NEW BASEBALL RULES HAVE NOT MADE HIT WITH THE PLAYERS

The new baseball rules have now received a thorough trial, and it is now safe to predict that a few of them will be tossed in the ash can next winter. The American league has already returned to the old system of judging hits over outfield barriers fair or foul, according to where the ball is last seen by the umpire. The intentional pass regulations are not being enforced, and a strong reaction has set in against the proposed elimination of "spit ball" pitchers from the major leagues.

The "spit ball," like old John Barrycorn, will die a natural death if allotted a reasonable time to expire. The minor leagues are not developing this type of pitchers any more, because the "spitter" is forbidden in most of these organizations, and young pitchers know they have no future in the major leagues if they stick to freck deliveries.

There is a growing sentiment among big league club owners, however, against casting out all "spit ball" pitchers next season. Every American league club has at least one of these pitchers and the National league harbors several. The elimination of all these pitchers in one season is, therefore, considered an unnecessary sacrifice of property rights.

Strict enforcement of the rules against "shine ball" pitching and the "doctoring" of baseballs have hampered pitchers to such an extent that the hitters are the featured performers this season. Even the arrival of hot weather has not appreciably decreased the hitting or improved the pitching. It is actually a relief to see a "spit baller" bob up now and then to curb the wielders of mighty maces.

A majority of the "certified spit ballers" now totting in the major leagues are veterans who developed the delivery to hang on in fast company. At the most they have only a few seasons to go. It seems unfair to suddenly deprive them of their means of livelihood. For these reasons a majority of the club owners should vote to retain them as long as they can hold the pace.

It will be no easy matter for the American league to replace in one season such clever pitchers as Cov-aleskie, Quinn, Shocker, Sothoron and Russel, or for the National league to recover from the loss of Doak, Godwin, Douglas, Hendrix, Fillingim, Mitchell, Spikes and Fisher.

Club owners who have discussed this prospect informally, agree that these men should be permitted to yield gracefully to time, and it is almost certain that they will be the objects of special legislation next winter.

BASEBALL AT PICTON.

Y.I.C.B.A. defeated by a Score of 8 to 3, on Wednesday.
The Y.I.C.B.A. were defeated by a score of 8 to 3 in their game with Picton at Picton on Wednesday. The local boys put up a splendid game, in spite of the fact that they were given a number of raw deals from the umpire, and had a large portion of the crowd pulling for them. Ada was on the mound for the Kingstons and he was hit freely.
The game was marked by some good hitting and clever fielding. The Y.I.C.B.A. team lined up as follows: Fitzgerald ss, Fowler 3b, Devlin 2b, Connolly c, Nickle cf, McCullough lf, Bennett 1b, Logue rf, Ada p.

The Resolute's Commander.
Charles Francis Adams, 2nd, the man at the wheel, who tried to steer the Resolute to victory in her first race in defense of the America's Cup off Sandy Hook, is characterized by experts as the premier American yachtsman.

He has owned more than a score of yachts and has sailed nearly 100, small and large, and some of these have been the best boats of their class in America and the world.

Mr. Adams is treasurer of Harvard university and a member of the corporation, and in personal charge of trust estates amounting to many millions. Years ago he became known to yachting associates under the nickname of "Deacon" and some of them still call him by that name.

California Bids for 1924 Olympic Games

California is ready to raise the $500,000 necessary to cover the expenses of the Olympic games in 1924, according to the Pacific coast's quota of Olympic athletes, arriving at Boston.

The team made the trip east on the same train with returning politicians from the San Francisco convention and, of the two parties, the athletes, especially in their training quarters on station platforms at the various stops, attracted by far the greater attention.

The Pacific coast candidates for the Olympic games are bent on bringing the Olympic games to Los Angeles.

Forest M. McNor, of Houston, Tex., has been chosen a member of the American Olympic trapshooting team.

Canada Will Have Twelve Opponents

Canada will have twelve opponents in the bicycle road race and ten in the velodrome track events in the Olympic games at Antwerp. Among the contestants will be some of the best amateur cyclists on this side of the Atlantic, including Pekra, the famous Dutchman, who has been winning all over Europe.

Olympic committees yesterday announced that the following countries had entered the velodrome events, to be held August 9th and 10th: Canada, Great Britain, South Africa, France, Italy, the United States, Holland, Denmark, Luxembourg, Switzerland and Poland.

All of these, except Switzerland, will compete in the 170-kilometer road race on August 12th. Czechoslovakia, Norway and Sweden have entered for the road race, but not for the velodrome.
