Theatrical

"Seventeen" at the Grand. Stuart Walker's production of Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen" comes direct from a year's run in New York, Boston and Philadelphia to the Grand Opera House to-night. The play is a dramatic version of Tarkington's Willie Baxter stories and might well be called a comedy of "Clothes and the Girl," for it deals with the attitude of a seventeen-year-old boy toward these important matters. With rare skill Mr. Walker has transferred the Tarkington story to the stage, giving all the bubbling spirit of "youth and love and summer-time" by a delightful cast of young people. Elizabeth Black brings to life the ten-year-old villain, Jane, and Lael Davis has made the fluff "baby talk lady," Lola Pratt, the talk of all who have seen "Seventeen." Judith Lowry upholds the banner of the grown-ups in the cast by her portrayal of Willie's and Jane's much-tried mother; Louis John Bartels as Genesis, the household servant; Aldrich Bowker as Mr. Baxter; William Belfont as the harassed Mr. Parcher, and a host of lively young people complete the cast.—Advt.

"Pollyanna" Coming. Not in years has so much genuine heart interest centred in an American book or play as is now directed toward "Pollyanna," which comes to the Grand Opera House on Friday and Saturday, May 7th-8th, with a special matinee on Saturday, with an excellent cast assembled by the Pollyanna Producing Company.

The play goes with the spirit of glad philosophy. Pollyanna, a young girl, the orphaned daughter of a western missionary, has gone to live with a crusty maiden aunt in the city. The aunt did not desire her, but through her persistence in playing what she calls "the glad game," Pollyanna not only won the heart of her aunt, but transformed all the grouches of the town. "The glad game" is simple. The player simply tries to be glad over everything; it matters not what happens.—Advt.

"Red Riding Hood" Coming. "Little Red Riding Hood," the fourth of a series of English pantomimes imported to this country by F. Stuart-Whyte, the noted British author-manager, will be the offering at the Grand Opera House on Monday and Tuesday, May 10th and 11th with a special matinee on Tuesday. Mr. Whyte has established a reputation for gorgeous musical shows that has placed his offerings in a class by themselves.

This has been made possible largely by his being on the ground during the demobilization of the imperial troops and soldiers workers, this summer in London. Desire on the part of many former pantomime artists to see the country which sent such wonderful fighting men overseas, helped greatly in getting their signatures on the contracts for an extended tour of Canada and the United States.—Advt.

At Griffin's. Owing to the unprecedented rush for seats to see "The End of the Road" during the first three days of this week, the management of Griffin's Theatre announces that this remarkable picture will be shown Thursday, Friday and Saturday, matinee and evening, purely for the benefit of the large number of patrons who have been unable to see it. This wonderful picture, while entertaining to the highest degree by reason of its elaborate setting and the superb acting of the beautiful Claire Adams and Richard Bennett, supported by a star cast, fulfills all that was expected of it as a medium for educating the public respecting the greatest curse that rests upon the human race to-day. It has the endorsement of United States Public Health Service, and was produced originally for the War Department Commission. Nowhere else can men and women get so deep an insight into the great problem of venereal diseases that are casting a blight upon the health and happiness of humanity, irrespective of wealth, station or condition. It is a subject full of tremendous importance to everyone, and shows in a most realistic way the criminal folly of "treading the primrose path" that leads to despair and death. It bears, too, a message to mothers, fathers, daughters, sons—a message of the hour that none can afford not to hear without pursuing the path of blind ignorance that is full of pitfalls for all.—Advt.

At the Strand. A motion picture that ranks with the most beautifully and extravagantly screened spectacles of all times, will be shown at the Strand Theatre to-night when "Everywoman" will be shown. No expenditure of artistic effort or money has been spared in making the film version of this famous allegorical play pleasing to the eye and the cast has been selected in thorough accord with the magnificent setting. Violet Heming, the beautiful screen and stage actress, is Everywoman, and the company includes Theodore Roberts, Wanda Hawley, Monte Blue, Raymond Hattan, Bebe Daniels, Mildred Reardon, and Margaret Loomis.

