INSPECT NAVAL BRIGADE.

Ministers of Crown Will Be Here On Monday.

On Monday next Navy League branch 122, and the local naval brigade will have as their guests the Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, M.P., minister of naval services, and the Hon. Hugh Guthrie, M.P., minister of militia and defence. The training ship "Pinta," will be in the harbor and will be inspected by the ministers, together with the first public Naval Brigade and members of the Toronto-Hamilton and Welland brigades. The inspection of the training ship will take place at the La Salle causeway, and the inspection of the naval brigade on the wharf opposite the ship.

The various military centres in the city will be visited together with the Royal Military College and places of general interest. The ministers will be entertained to luncheon at noon, to tea in the afternoon, and at night to a full dress dinner at the British American Hotel at 8.30, to which the staff of the district and garrison and Royal Military College have been invited with representatives of the different features of city life. The minister of naval services and the minister of militia will be the principal speakers of the evening and this will be the first public occasion for the ministers to set before the people the policy of the government in connection with their own departments.

The minister of naval services will be received by the officers of the naval brigade, the officers of the staff and garrison of the harbor, and the officers of the local staff with a guard of honor from the permanent force and band. Many officers of the Navy League from all over Ontario will be present, together with Lieut.-Col. Cecil G. Williams, Toronto, and officers of the naval brigade from other points. This being the first visit of both ministers to Kingston every effort will be made to give them an opportunity to see the historic places of the old city with its advantages in every particular.

OBITUARY

The Late Jesse Albert Edwards.
Jesse Albert Edwards passed away at Cataract on Wednesday. Deceased was seventy-three years of age, and was for many years caretaker of the Methodist cemetery. He is survived by his wife, The funeral will take place at ten o'clock on Friday.

The Late Joseph Wickett.
Joseph Wickett, a most highly respected and industrious farmer of Shannonville, passed away in the General hospital on Wednesday. He had been under treatment since Monday, the day of his admission there, but his health had not been good for about six months. He is survived by his widow, two sons, Percy and Russell, Toronto, and one daughter, Mrs. Ridley, Belleville. The remains were forwarded to Shannonville by S. S. Corbett, undertaker, and the funeral will take place there.

PAYING THE PENALTY FOR THE "WHITE WASH"

Comment of Dr. J. W. Edwards, M.P., on Penitentiary Probe.

Dr. J. W. Edwards, M.P., who recently returned from an extended tour of western Canada, in referring to the Portsmouth Penitentiary, stated that the government is now paying the penalty for the "white wash" applied by the last commission of inquiry.

"Had that commission been diligent in getting at the facts the present state of affairs would never have been revealed," declared Dr. Edwards.

Dr. Edwards took a prominent part in the last inquiry attending the sittings held in the institution and, at times, asking pertinent questions of witnesses. He was repeatedly rebuked by the chairman, and there were strong expressions used on some occasions. Dr. Edwards took a deep interest in bringing to light irregularities and as a medical man condemned the hospital facilities. Indeed, it was mainly his championship of reforms in the House of Commons that resulted in the appointment of the commission in 1914.

Held a Picnic.
The steamer Brockville carried the excursion of the Emmanuel church, of Belleville, to Twelve O'clock Point on Wednesday afternoon, when a most enjoyable picnic was held. To-day the steamer Brockville is running an excursion out of Trenton to Presque-Isle.

Visiting in Kingston.
W. J. Shannon, treasurer of the County of Lennox and Addington, Mrs. and the Misses Shannon, Napanee, and Miss Yates, Preston, Ont., spent Wednesday afternoon in Kingston. Miss Shannon and Miss Yates are teachers in Saskatoon, Sask., and are holidaying in Ontario.

Too Much Water.
Some streets receive too much water, while others go dry, according to reports made to the Whig. The method of watering the intersection of Bagot and Brock streets, is being criticized. It is stated that altogether too much water is put on this section at one time.

PASSING OF GOOD CITIZEN

Thomas Cunningham Entered the Vale on Wednesday.

On Wednesday, Aug. 4th, death claimed one of Kingston's most widely known, and respected citizens, in the person of Thomas Cunningham. The late Mr. Cunningham was born in Castle Blaney, Ireland, and came to Canada with his parents when a mere boy, his parents settling at what is now known as Cunningham Corner, where Mr. Cunningham followed the occupation of farming for many years. Retiring from farming he came and located in Kingston, and engaged in the boot and shoe business, and was one of the pioneer merchants in his line in this city. His business was very extensive and prosperous, and for many years his place of business, on Princess street, was known to all in Kingston, and surrounding country. He gained the good will and confidence of all who had the pleasure of knowing him, and his advice was always valuable and sought after by many in business and financial matters.

In religion, Mr. Cunningham was a devout Catholic, and one of the oldest members of St. Mary's Cathedral. He belonged to all the Catholic and Cathedral societies, and was always a cheerful and generous giver to all charitable organizations. His passing will be greatly regretted by many. His wife predeceased him two and a half years ago. There are left to mourn, the loss of a true loving, kind and Christian father, three daughters, and one son, Sister St. Thomas, Superior of St. Francis Xavier Convent, Brockville; Sister M. Gabriel, of the House of Providence, and Mrs. R. J. Lawler, of this city, and Peter T. Cunningham, of El Centro, California.

The funeral will take place on Saturday morning.
