

In the Realm of Women--Some Interesting Features

New life—
new freshness—
with LUX

The daintier the garment the more delighted you will be with the refreshing, renewing qualities of the LUX bath.

For washing the finest pastel-tinted Georgette, Crepe or Silk blouse, sheerest silk stockings, etc., use the foamy, cleansing free LUX lather.

There is nothing like LUX. No substitute for it. The matchless purity of these satiny wafers of the finest essence of soap can harm nothing that pure water itself may touch.

LUX is sold at all grocers departmental stores, etc.

A handy little recipe book, "The Care of Dainty Clothes" is gladly sent free on request.

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED
TORONTO

LUX

Take a Supply of Borden's
on Your Camping Trip

THERE'S nothing that makes camp cooking so really delicious as a plentiful supply of good, fresh milk.

Borden's

ST. CHARLES BRAND
EVAPORATED MILK
with the cream left in pure, rich, country milk with the cream left in is just what you want on the camping trip.

Wherever you use fresh milk, Borden's Evaporated Milk will surely please.

Grocers all over Canada will supply you.

Don't ask for milk—say "BORDEN'S"

THE BORDEN COMPANY, LIMITED
MONTREAL, P. Q.

W. P. PETERS

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

Flour, Feed and Seeds

Wholesale Warehouse, foot of Princess St.

Phone 51.

Retail Store, 117 Brock St. Phone 217

Miss Frances Eleanor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hollon, was married at Hamilton, on Tuesday, to Major William Ian Strathairn Hendrie, D.S.O., only son of former Lieut.

Governor of Ontario, Sir John S. Hendrie and Lady Hendrie. The U. S. government melted $8,000,000 silver dollars into billion in 1915.

LOVE and MARRIED LIFE

by the noted author
Idah McGlone Gibson

Charles' Request.
Tears of gratitude filled my eyes. This splendid request, added to the home which—mother had left me and the little $150 a month income, would make it impossible for any man to make Mary as unhappy over money matters as John had made me. I wondered what John would think about it. And then I smiled to myself because I understood that however he might feel about Charles giving it to Mary, the thought of having an extra $25,000 in the family would make him good-natured. It was not true, however, that I would tell him, and then the thought came to me how far I had gone along the road since the time I thought I must tell my husband everything. When I first married there was no matter of conduct—myself or the house—that I did not want to consult John about, and then I found that he never gave me any constructive advice whatever, that he either found fault with me or was bored, consequently I decided to tell John very little.

Grows Tired of Thinking.
I grew tired of thinking about it all and decided that I would never again cross a bridge until I came to it. One by one my experiences were making me philosophical and teaching me that impulse and emotion could not be the only motives in life.

The nurse came forward and I turned a little impatiently—not from my baby, but from my thoughts. She gently lifted the tiny form and put her in the darling bassinet which Helen had sent me. I then turned to the letter—the thick letter which I was still holding in my hand. "Shall I open it for you?" asked the nurse.

"If you please," I answered. She ran the paper knife through the flap and handed it to me. With a curious, pleasurable feeling I drew the thick folded pages from the envelope—the letter I had seen written in my waking dream some time before.

"I know, my dear Katharine," the letter began, "that it is folly—utter folly—for me to spend this interval in my life as I am doing now. Truly I think I could label it as Mary Roberts Rinehart has one of her stories—'The Amazing Interlude'—for it is amazing that I, Karl Shepard, can leave behind all thought of business

—all thought of other friends—all thought of anything in my life—and stay out here in the solitude living to the utmost what must always be nothing but a dream. It is night, my dear, and the wind that scarcely shakes the flapping sails is like a solid, heated wall.

Sheeted, Mysterious Forms.
"As I drift along past the city I have a hazy vision of sheeted, mysterious forms, huddled together here and there against vague habitations, while overhead the dark palms creak and moan as they brush their branches against the pale, unhappy moon. Over there comes into view the square minaret of a queer old mosque, and I can almost hear the mournful call of the pigeons resting on the leaves. "Since I saw you last, dear Katharine, I have had much time to think of you—nothing else has seemed to matter. Nothing seems real to me—rather I feel as though I were the only living thing in a palatial world wherein disports a queer kind of marionettes, like gnats in a sunbeam.

