FARM WEALTH MAKES GAINS

Returns for Last Year Are Estimated at Nearly $7,400,000,000

OPENING OF NEW LANDS

The Agricultural Wealth is Increasing Markedly Year by Year.

Ottawa, July 29.—Agricultural wealth of Canada in 1919, has been estimated by the government at $7,397,299,000, as follows: Agricultural production, $1,975,841,000; value of farm land, $2,792,229,000; buildings, $927,584,000; implements, $337,079,000, and farm live stock, $1,296,602,000.

That agricultural wealth is annually increasing is obvious from the fact that each year sees increased settlement and new areas made productive, with a consequent augmentation in crop production. With settling of new territories, penetration of railroads and other advantages which follow in its wake, land naturally increases in value, numerous farm buildings spring up, farm stock is introduced on a larger scale, and more agricultural implements are needed.

This agricultural wealth hinges on increased settlement and production. That settlement is extending there can, of course, be no gainsaying, with the ever expanding area of cultivated land, the opening of new sections and the flood of immigrants from all sides.

Theatrical

At Griffin's.

What promises to be one of the real motion picture events of the year, will be shown at Griffin's today, Friday and Saturday, in a picture of Sir Gilbert Parker's greatest novel "The Right of Way," starring the magnetic and versatile young actor, Bert Lytell. The action revolves chiefly about the character of Charley Steele, called for his dash and manner by his friends and enemies, both of which were numerous. "Beauty Steele." The famous courtroom scene in which, after clearing a man of the charge of murder, Steele sends him "Out of my Sight—you're as guilty as hell," opens the drama; and this same striking unexpectedness this suddenness and almost stunning surprise is repeated in the various incidents which go to make up the novel which won for Gilbert Parker, the title of Sir Gilbert Parker. The picture is superb, and at the very beginning must be mentioned the remarkable characterization of Charley Steele, as done by Mr. Lytell. He is a young lawyer, dashing, dissolute, spectacularly gifted as a barrister, yet endowed with a singular compelling magnetism which wins over not only the jury in the big courtroom scene, but later draws a somewhat unwilling promise from Kathleen to marry him. "The Right of Way" is a delightful Bert Lytell picture, and no admirer of his should miss seeing it.—Advt.
