THE UTILITY GOWN

Black Velvet Draws Palm of Popularity, Writer Says.

Fabric Suitable for All Purposes From Breakfast Robe to Ball and Theater Attire.

In these days of the high cost of everything few women can afford to make a distinction between dinner gowns and evening dress. They both signify formal wear, but to persons of meticulous care in dress there is a difference. With housekeeping such a tremendous problem and the domestic question a shawl on which many households founder, the custom of dining out is becoming more and more prevalent. At the more exclusive restaurants one is not properly dressed unless in evening clothes, yet if the evening's entertainment includes the theater one's costume needs to be more reserved than if a dancing party or the opera is contemplated.

Of all the materials we have seen this season, observes a fashion writer, the palm of popularity goes to black velvet—unquestionably the fabric suitable for all purposes from breakfast to ball gown, and in the restaurants and theaters it predominates. A clever woman whom we see at every important function is not noted for her wealth nor her lavish expenditures on dress, but she is always tastefully if rather unobtrusively gowned.

At the opera one evening she appeared in a stunning gown of black silk velvet made severely plain with a round of décolletage and the skirt ankle length with a long, straight panel falling from one hip to form a side train. We remarked the costume for its extreme elegance of line and lack of adornment. A few nights later this woman came into the dining room of our most fashionable and exclusive hotel again gowned in black velvet. We noticed that the bodice was cut rather low and filled in with a shirred gilet of embroidered black net, short sleeves edged with tiny ruffles were of net and chiffon, and on one hip several flat loops of the velvet simulated the bouffant effect.

It was not until afterward that we realized that this costume was in fact the opera gown worn with a guimpe of net, and with the train looped up. Not one woman in a hundred, unless she were in the habit of scrutinizing and analyzing feminine wearing apparel, would have discovered the metamorphosed frocks. Very convincing transformations may be accomplished by a woman who is clever with her needle or who has a good dressmaker.

IN MORE TEMPERATE SHADES

Season's Colors Good and Comprise the Soft but Rich and Warm in Tone.

Absent are the glaring colors of yesterday, supplanted as they are by more temperate shades, deep and warm in tone.

This season the colors are exceedingly good. They are soft, but rich in tone. There are colors of varying shades to set off every complexion, and yellow has its butter-colored series, its old gold with a hint of green, lemon, primrose, sulphur and canary—all yellow but with that slight difference that permits the fair woman to humor her taste without sacrificing her complexion.

Gray hair is always beautiful with gray clothes. White-gray hair needs careful choice of colors between the blue-gray and yellow-gray, according to its requirements.

Evening dresses show many pastel shades and the colors of Louis Quinze brocades are in evidence. A dance dress of dull green shows many tiny frills edged with dull, brown-colored gold braid. A bouquet of bold flowers adds the finishing touch to the costume. Gold and silver, especially for dresses, are becoming more and more popular.

Patterned materials, pattern in design rather than color, are easily made up and need no trimming, but to judge of color it is necessary to have an absolute color eye. Seeing sharp or fat is responsible for the many mistakes in selection of colors, even with the abundant opportunities of the present season of mellow tones.

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES.

Keep piece of charcoal in refrigerator. Everything will keep sweet. Soaking potatoes 15 minutes in cold water before boiling makes them sweetly.

Straight hanging dresses are the most satisfactory for working about the house.

If alum is added to the paste used in covering books with paper for scrapbooks, moths or mice will not invade them.

To remove marks made by placing hot dishes on a polished table, rub well with turpentine. Leave this on for some time, say half an hour, then polish and the marks should have quite disappeared.

When the wall paper happens to need a patch and the new paper is conspicuously bright compared with the old, hang the new piece in the sunshine, watch closely, and you will find that it will soon sun-tone to match the old paper. You may then patch your wall and the patch will be hardly noticeable.

Better not harbor the idea that you can impose upon the Lord with spurious credentials.

CHIC BRAID-TRIMMED SUIT

This is a strictly American fashion in a braid-trimmed walking suit which is sure to appeal to many women.

FANS THAT WILL INTEREST

New Models Are Inspired by Egypt and Greece; Novelty From Uncurled Ostrich.