"During the day in this far-off land I see through half-shut eyes within the myias gloom of deep set arches where sits the ever present mendicant—chanting, chanting his wailing cry for alms. Here and there mid splashes of almost blinding light and through amber shadows, under brilliant canopies, one gets a glimpse of rugs like bits of ruby glass-like opals—pink, purple, blue—gleaming in the sun.

Odors Are Indescribable.
"The odors are indescribable. The taint of sweating camels; the bitter tangling smell of coffee and the clinging oriental scent of coriander assail the nostrils with a something almost visible. All seem to add to the pitiless heat and accentuate my gaunt loneliness.

"I do not know just why I am staying here, my dear Katharine, unless it is that when at last the sky clamps down its purple spangled lid upon this scorching great brass bowl filled with squirming, creeping, restless, bits of Hotsam and jetsam. I close my eyes and then—can you believe it—I am with you. I see your face; I look into your eyes—I feel your very presence, although you are at the other end of the earth. What madness this is—what utter madness!"
To-morrow—Karl's surprising letter.

Told in Twilight

(Continued From Page 3.)
"Sir Frederick and Lady Orr Lewis, Montreal and London, gave a ball at Aldford House, London, on May 20th, for the debut of their daughter, Miss Helen Orr Lewis. The hostess was wearing a black charmeuse gown and a double row of pearls, and diamond tiara. Her daughter received with her, dressed in white satin and lace garlanded with roses and holding a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The walls of the hall-rooms were draped with mist grey silk, and the approach to it was through a grotto of early spring flowers among which little fountains played. The tables in the supper room were decorated with iris. The roof garden was used for sitting out. About three hundred guests attended.

Dr. and Mrs. D. D. MacDonald, Alexandria, announce the engagement of their daughter, Bertha Evelyn, to Charles H. Kerr, of Calgary, late of the 43rd Battalion, and son of Mrs. H. J. P. Kerr, of Avondale, Carlingford, County Louth, Ireland. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McCann, Kingston, were the guests of Miss Effie Riply, Westport, over the week-end. Dr. and Mrs. Meyers are at Rochester spending a couple of weeks. On their return they will spend the summer in Napanee.

Miss Margaret Gordon, niece of Sir Charles Gordon, and Miss Kathleen Rosamond will be among Montreal girls attending the Royal Military College ball on June 21st. Miss Annie Gow, Edmonton, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Gow, Union street, and has gone on to St. Agathe, Que.

Glorious Relief!

Corns, Callouses, Foot Lumps Go

You'll feel like a kid again, you'll be tickled to death at the painless, quick removal of all your corns once you paint on Putnam's Extractor. Do it to-day! Dealers everywhere have been selling this safe, dependable and sure remedy for nearly fifty years. Only costs a quarter. Does the trick every time. Putnam's Corn Extractor was the first corn remover on the market, has to-day the largest sale, and simply because it's by long odds the best.

WILSON'S

FLY PADS

Kill them all, and the germs too. 10c a packet at Druggists, Grocers and General Stores.

to remain a month in the hospital there as a dietician. Mrs. Leadbeater, Barrie street, has returned from Toronto, where she was visiting Dr. and Mrs. Dennis Jordan. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Renton and sons, University avenue, will leave at the end of the week to summer in their cottage at "Glen Logie," on the St. Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Molson and Miss Louise Molson, Montreal, are coming to Kingston to attend the marriage of the former's son, John Henry Molson, to Miss Florence Hazel Brown, which takes place soon. Other Montrealeers coming for the event are Mrs. Markland Molson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Molson, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Robin and Mrs. Frank Scott.

Mrs. Herbert Saunders, Alice street, returned on Monday from Napanee, where she spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. G. Hawley.

Mrs. T. Ashmore Kidd, "Alwington," and Miss Agnes Richardson, University avenue, went up to Toronto on Monday, to spend a week at the Queen's. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Horsey, Ottawa, who spent the week-end at Mrs. Efa Dennison's, King street, motored up to their summer home at Cresy, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Buxton Smith returned on Saturday from Toronto, where she had a delightful visit with Mrs. Stanley Smith, and left on Monday for Ottawa to join Miss Jessie Smith and spend the summer at the Capital. Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Schmittlin, Royal Military College, are entertaining at The Danes on Friday afternoon, when their guests will be the cadets of the senior class and their friends. Miss Ruth Anglin, Earl street, returned yesterday from Toronto, where she had a delightful visit with Mrs. E. A. Chown.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ryan, Maitland street, enjoyed a delightful cruise on the yacht Sylvia, over the week-end, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Casey, King street.

