TYRONE POWER
The eminent English actor, who returns with his excellent English company in "The Little Brother" at the Grand, on Tuesday evening, May 25th.

Theatrical

Tonight at the Grand.
The Shea Grand Opera Concert Company is the treat of the season and distinctly different from any attraction yet presented to Kingston audiences. This attraction has scored success after success in the beautiful rendition of the gems of opera. Sixtette from "Luvia De Lammermore," the "Mesererie" from "Ill Travator," the prison scene from "Fabi" calls for round after round of applause, and the artists repeatedly have to reply to encores. The first half of the programme is modern, these high priced artists singing some of your favorites in English, and musical selections are rendered by Mr. Shea, violinist, Mde. Barasoo, concert pianist, and Mde. Sauve, concert pianist. This is an engagement that the management of the Grand are highly pleased with and heartily endorse. Don't fail to see and savor this entertainment.—Advt.

Tyrone Power Coming.
Few roles enacted on the stage have made the instantaneous impression created by Tyrone Power's interpretation of the character of Father Petrovich, the powerful Russian priest, in the powerful drama of "The Little Brother," by Milton Goldsmith and Benedict James, on its initial New York production. The great success attending Mr. Power's tour last season with this play has induced the Trans-Canada Theatres Limited to present it to Canadian audiences with Tyrone Power in his original role, and he will play an engagement of one night at the Grand Opera House, on Tuesday, in this sterling drama. Tyrone Power, to-day at the very height of his career and in the full plenitude of his powers, gives a portrayal, in every way stronger and more potent than his first essay. Nothing more vital or more appealing has been known to our modern stage, is the verdict of all who have seen him in his latest impersonation of the role. Mr. Power will be supported by a company of distinguished actors, which will include Harvey Hays, J. Irving White, Walter Edwin, Harold de Becker, Robert Taber, Miss Alma Chester, Miss Chela Knight, Miss Edna Holland and others.—Advt.

"The Passion Flower."
"The Passion Flower," the remarkable Spanish drama by Jacinto Benavente in which Nance O'Neil finds her most congenial role, is the first play from the Spanish to attain the distinction of classification among the "best plays of the season" in the Broadway charts. The author, the foremost playwright of Spain, was dubious about the presentation of his masterpiece in the United States. It had been written for Maria Guerrero, the foremost emotional actress of Spain, and had won a great success through her presentation. Nance O'Neil was chosen for the role because it was believed that she, more than any actress on the American stage, could do it full justice. And the wisdom of this choice has been amply justified by the press and public approval. This play comes to the Grand Opera House, on Thursday and Friday, May 27th and 28th.—Advt.

At Griffin's.
Admirers of Tom Mix will find in his new picture, "The Daredevil," which opens an engagement at Griffin's to-day, new and unlooked for "stunts" which will win for him a new place in their hearts, and will also win many new admirers for this daring young star. "The Daredevil" is the story of a "tenderfoot," who comes out in the end and shows he is anything but what the traditional tenderfoot is supposed to be, and the way he handles those smart Alces will surely make all Mix fans stand up and shout for their favorite. Along with the above, we will show a Big V. comedy entitled, "Nightie Night," which is packed with laughs, and good clean comedy of the very best. A good line of added attractions will also be shown, and the bill is sure to please our discriminating patrons.—Advt.

The situation in the far east is too unsettled to permit the withdrawal of Japanese forces from Siberia, said the imperial address read at the annual meeting of the Japanese Red Cross last week in Tokio.

OPENS A SHOE STORE

Steve J. Martin Carries "La Parisienne" Ladies' Shoe.
Steve J. Martin has opened a boot and shoe store at 189 Princess street and has laid in a stock of the finest quality of ladies', men's and children's boots and shoes that are to be obtained at all prices, for Mr. Martin aims to please everyone. In "La Parisienne," the finest ladies' shoe, and for which Mr. Martin has the exclusive agency, is to be found the most charming elegant and velvet-fitting shoe that is on the market today. Every line pleases, but it has that something which is different and claims the attention of the most fastidious. This shoe is made in Canada and holds its place in competition with every make placed on the market.

Mr. Martin was in the civil service when the war came in 1914, and he volunteered for overseas in the C.E.F. He returned to Canada after a period of splendid service, in 1917, and was engaged on the staff of Lt.-Col. R. D. Street, under the M.S.A., and upon demobilization he was in charge of the Catholic Army Huts here. Mr. Martin is peculiarly qualified for the line of business he has opened and will give the public the best service.

The Symphony Orchestra.
It is only once in the season that the citizens of Kingston have the opportunity to hear a grand concert by the Kingston Symphony Orchestra, composed of over fifty of our best artists. All lovers of good music should not lose sight of Wednesday, May 26th, at the Grand Opera House. Secure your seats at the box office.
