

In the Realm of Women--Some Interesting Features

Paris Fashions In False Teeth

Paris, Mar. 8.—We may safely predict for the coming season that styles in artificial teeth will include their being worn snug-fitting and smoothly finished in place by means of the dental plate comfort-powder Corega, procurable at drug stores and dental dealers.

This antiseptic adhesive powder gives a pleasing sense of security to wearers of false teeth. It allows complete mastication of foods with ease, relaxes facial muscles and prevents sore gums.—Adv.

Oriental Cream

That captive fish, properly fed and cared for, may live a good many years in apparent contentment, is indicated by the records of the New York Aquarium. A pair of gar pike won the longevity contest with more than twenty years apiece, closely pursued by a channel bass with nineteen years. A bowfin, better known as a fresh water dogfish, was a tenant for eighteen years. Extremely active and wide-ranging fish, like mackerel and herring, on the other hand, cannot be kept alive very long. Many fish die from apparently insignificant injuries inflicted in their capture.

A MOMENTOUS DECISION

"What has my stupid brother been doing now?" asked Alice again.

"He has asked me to send him the key to my safety deposit box so that he can get that pin he gave me and have the stone reset, although he knows I sold it to you. He says that he has noticed that I have not been wearing it and that he suspects that I do not like the setting."

Alice laughed so hard that she became almost hysterical but when she could get her breath she said: "Well, I always knew John was stupid but I really did not think he was as dense as that."

"John doesn't know that I overheard you telling him that I had already sold you the pin and he probably thinks he is doing a very clever thing and will bring me to some explanation as to why I haven't it."

"Do you know what he thinks you will do," said Alice suddenly.

"No. What?"

"He imagines that you will buy the pin back from me rather than tell him what you did with it."

"I shall do nothing of the kind," I replied making a quick decision.

"What will you do then?"

To Explain it All

"I shall take this occasion to explain the whole matter to him. I think he should know to what straits I was driven just before I went to Atlantic City."

As I said these words I realized that I never would have dared to tell John about the pin if I did not know

Mr. T. G. Smith and W. F. Smith, who have been in Pasadena, Calif., for the past year are expected back about the 5th of May, and will be with Mrs. Smith's son, Rankin, at 58 Wellington street.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Holland and daughter, Catherine Kingston, were the guests of Mrs. W. C. Stratton, Deseronto during the past week.

Rev. Father Kelly, Smith's Falls, will sail on May 7th from Quebec for Ireland, where he will spend a couple of months.

Mrs. Gilbert Johnson and Mrs. Sadler, Montreal, who have been guests of Mrs. R. J. McKelvey, Bagot street, for the past week, returned home today.

Mrs. Norman Gowzaki, Montreal was hostess on Friday evening at dinner for Mrs. Hughes, Ottawa, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Gowzaki.

Able to Earn a Living

"That is probably the reason many of our mothers and grandmothers rest under stone tablets upon which is inscribed 'Devoted wife of—etc., etc.' For many women of the old order of things marriage was just a way of earning their daily bread, but, thank heaven, today most women are able to earn an honest living without the aid of a husband."

"I told this to Alice and she remarked, 'That is all very well, my dear, but when there are children I think another factor enters.'"

"Perhaps," I answered, "but I have determined on one thing: I am going to tell John all about that diamond pin. Once more I am going to try to make him understand to what his penuriousness has brought me. Once more I am going to try and make him realize that his way of treating me in women matters is one of the reasons for our unhappiness."

"I don't think John is unhappy," said Alice.

"I do," I answered. "I am almost sure he is unhappy. Certainly he is very restless or he would not be travelling around with Elizabeth Moreland seeking for a moment of forgetfulness."

"But could he not have that forgetfulness with you?" asked Alice.

"No, dear, I do not think he could, because when he is with me all the little annoyances that he remembers in connection with his life with me come up before him. He wants to get away. He knows that he has done wrong and he wants to get away from the thought of it."

