ICE CREAM INVESTIGATION

Yankees Do Not Like Paying 17

Cents a Plate. New York, April 27.-Retailing of the humble but necessary ice cream at 17 cents a plate has aroused the ire of the American public and set on foot an investigation by the "Flying Squadron" of the U.S. Department of Justice, which is hunting down price gougers in New York. A. W. Riley, director of the squad, has ruled that in the United States ice cream is a food, and not one of those luxurles that can be done without by wearing overalls. Profiteers in ice cream are thus classified as profiteers in

Before the war ice cream retailed at five to ten cents a plate, depending on the elegance of the shop vending are now charging $1.20 a quart for our per in it. In larger quantities, some dealers for 40 cents, Mr. Riley says he will invoke the Lever Act under which the U. S. District Attorney has authority to institute criminal proceedings. The charge is freely made that prohibition has whetted the public appetite for sweets, and that the ice cream manufacturers have taken advantage of the increased demand for their product to boost prices. The latest development is that a big ice cream corporation is starting a lobby at Washington to obstruct the campaign of the "Flying Squadron" against ice cream H.C.L.
