a worthy one. It contains everything that goes to make a much wanted modern play of mystery. A strong well written and produced play with an unusual bright vein of comedy. It is as perfect a performance as one can ever hope to see; a play that requires intelligent people to interpret it. It is life—real life—modern, yet mystifying, with a delightful vein of real comedy. This remarkable play will be presented at the Grand Opera House for three days starting Thursday, April 23rd, with daily matinees for ladies only. Nights for everybody over sixteen.—Advt.

At Griffin's.
 Tonight will be the last chance to see Bert Lytell in "Lombardi Limited" his new picture which has proven so popular with Griffin audiences during the past two days. "Lombardi Limited" is a smart comedy drama, taken from the successful stage play of the same name, and has been made into a screen comedy of entrancing qualities, with a production of lavish beauty personally supervised by Maxwell Karger. It is the story of an eccentric male modiste, a designer of gowns for the smart set of Fifth Avenue. The atmosphere is one of artistic luxury, and there are beautiful girls galore. It is a beautiful fashion shown an absorbing love story, and a revelation in beautiful womanhood, whimsicalities and an occasional heart tug. Don't miss this picture tonight, and the balance of a most interesting programme, which is shown along with it.—Advt.

At the Strand.
 The familiar story of the country girl who aspires to be a great artist is given a brand new twist in "Luck in Pawn," Marguerite Clark's latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, which will be the attraction at the Strand Theatre for three days, commencing Monday next. Generally in fiction the aspiring heroine wins immortal fame with a masterpiece just as she is about to succumb to starvation. "Luck in Pawn" treats the situation in a much more true-to-life and pleasant manner. Annabel Lee, the pretty heroine, played by Miss Clark, is a country girl whose mother has paid for her art training by considerable sacrifice. Annabel is informed by a noted painter that her talent is infinitesimal, and is feeling pretty blue when a bored young millionaire, attracted by her unaffected clothes and ingenuous manner, strikes up an acquaintance with her. The pretty love story that follows, with its rather startling ending, is said to furnish a thoroughly entertaining comedy picture in Miss Clark's best manner. Charles Meredith heads a capable supporting cast, which includes Leota Lorraine, Richard Wayne, and John Stopping. Walter Edwards was the director.

In addition to the above splendid feature, the Strand concert orchestra will render another fine musical programme, and Bert Caldwell will be heard in two musical hits, "Good-bye, My Love, Good-bye" and "Bye-bye" with beautiful illustrated slides.—Advt.

Possible Medical Officers.
 A meeting of the district medical officers was held Saturday morning to take up the appointments of officers to No. 1 Field Ambulance, No. 3 Sanitary section and No. 7 General Hospital. It is understood that Lt.-Col. W. T. Connell, of Queen's University has been recommended as officer commanding No. 7 general hospital, and Major Thomas Little, also of Queen's, is recommended as head of the sanitary section. These are new units created in the reorganization.

The work of rebuilding the Deseronto town hall, which was gutted by fire on March 1st, has begun.

GRABBED THE MONEY POLICE WERE CALLED

To Settle Dispute in Local Bar Room On Friday.

A thirsty one caused a heap of excitement in the bar room at the Randolph hotel on Friday afternoon. It appears that he had purchased three drinks, and handed the bartender a ten dollar bill to cover the fifteen cents worth of beer he had consumed. The bartender placed the change, $9.85, on the bar, and was about to take in the ten spot when the customer grabbed all the money, and when requested to give up the ten spot, he refused to do so, and all the coaxing and threats made would not make him budge.

Finally a call was sent to the police station. Constables "Nick" Timmerman and Leslie Armstrong appeared on the scene, and after the case was explained to the officers, the latter ordered him to give up the money. Still he refused.

"Come across with the money or down to the police station you go," remarked Constable Timmerman.

The fellow at the bar did not like the idea of a trip down to the police station, and he gave up the money, and the matter was allowed to drop.

THE STEAMER JESKA IN A BIG ICE DRIVE

Cleared On Friday Night on Her Second Trip to Oswego.

The steamer Jeska cleared on her second trip to Oswego, on Friday night, after discharging a coal cargo at Seward's wharf.

Capt. James Kirkwood, in command of the vessel, says that on his first trip across the lake he encountered miles of ice, the heaviest being the largest he had ever seen at this season of the year in the lake. Most of the ice the Jeska plowed through, was from two to three feet thick. Going up the lake, on the north shore, Capt. Kirkwood dodged the heaviest of the ice which is at the foot of the lake.

The steamers Keyport, Keynor, and Yorkton, have cleared for the Welland canal.

The tug Thompson cleared with the barges Hilda and Hamilton, to load coal at Oswego.

Water will be run into the Rideau canal on April 29th, it is expected the canal will be open for water communication on May 1st.
