Fines Were Paid.
The two automobile owners who were found guilty of speeding and the man who got touched $10 for being under the influence of liquor, paid their fines.

Placed Five Men.
On Friday, Allan Stroud, the local government employment agent, placed five men in positions at Belleville. The men were working on the construction work out near Westbrook, but evidently did not like the work.

Now for a Change.
Warm weather is here, and now is the time to secure men's lightweight underwear in balbriggan or natural wool, at $1.50 to $2.50 per suit; also union suits in white or cream at above prices. Prevost clothing house, Brock street.

A Brother of Con. Meredith.
John Meredith, who won the second prize in the Olympic bicycle race Thursday, in 33.50 minutes with a handicap of eight minutes is the 16-year-old brother of Con. Meredith who won seven medals and a boxing bout at the Athletic meet on May 24.

A Fence Is Needed.
Citizens who attended the circus on Thursday were surprised to find that there is very little protection along the edge of the quarry on Montreal street. It is only a miracle that some person did not tumble into the place.

Escaped From Jail.
The police have been asked to look for George Fench, who was serving two months at Ottawa on a charge of theft, and who escaped from the county jail there, Monday. Fench was to be deported following the completion of his sentence.

Edward Trotter Recovering.
Edward Trotter of Kingston Mills, who was recently injured by an accident in his milk house, and was taken to the General Hospital, is now able to be about once more. He is renewing old acquaintances in the city. Mr. Trotter is an old subscriber of the Whig.

Hugged the Elephant.
At the circus on Thursday evening citizens, who happened to be in the tent where the elephants were kept were astonished to see a man who was under the influence of liquor grab one of the elephants by the trunk. The man was gathered in by the police on the charge of drunkenness.

Sick Of Summer Time.
On the first day of summer time at Brockville, opposition has developed to the measure, through conflict with railroad operating time, and it is likely that the town council will be asked to rescind the proclamation. A group known as the Standard Time League has been formed to press the matter.

Street Traffic Well Handled.
The police are to be congratulated on the way they handled the street traffic Thursday, immediately after the circus parade. Their task was made more difficult by many drivers, who apparently knew scarcely anything about driving regulations. People should remember that the police are there to facilitate matters and the fact that no street accidents occurred shows how well they did their task.

Little Boy Drowned.
A sad drowning occurred in Southampton on Monday when Stewart Leverage, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Demmitt fell into a well and was drowned. The well was about ten feet deep with only about foot of water in it and is used for cooling the milk. The little lad had apparently been attracted by the rope hanging over the well and toppled into the opening.

Baby In a Basket.
Everybody took a look, says a Toronto despatch, when Mrs. M. McGrady, a Cree Indian woman from Lyn, near Brockville, entered the rooms of Union Station there, bearing her youngest babe in a wicker basket. Mrs. McGrady, in broken English, told the ladies of the Travelers' Aid that she had made the basket herself and that it was much easier to carry on her back than to carry the child in her arms.

Bryan-Allen Wedding.
The marriage was very quietly solemnized in Trinity Methodist church, Toronto, of Anita Gladys, daughter of the late George Herbert Allen and Mrs. Allen, formerly of Kingston, to Elmer Edward Bryan, Toronto. Dr. Towell conducted the ceremony. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Dr. J. Ross Allen, of Olean, N.Y., wore a white tulle gown trimmed with maroon lace and pleating. She wore also a mohair hat to match and carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses. Miss Vera Allen was her sister's only attendant, and Garnet Lea acted as best man. Mr.

and Mrs. Bryan left later for a wedding trip across the line, and on their return will reside at 783 Westmount avenue, Toronto.

The Late M. O. Kellogg.
With the passing of the late Martin Oran Kellogg, one of the links with past history of Canada, disappears. He was born in Canada ninety-two years ago, was of U. E. Loyalist descent and received upon the death of his father the family estate that consisted of a seigniorial in the Ottawa valley situated near L'Original. His wife, who was Lucy Clarke of Lachute, Que., predeceased him many years ago and there were no children. Of late years Mr. Kellogg resided in Kingston township. He is survived by two nephews, Harold E. Flynn and L. A. Flynn both of this city.

A Good Circus "Stunt."
The female impersonator at the circus on Thursday, pulled off a good "stunt" on a well-known young local man. As the young man was about to purchase his ticket, the supposed young lady stepped up to him and putting her hand on his shoulder said: "Please sir, would you take me in too?" "Sure thing I'll do that," was the reply, and the young man was as good as his word, instead of buying one pastebord he got two. The couple made their way into the big tent, and once inside the show the supposed lady gave the joke away, and there was much laughter from many who witnessed the incident. The young fellow who had been "stung" also took the matter good naturedly.

Prison Officials' Claim.
The officials at the Portsmouth penitentiary who were involved in the recent scandal at Kingston, claim they should not be punished for the conditions that have prevailed at the institution for a long time. They state that laxity in respect to discipline was general for some years and this was not due to subordinate officials, but to failure to appoint efficient heads. They point out that in the hospital there was no regular surgeon and the work lacked the continuity of oversight that it should have had. There were no less than six persons filling the position of warden within a period of eight years and, this, it is urged was a condition that was destructive of many years hard work in building up efficiency in a staff. The position of deputy warden, the chief disciplinary officer, was permitted to be vacant, as well as that of the chief keeper, so that there was no real executive head to the place.