Miss Clara Farrell has returned from Toronto, where she attended Branksome Hall and will spend the summer with her father, J. M. Farrell, Barrie street. Miss Eleanor Minnes is returning to-morrow from Toronto, and will spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Minnes, "Hillcroft." Mrs. Andrew Porman, Montreal, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dalton, Johnson street.

Mrs. G. B. Nicholson, who has spent most of the parliamentary session in Ottawa with her husband, Mr. Nicholson, M.P., will leave this week for her home in Chapleau, Ont. Early in July, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson will leave for England and France, where they will spend a few months.

Miss Marjorie Loomis, daughter of Sir Frederick and Lady Loomis of Montreal, whose marriage to Donald Simpson Mackenzie, is taking place on June 30th, at the Church of St. James the Apostle, will be attended by Mrs. John Aird, as matron of honor and three of her cousins as bridesmaids. Miss Eleanor Munnell, Kingston, Miss Virginia Loomis and Miss Louise Foss, Sherbrooke, Que.

F. J. CREGG, SYRACUSE GOES TO WASHINGTON

To Take a Special Assistant-ship to the Attorney-General of United States.

Washington, June 15.—Frank J. Cregg, Syracuse, N.Y., who has been serving as assistant United States Attorney in the northern district of New York for several years, has been named special assistant to Attorney-General A. Mitchell Palmer. The appointment provides that the new special assistant will have sole charge in that district of all investigations and prosecutions under the Lever profiteering act. Mr. Cregg's appointment to the new post was dated June 1st and took its course through government channels before it was disclosed. It carries a salary of $6,000 a year and gives jurisdiction over the department of justice profiteering agents and investigators in the northern district.

Questions About Syrians.
Ottawa, June 15.—Fernand Rinfret, St. James, has given notice that

Wherever tea is liked to-day,
you will find the favorite is always LIPTON'S.

LIPTON'S

TEA

Canadian Chief Offices
24 Front St. West, Toronto

He will ask in the Commons whether there are at present any entry fees on Syrian immigration and whether the government intends to cancel those fees. He further queries as to the number of Syrians now in Canada and the number who entered the country in 1919 and 1920. It's a pity that more of us are not willing to follow the advice we give to others.

Kellogg's

WAXTITE

Children run for heaping dishes of rich, crackly Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes—toasted as only Kellogg's know how—poured crisp and fragrant from "WAXTITE" packages, plump with goodness. Made and packed in our big kitchens here in Toronto. This signature is your guarantee

Kellogg's Products—Toasted Corn Flakes—Shredded Bran—Krumble Bran—are made in our new modernized kitchens at TORONTO and always wrapped "Waxtite"—Sold Everywhere

Gingerbread that delights the kiddies!

The EASIFIRST way

Be a Successful Cook!

EVERY woman realizes that one of the big secrets of successful cooking is in the shortening used.

Discriminating cooks use EASIFIRST. It is a pure, wholesome shortening, always of the same high quality. Everything cooked or baked with it is light, dainty, appetizing and easily digested. It is very economical—to buy and to use, for three-quarters of a pound of EASIFIRST goes as far as a pound of many other cooking fats.

Here is a Splendid Gingerbread Recipe

- 1/2 cup EASIFIRST
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1/2 cup sour milk
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- 2 cups flour
- 1 tablespoon ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon soda

Cream EASIFIRST and brown sugar, add molasses and well beaten eggs. Add sour milk, then the sifted flour, salt, baking powder and ginger. Beat thoroughly and add the baking soda, dissolved in a little sweet milk. Pour into a greased shallow pan and bake 45 minutes in a slow oven.

Your grocer will supply you—but get EASIFIRST—then you're sure of results. Sold in cartons and tins.

Gunns Limited
West Toronto

Write to-day for a copy of Gunns Proved Recipe Booklet.

Gunns

EASIFIRST