One of the greatest sporting and social events in England in fact in the world, is the British Grand National Steeplechase race. The revival of this turf classic after the war brought on the finest field of runners that any course has seen.

So great was the interest in this year's Grand National that the exclusive motion picture rights were purchased by the Barker Co., and the pictures obtained will be distributed exclusively in Canada through the Specialty Film Import Limited, as agents for the Anglo-Canadian Pictures Plays, Ltd., who control Canadian rights.

Nearly 200,000 people are on the course, and among the crowd are kings, queens and presidents. The film is 1,000 feet in length and constitutes one of the most exciting racing films ever produced. This turf classic should be seen by every man and woman and will be seen at the Strand Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.—Advt.

Horace Wallis, secretary to Premier Drury, is to be given the rank of deputy minister.

LADS PLAYED "HOOKEY"

ONE WILL BE GIVEN TASTE OF CAT-O'-NINE TAILS.

Lads Arraigned in Juvenile Court For Staying Away From Their Studies—One Boy Gave His Father the "Slip."

School days, school days, Dear old golden rule days, Reading and writing and arithmetic Taught to the tune of a hickory stick. Boys who play "hookey" from school will not get the old-fashioned hickory stick, but will get a taste of the up-to-date cat o' nine tails at the hands of the police.

Three youngsters, who got tired of their studies and started in to be their own boss, were arraigned before Magistrate Farrell, in the juvenile court, on Thursday morning. Another lad should have been present, but he managed to give his father the "slip" while the two were on their way down to the session of the court.

It happened in this way. The father had to go into a store to see about a hat he wanted to have cleaned. As he was explaining to the man behind the counter what he wanted done, the boy was at his side, but as the father turned his back for a second, the youngster bolted for the door, and up till the time of the hearing of the case had not been located. He will be brought before the magistrate just as soon as he is corralled. He is a lad who has given his parents a great deal of trouble.

In regard to the three who were before the court, the magistrate remanded two until called on, and in the other case ordered that the lad be given the cat-o'-nine tails.

HAD YEAR OF PROSPERITY

Reports Presented For Ladies' Aid of Princess Street Church.

The annual meeting of Princess Street Methodist Church Ladies' Aid, was held on Tuesday afternoon. Reports were read from the various departments of the Society, and showed the society had enjoyed a year of prosperity. The receipts totalled $374, with a balance of $127. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year:

President, Miss Mary Gardiner; vice-president, Mrs. I. L. Pringle; secretary treasurer, Mrs. Clifford Horne; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John Gwatkin.

A number of other committees were also appointed.

After the election of officers a social half hour was held during which Rev. J. A. Waddell delivered an address, and Mary Gardiner, on behalf of Society, presented Mrs. Horne, who had been secretary-treasurer for the past seven years, with a beautiful cut glass water set. Mrs. Horne was completely surprised, and in a few words expressed appreciation of the gift. This was followed by the presentation of a beautiful cream and sugar set, to Mary Gardiner. Mrs. John Clark read the address expressing appreciation of her work. Mrs. John Gwatkin made the presentation.

Just a Little Reminder

At the suggestion of a great many, a collection will be taken up at the nurses' graduation exercises in Grant Hall next Friday evening, for the benefit of the General Hospital. Running expenses are very high just now, and the management will appreciate a generous offering.

Seeding is far advanced in the Lindsay section, and one farmer near Millbrook has completed this work.

Mrs. R. A. Mitchell, of Wei Hwei Fu, Honan, China, will give an address in St. Andrew's Hall, on Thursday, May 6th, at 8 p.m. The meeting will be of interest to both men and women, and there will be a collection.

Dr. McCarthy, surgeon of the C. P. R., was employed all morning examining all employees of the Kingston division.