NOURISHING FOOD AND GOOD HOURS
Help You to Resist Disease — Aid These With a Tonic to Keep the Blood Pure.
The power of your body to resist disease and to fight it after disease gets a foothold, is one of the most precious possessions you have. You weaken this power when you let your general health run down, your blood gets thin and your nerves unsteady.
You weaken it when you worry, when you over-work, when you do not get sufficient sleep, and when you are under-nourished, either because you do not eat the right kind of food or because your digestion is out of order.
You preserve your power to resist disease when you keep good hours and eat proper food at regular intervals. You further increase and strengthen resistance to disease when you build up your blood and nerves by the occasional use of a tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which are free from opiates and harmful drugs of any kind. The value of these pills as a health builder is fully shown by the experience of Mrs. E. C. Taylor, Hanover, Ont., who says: "As various times since I was a girl of fifteen I have proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. At that age I was in a much run down condition, suffering from many of the well known symptoms of anaemia. My mother procured a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking about a half dozen doses I was restored to normal health. Again after my marriage, and before my boy was born, I felt miserable and again took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which once more met all my expectations and fully restored my health. My latest experience with these pills was following an attack of pleurisy, which left me completely broken in health. Part of the time I was under the care of two doctors, and for three months I was practically bed-ridden. Life and death. Again at my mother's suggestion I started the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had not been taking them long before I could tell that they were helping me. Day by day I could feel my strength returning, and was soon enjoying good health once more. In view of my experience I think I can safely say there is nothing in the way of medicine better than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A FIRM WITH A HISTORY

ADMIRABLE WORK OF McCALLUM GRANITE CO. LTD.
Well-Known Local Firm Has Achieved Many Honors in the Province—Will Build R.C.H.A. Memorial in Macdonald Park.

The twentieth century has seen the rising of a new thought, a new force in the commercial world, a force which above all things will serve to raise the nation to a higher level of culture and intelligence. It is the dawn of Industrial Arts. Yesterday, so far as Canada was concerned, the creating of beauty on a progressive mercantile basis was unthought of. Today, great companies have taken up the task of amazing development and energy in the production of everything in the realm of art. The creating of cathedral windows, the extensive casting of architectural bronze, the designing of magazine covers, and the building of finer memorials both public and private all rank as later mile posts in Canada's evolution. The history of the process of this latter branch of art industries from its initial stage in the great quarries and vast mine caverns of Vermont, Quebec, Sweden and Norway is a story of amazing development. Of all the fine crafts that of carving in stone stands almost pre-dominant. The inspiration that awoke the dynamic energy of Michael Angelo is not dead. It lives in the hearts of modern sculptors. The production of memorials in granite, marble or bronze is a calling which holds its students enthralled. The artist who paints his scene is thrilled by its beauty, but the carver or designer who watches an exquisite shape, a crystallized ideal emerge from a hazy block of granite or marble feels that same wonder which is borne in on one who standing before a great memorial sees revealed as the curtain rises, one of the triumphs of the monument builders art. There is nothing which commands silent admiration like a true memorial. It is venerable, perfect, the embodiment of endurance and refinement. From the granite and marble manufacturing plants all over America today are going memorials which are awakening the admiration of the entire world. Representative of the highest standards known in America is the McCallum Granite Company, Limited, of Kingston. The original activities of this firm began in 1898, when George McCallum, a practical designer and an expert carver, opened a retail granite and marble shop in the village of Tweed. Under a very small roof this embryonic plant began its work. For one year George McCallum acted as designer, manager and workman, then under the pressure of increasing business it became necessary to introduce a second carver, this giving the founder more time to devote to the administrative end of the enterprise. Shortly after a teamster and marble polisher arrived on the scene, and the little concern became a three-man power plant. Requests that heretofore had come from only the surrounding community now began coming from the more distant towns. The yard was laid with concrete and a derrick installed, this adding much to the efficiency. The next development was the installing of pneumatic power, composed of a 7 h.p. gas engine, a small compressor and two pumps which were hauled away like mammoth bees. The shop had become known as a busy place. It had then achieved the reputation of being the largest retail business of its kind between Toronto and Montreal. Guided by the precepts "quality and fairness" this one time, one room shop developed till the town of Tweed seemed hardly large enough for its activities. In 1916 the firm became incorporated under the name "The McCallum Granite Co. Limited" and a plant was established on Princess street, of this city, its founder George McCallum becoming the first president. Here manufacturing on a larger scale was begun. Contracts came from near and far. One year ago a large consignment of finished work was sent to Port Arthur and Fort William and still more work sent to Manitoba and provinces farther west. Success is due to the fact that the McCallum Granite Co. has insisted on quality before everything else. They have in many cases lost money on contracts rather than lower their standard of workmanship. The McCallum firm has the distinction of employing some of the finest craftsmen the nation provides, men who have studied the granite and marble industry from its every phase and who have travelled over the granite centres of the globe. Backed by this organization and headed by men who are deep students of their craft, the firm has achieved many honors in the province, and the receipt of these being the receiving of the contract to build the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery Memorial in Macdonald park, this city. This work will be of the exedra type, and will bear a large bronze tablet with cast crest and names. Its length will be twenty feet and height 12 ft. The battle honors will be engraved in Roman letters. The McCallum Granite Co. has many orders on hand for large private memorials at distant points. They have one imperishable ideal, which shall have its effect on the passing world. Art is never wasted and the quiet places of our land, like Mount Pleasant, like Cataract, ought to be one of the greatest forces for the instilling of an appreciation for all things peaceful and lovely. No nation imbued with a deep love for the beautiful can wage wars of destructive conquest. Germany may have produced some art, but the Huns who blasted Rheims and Tpres never felt the thrill of admiration. Monumental art then, because it endures forever, mid snows, rain, and sunshine and stands in the city squares where the concourse may see, has its place in Canada's progressing nationhood. It is a vital factor in the making of an educated people. Behind this great ideal stands the McCallum Granite Co., entrenched and ready, with the standard firms of Toronto, Ottawa, and Montreal, to play their great part in our nation's future.

Skim milk aristocracy always tries to convey the impression that it is full cream.
