MARRIED TUESDAY; ARRESTED WEDNESDAY

Alleged That Luther Crowder Married Fifteen-Year-Old Girl.

To be placed under arrest on the day following his marriage, was the sad plight of Luther Crowder, aged twenty, whose home is at Mountain, Ont. He was taken into custody at 2.20 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon by Sergeant James Bateson, on a warrant taken out by his mother-in-law, who charges that he swore that her daughter was eighteen years of age when securing the marriage certificate. The mother claims that the girl is only fifteen years old. The case, which will come before Magistrate Farrell in the police court on Thursday morning. The complainant is Mrs. Davis, who lives at 279 1/2 Montreal street. Her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Davis, and Crowder were married on Tuesday evening at the Queen street Methodist church parsonage, Rev. W. S. Lennon officiating.

From what could be learned of the case it appears that the groom, who was employed at Davis Tannery, has been boarding at the home of the Davis girl, and had been keeping company with her for the last thirteen months. The girl is employed at the cotton mill.

All went well until young Crowder and his bride went to the bride's home, following the wedding, and announced to mother that the knot had been tied. Then there were "wigs on green" as the saying goes. The girl's mother protested against the wedding and declared that she would have the law on Crowder, stating that he daughter was but fifteen years of age. She followed out her threat by paying a visit to Chief of Police Robinson and taking out a warrant. Strange to say, Crowder too, paid a visit to the police station to see what was "doing." And here was there when Sergeant Bateson was given the warrant to execute, so there was no time lost in looking up the young bridegroom. So, instead of leaving on a honeymoon moon trip, which had been arranged, the young bridegroom occupied a cell in the police station, while the bride continued to fill her position in the cotton mill. The accused states that the girl gave her age to him as sixteen, and that he believed this to be correct. He is ready to fight the case.

The local manufacturers have arranged to meet the executive committee of the local Union on Friday morning for a discussion of the eight hour day question. The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Boyle, near Gananoque Junction was the scene of a pleasant garden party and dance on Monday evening under the auspices of the ladies of St. John's church. The committee in charge was Mrs. Agnes Laque, and the Misses Mayme Brennan, Rebecca Calow, and Dorothy Hefferman. The affair was generously patronized. George Whaley has sold his frame residence on King street, to David Andrew, Pine street, for the consideration of $350. Mr. Andrew will take possession October 1st.

Woman Slain in Apartment House, Police Establish

Detroit, Mich., July 28.—That Mrs. Eugene Leroy was slain in the Harper avenue apartment house here was conclusively proven, according to the police, by the finding there of blankets identical with those in which the body was wrapped before it was placed in the trunk. Another blanket has not been accounted for and the police believe the vital organs of the body were placed in it and put in the second trunk. Police divided their attention between a hunt for Leroy, husband of the slain woman, and the second trunk, which is known to have been sent from the Harper avenue apartment house where the Leroy lived. The police declared they had established that Mrs. Leroy planned an attempt at suicide before her death.

MOST TOUCHING CEREMONY

AT MEETING OF ODDFELLOWS' RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

Bronze Tablet Was Unveiled to the Memory of 198 Members of the Association Who Lost Their Lives in the War—Addresses Were Delivered. The opening of the annual meeting of the Oddfellows' Relief Association of Canada, on Wednesday, was marked by a most touching ceremony, in the unveiling of a bronze tablet, to the memory of 198 members of the association, who lost their lives in the great war.

W. F. Nickle, K.C., president of the association, occupied the chair, and presented his report upon the work of the past year, which was one of unprecedented progress.

Mayor H. C. Nickle extended to the delegates a most hearty welcome on behalf of the City Council. While he was not an Oddfellow, he appreciated the great work of that order.

In introducing the speakers taking part in the unveiling of the tablet, W. F. Nickle stated that the amount paid out to widows and beneficiaries of the 198 members, who lost their lives in the war, was $218,000, and while it represented an abnormal expenditure no extra charge had been made for war risks when the members enlisted or during their service. The amount was raised by a special levy upon all of the members. The consequence was that the finances of the order were unimpaired by reason of the losses due to war casualties. The deaths were somewhat increased during the epidemic of influenza in 1918 and 1919.

The unveiling of the tablet was performed by Henry White, of Port Hope. Mr. White had three of his sons serving in the Canadian Expeditionary Force, one of whom was killed in action. He referred to the high place the deceased members whose names were on the tablet occupy in the national life of Canada. They, by their answer to the call of duty, and their sacrifice, live in the hearts of the great fraternity, and their example will remain forever an inspiration to Canadians. But their names make a special appeal to all Oddfellows everywhere, for they reflected honor upon their order, which has become enriched by their noble spirit and sacrifice. It was a great honor to him to be asked to take part in the ceremony. Brigadier General the Hon. A. E. Ross, C.M.G., D.S.O., M.P.P., spoke after Mr. White. He told of the life of the Canadian soldiers in France, in camp and trench, and declared that the spirit exemplified by them was as necessary to-day. They thought not of personal ease, enjoyment or material gain, but went forward, eager to contribute of their all to the great cause. And while he, at home, were possessed by fears and forebodings, the confidence in the ability of the Anglo-Saxon race to win in the struggle. By their devotion, their heroism and sacrifice, they exemplified in the fullest degree, the traditions of the makers of the British Empire in every age on land and sea. For these things their memory is held in reverence by their order and their country.

The addresses were listened to with rapt attention and the members present, who numbered about sixty, stood to attention while the Union Jack was withdrawn and the tablet was exposed to view. The names of 198 members are set out in relief and the inscription is as follows: "Erected to the memory of Oddfel-

You get from any druggist 6 oz. of Bay Rum, 2 oz. of Lavona (de Composee) and one-half drachm of Menthol Crystals. Mix together and allow to stand over night before using.
