ACHT RACE IS POSTPONED

There Was Too Squally and Rough Weather on Saturday.

RESOLUTE HAS ADVANTAGE

In the Windward and Leeward Course of the Critical Contest.

lute and Shamrock IV today made ready for the final battle for the America's cup in a series of rain squalls, which followed the furious electrical storm during the night. When the sloops began making sail, the wind had piped up out of the southwest to eighteen knots. Crested waves beat upon the shore. It was just such a day as a real sailormen loves to weigh anchor and head seaward carrying every sail his ship will bear During the storm, forked lightning played incessantly about the touring spars of the single slickers, while the gale of wind tore through the rigging. A down pour followed the blow. Sloops tugged at their mooring buoys but the deck watches reported that the yachts were unharmed and were ready for the race, Today's contest is set for thirty mile windward and leeward course and the advantage lies with the Resolute which in all previous races has shown superiority in a thrash into the wind. At noon it was officially announce ed that race was postponed for the day. The reason given for the post ponement was on account of the heavy squally weather.

Sandy Hook, N.J., July 24.- Reso- Rev. William Patterson, of Cooke's Church, Toronto, Makes a Statement.

> Toronto, July 24 .- Rev. William Patterson, of Cooke's Presbyterian church, who saw the late Charles finers. Gibson a day or so ago, stated his belief in the boy's innocence. "I think there has been a miscarriage of justice somewhere," he said.

"To-day," said Mrs. Gibson, he day Charlie, on parole, was to have reported to the city hall. Whenever he spoke of the penitentiary he praised the guards, and did not talk as if he had been there for any crime. His father went to see him once. I was going this summer."

Last night another mother, who has a son under sentence in Kingston for ten years, came to see Charlie Gibson, only to learn of his death. "I did not know the woman." said Mrs. Gibson, "but I felt so sorry for her. She said her boy had delicate lungs, and she hoped to hear from Charlie how he was, and how she might help him. She told me she had not our house number, but had told her husband she'd ring every doorbell on the street until she found