New fans are made of egret and paradise. These only the European may enjoy, as the bird law of America prevents their import. For export trade eagle and vulture plumes are being shown. In the effort to provide something new and interesting models are being brought out in striped ostrich, which closely imitates egret and egret. The square Egyptian and the pointed Greek forms are being much used.

A novelty fan in East Indian design is made from uncurled ostrich. The delicate fronds springing from a ring of tortoise shell, which serves in place of sticks. The fronds fall in a graceful one-side sweep. The stock of the fan is of tortoise shell and from the shell ring falls a long silken tassel.

Another takes its inspiration from the fans of the ancient Egyptian beauties. This one, in the form of a square, is developed in imitation egret, made of ostrich feathers and mounted on shell sticks.

Pure white egret feathers make still another new fan of Greek design. To be in keeping with the feathers of this superb bird the sticks are of onyx, set with pearls and diamonds, and the fan is carried on a platinum chain.

INES LONGER, WAIST LOWER

Method Most Often Employed in Draping of Sash Low About the Hips.

In all of the new clothes prepared for this spring the carrying out of longer lines appears. This is done in various ways. Perhaps the method most often employed is the draping of a sash low about the hips. This low tied sash is the favorite method of giving the straight chemise dress—which still remains in fashion—the low waistline appearance. It is only necessary to tie a softly draped piece of material about a last year's chemise frock to place it in the front rank of this spring's fashions.

For those who wish to economize, this really offers an excellent opportunity. Each woman may satisfy her own taste in the manner of tying her sash. It may be at the side or in the back; some of them even tie in small bows at the front. There is just as much leeway, too, in the size and length of these sashes, which may be puffy bows with ends that are little longer than the loops themselves, or the ends may be very long, in some instances hanging below the bottom of the skirt. Fastening wide sashes on chemise dresses is a decided departure from the narrow string belts, that have girdled the chemise frock heretofore.

The Old Bertha Returns.
As she looks over the offerings one finds a low and then an old familiar note. For instance, one frequently sees lace berthas. They sometimes appear on lingerie dresses, lace ones especially. (Really, lace frocks are threatening the gorgon's onset!) On one charming frock of pink crepe de chine there was featured the lace berthas in val lace. To complete the picture of which it was a part when last it was in our midst, padded sleeves and a full skirt appeared with it. And there was a sash, too. It was of the old double-bow variety.

Ribbon on Lingerie.
Two-toned and flowered ribbon is to be seen on many new pieces of lingerie and on sets described as suitable for the bridal trousseau.

Porto Rican Blouses.
Porto Rican blouses are in high favor.

Automobiles are getting so common that few of us envy the man who rides in one.

Player Pianos

HERE are many makes of Player-Pianos on the market; claims are made for each as the best. We do not claim that the Lindsay Player-Piano is the best of all Canadian-made Player-Pianos. There are a few better Player-Pianos which are being sold at much higher prices, but there are many inferior Player-Pianos which are being sold at the same prices as the Lindsay.

THE Lindsay Player-Piano dollar for dollar is the biggest value on the Canadian market to-day, bar none. That's our claim, and we will be very pleased if you will give us the opportunity to prove our claim before you decide which Player-Piano to buy.

OUR representatives will gladly show you the various models of Lindsay Player-Pianos in stock. Arrangements can be made to apply the value of your old instrument as part payment on your purchase, the remainder being payable by easy instalments. Ask or write for illustrated catalogue of Lindsay Pianos and Player-Pianos.

Edison Goods Unaffected By Tax

The present selling prices of THE NEW EDISON and Records will not be changed by the new tax lately imposed on Phonographs. On these lines the dealers have already been paying a war tax of 7 1/2%, also an excise tax of 10%, both of which were abolished when the new tax became effective. That made only an additional tax of 2 1/2%, part of which has been assumed by the wholesaler and part by the Greene Music Company, leaving

Edison Prices the Same as before

This applies to both instruments and records, and our large circle of customers will be pleased to know that they can buy their favorite phonographs and records for their usual prices without an increase on the prices that prevailed for the past few months.

We would like to demonstrate a New Edison for you, either in our comfortable special demonstration parlors, or in your own home.

We sell at an unchanged scale of prices, and give you time accommodation to pay for it if desired.
