BLACK TROOPS ENGAGED They Hoped to Bring Civilization To the Turks.

Constantinople, July 21.—Black troops, many of them Senegalese, have been used by the French in their joint occupation of this city. The Senegalese wear bright green uniforms and red fezzes. Their faces are decorated with scars across the cheeks and about the eyes. They usually wear large rings in the ears and many of them have straggly beards cut to a point on the chin. Although the Senegalese are Moslems, they get on badly with the Turks, especially in the interior, where much of the feeling against the French is traceable to the Black troops.

A member of the Turkish foreign office staff, who was educated at several European universities and has lived all over the world, recently approached a group of Senegalese soldiers near the Sublime Porte and engaged them in conversation, addressing them in French.

"Just why did you come over here?" he asked.

"We came to bring civilization to the Turks," the leader of the group retorted haughtily.

AN AWFUL REVELATION

Wife Learns That Her Husband Is Her Father.

Baltimore, July 21.—An unusual story is told in a bill of complaint filed by Anna Belle Jones for the annulment of her marriage to William M. Jones. The case is that of a wife and mother who says that she has learned that her husband—the father of her two children—whom she supposed to be her step-father, was her real father, and that his improper conduct toward her younger sister caused the latter to leave her home.

Mrs. Jones declares in the bill that before her marriage she lived with her parents without being aware of her supposed step-father's identity.

Another unusual feature of the story is the assertion of Mrs. Jones that the revelation of her supposed step-father's identity came to her in a dream. Two children were born of the marriage, boys, eight and three years old, who are said to be entirely normal and healthy.

CONVICTED OF MANSLAUGHTER

Physician Jailed for Unnecessary Operation.

New York, July 21.—Dr. Julius Hammer, a Bronx physician convicted of manslaughter in the first degree, for having performed an alleged unnecessary operation on a woman, was sentenced in the Bronx county court to serve not less than three years and six months and not more than fifteen years in state prison.

Hammer's attorney, who made an appeal for a new trial which was denied, obtained a stay of execution of sentence until July 26th. The appeal for a new trial was asked on the ground that the jury which convicted Hammer was prejudiced against him, following the exposure of an alleged attempt to bribe one of the jurors, and also on the ground that he had the right to perform the operation, and there was no direct proof that he had caused the woman's death.
