YOUR doctor will tell you that your eyes should be examined by an expert optometrist. In nearly every case of eye trouble it is not a cataract or some malformation that is interfering with the vision but a failure of the focusing machinery of the eye to perform its duties. This is corrected by the proper lenses. We can serve you satisfactorily.

HOME OF LIEUT.-GOVERNORS CLAYTON DEFEATS PONIES

THIS IS WHAT KINGSTON SEEMED TO PRESENT OCCUPANT IN ST. LAWRENCE BASEBALL LEAGUE GAME BY 4 TO 3.

Lieut.-Gov. Clarke While Not a Native Born Had Also Resided in Kingston—Pleased With Royal Military College.

After presenting the diplomas and prizes to the cadets at the Royal Military College, on Wednesday afternoon, Lieut.-Gov. Clarke gave an eloquent address attentively listened to throughout and provoked applause. His honor said it was his first visit to Kingston his lieutenant governor of Ontario. To him Kingston seemed to be the home of lieutenant governors for it has given three distinguished men to that position in the persons of the late Sir Alexander Campbell, Sir George Kirkpatrick and Sir Oliver Mowat. It has also given two of the greatest premiers Canada ever had, viz. Sir John A. Macdonald and Hon. Alexander Mackenzie. Besides this Sir Oliver Mowat, a son of the Limestone City, held the confidence of the people of Ontario as prime minister for a longer period than any other man, up to the present time had done. It was not unnatural, therefore, that in coming to Kingston as lieutenant governor, he regretted that he had also not been a son-in-law of being a resident for a few years only for at one time his home had been in Kingston and that Canada took a just pride in the Royal Military College as one of its finest and best institutions. It stands for two or three things of the utmost importance to any country and especially to a young country such as Canada, and it discharged its functions in these respects because it was not merely a Kingston, but a Canadian institution. For example, it has instilled patriotism and love of country into young men and given them a correct view of its part as required in Canadian citizenship in its broadest sense, viz. affection and service. It also trained them as Canadian gentlemen, giving the stamp of its own individuality to those who passed in and out of its portals. The cadets were properly named gentlemen cadets and he could assure them that as they went out to discharge their duties wherever they went they would find the good name of gentlemen, not the least desirable of their accomplishments. They were being trained as soldiers and it was reported that the country was not aware of this fact, for sometimes a spirit of criticism found voice regarding the public money spent upon the college. This referred to past years and he hoped it would remain as of the past.

The college in his opinion had more than justified the expenditure laid out upon it. It was found that nearly 1,000 men who had been trained as cadets in the college were ready to be sent with battalions to the seat of war, and the record made in those trying years must never be forgotten by the country. Three of the generals who commanded Canadian divisions throughout the war had been cadets of this college.

His honor paid a warm tribute to Major-General Sir Archibald Macdonell whose name was a household word in Canada today. Another who won distinction was Sir George Kirkpatrick. In concluding Hon. Mr. Clarke pointed out the importance of retaining all of the associations formed in the college.

Major-General Macdonell thanked Hon. Mr. Clarke for his most eloquent and inspiring address and announced that his honor had been pleased to donate a silver medal to be known as the medal of the lieutenant governor of Ontario, and it was to be awarded upon such conditions as the commandant might determine. It would serve as a memento of his honor's visit to the college. Three cheers were then given for Lieut.-Gov. and Mrs. Clarke.

Beginning this year the college course will be four years instead of three as heretofore.

CONVENTION OF PAINT MEN
Shove a Campaign Over the Top in Kingston.

Kingston was visited on Tuesday by about a dozen representatives of the largest paint and varnish manufacturers in North America for the purpose of organizing and carrying out an advertising campaign in connection with the "Save the Surface" league of the paint men. This campaign is being made a country-wide affair. The slogan is "Save the Surface and You Save All," and all the big varnish and paint men have got behind it to make it a success.

Tuesday the representatives met in the Randolph Hotel and proceeded to plan their work. In the afternoon they went to the city to interview the various hardware and paint merchants with the idea of interesting them in the movement.

Tuesday evening it was announced that the campaign was an unqualified success in Kingston.

The following men are here representing the paint and varnish manufacturers:

R. B. H. Cotton, of Messrs. A. Ramsay & Sons Co.
Fred Cookson of International Varnish.
C. D. Cookson of Martin Senour Co.
G. Barless of Stewart & Wood.
W. J. Keyes of Lowe Bros. Ltd.
W. J. Roulston of Imperial Varnish and Color.
W. G. Falls of Sherwin-Williams.
M. Wineroppe of Brandram-Henderson.
R. Creighton of Pratt & Lambert.

Perth Here On Saturday.

Saturday afternoon at three sharp Perth and the Triple Links met at the cricket field in a St. Lawrence league game. Perth has not yet shown what their speed is in a league game in this city, and the game will have the added interest of sizing up a new aggregation. If Perry plays his usual game the victors will have to stick to their knitting to make an impression. The way the Triple Links put it over Brockville shows that there is good stuff in their make-up.

Stanley Trotter has been stirring around as usual in baseball circles and has secured two fine games for next week. On Wednesday the St. Regis team of Deferiet, New York, are billed to play one of the local bunches of Ty Cobbs and "Stan" has persuaded them to stay over the night, July 1st, and meet the other St. Lawrence hopefuls. This means three good games for the Kingston fans next week.

The local baseball officials have been doing everything possible to secure good baseball for this city and to secure it often. They have succeeded beyond the hopes of their supporters and we now have two and sometimes three big and fast games every week. Remember, then, when you reach down in your pocket for the collection or the price of a ticket that baseball is like everything else, it costs money to run it. You do not get objects for nothing, do you? Why not pay fairly for a good baseball game?

SYDENHAM IS STILL DARK

THE STREET LAMPS NOT PUT BACK ON POLES.

Township Council Unwilling to Pay Barker Bros. Fifty Per Cent. Increase for Electric Lighting.

The trouble between the township council of Loughboro and the firm of Barker Bros., Sydenham, over the street lighting contract has not been settled. A few weeks ago, the twenty electric street lamps which furnished light for the village were turned off on account of the council and the producers not being able to reach an agreement as to the charge for current. For some time Barker Bros. furnished the current at a cost of $20 a month for twenty lights. The contractors asked for an increase of fifty per cent but the council would not agree to go half way. As a result of the refusal of the council to increase the price, the contractors removed all the electric bulbs from the poles. Since that time the village has been in darkness at night.

On Tuesday when a Whig representative was in the village, he found that there were two different arguments offered. There were those who thought that the increase which was asked was very reasonable in view of the fact that all the villagers who were using the light for the homes were willing to pay the increase. There were others who thought that the contractors were asking too high a figure.

Allan Theatre Delayed

As Workmen Leave Their Jobs at Short Intervals.

On Wednesday afternoon the foreman in charge of the construction of the new Allen theatre on Princess street stated that as much as they had tried to rush the work along it appeared that everything was working against them. Ever since the work was commenced the company has to contend with men not working for any reliable period. Day after day men apply for positions but for some reason he cannot account for, they leave in the course of very short time. When asked if he thought the men were dissatisfied with the amount of money paid, he stated that they should not be as he was paying the standard wage. He had expected that brick work would have been completed by this time but a number of the masons have quit, which puts him up against it.