Easy Thing for John

Alice sighed. "I think perhaps that I should be in sympathy with John, but, dear, it seems to me such an easy thing for him to make you happy if he would only realize the sensitiveness of your nerves that you play fast and loose with you all the time."

"He is evidently playing fast with me now," I said, indicating the roses, "but I wonder if these flowers would have come if he had gone back with my power of attorney in his pocket instead of knowing that all this money that has been left to me is still under my own control."

"Well I think you have done right," said Alice reluctantly as she rose to go.

"I started to my feet," she said, "then you will not come to see Ruth with me?"

"No, I am going to write my letter to John and say good-by—and everything grew black and, as if from a far distance, I heard Alice's excited exclamation.

FOR THE WINDOWS AND BEDS

Simple Curtains and Quilts Add to the Beauty and Cheerfulness of the Home.

Unbleached cotton makes pretty curtains and bedspreads.

Two widths of the fabric can be used for a double-size bedspread, and one-half for valance. This may be made plain or gathered. Bands may be sewed on the lower edge of valance, and also on the seams. Pillow shams trimmed to match are attractive.

There is nothing very new in plain white scrim curtains, but trim them with pink, blue, green or yellow block gingham, and you will have unusually pretty draperies.

The same idea carried out in bureau scarfs is very good.

Linon-colored crash banded with chambray make very pretty dining-room draperies.

When hemming curtains pull several threads, just as is done for hemstitching. This will make it easier to cut and hem them evenly.

It must be borne in mind that in order to obtain artistic and restful rooms plain colored or bordered curtains should be used with figured wallpaper (especially large designs). On the other hand large-figured draperies can be used very effectively with plain wall covering.

Fruity Little Ruches.

Lots of ruffles are being used on the frilly type of frock, for they seem to go so well with taffeta, and one frock not only stiffened its tulle skirt and flowing sleeves with tiny ruches of taffeta, but tufted the skirt quite closely with tiny rosettes of the same.

Income tax continues to be as popular with the taxes in this country and the United States as hair oil in salad. There are "men who prefer any load of infamy, however great, to any pressure of taxation, however light."

Don't you, sometimes long for the old-fashioned food that wasn't wholesome, nights that weren't lonesome, and even the twelve-hour day with the eight-hour pay?

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Roblin and daughters, Betty and Jean, have left for Belleville to reside.

Mrs. W. St. Pierre Hughes is in Montreal to spend a short time with her daughter, Mrs. John Gowzaki.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. C. Pelletier, Brock street, left on Thursday morning for Quebec city, where they will in future reside.

On April 29th in St. John's Church, Lakefield, the wedding was solemnized of Helen Winifred, daughter of Rev. A. W. and Mrs. MacKenzie, to Archibald Lampman, son of the late Archibald Lampman, whose poetical works are well known throughout Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fowler, Glenburnie, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Marion E., to A. C. Hanley, B.Sc., son of the late T. A. Hanley and Mrs. Hanley, Wellington street, Kingston. The wedding is to take place quietly this month.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hambly, Napanee, announce the engagement of their daughter, Vivian, to Dr. K. E. Hollis, Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hollis, Hamilton, Bermuda. The marriage is to take place quietly the last of May.

"A skin you love to touch"

You, too, can have this charm

No matter what other charms you have, they count for little unless you have the greatest of all charms—a clear, fresh skin.

An authority on the skin has said: "Whatever your difficulty is, you can remedy the trouble, if you will only give your skin intelligent care and attention."

The following treatment brings the blood to the surface and stimulates the small muscular fibres. Begin it tonight and see how it will improve your skin.

Just before retiring, wash your face and neck with plenty of Woodbury's Facial Soap and warm water. After rinsing your face with warm water, rub a fresh lather of Woodbury's into your skin, using an upward and outward motion. Do this until the skin feels just a little sensitive. Then rinse the skin well in warm water, then in cold, finishing by rubbing for thirty seconds with a piece of ice. Always be careful to dry the skin thoroughly.

Make this treatment a regular habit, and in a much shorter time than you would imagine, your skin will take on the greater loveliness that it can have.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.
