Coming to The Grand.
Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert are sending McIntyre and Heath, unquestionably the most famous comedy team in all the world, to the Grand Opera House on Wednesday evening, Aug. 18th, in the newest of the vehicles provided for these remarkable stars, to which the title, "Hello Alexander," has been given. Edgar Smith and Emily Young provided the book, Alfred Bryan wrote the lyrics, and Jean Schwartz composed the music. They are said to have provided McIntyre and Heath with the best play in which they have ever appeared. "Hello Alexander" is admittedly a near relative of "The Ham Tree" in which the comedians appeared for several seasons but the inevitable minstrel scene has been staged in an astonishingly gorgeous manner, and nearly one hundred people comprise the company, which comprehends probably the largest singing and dancing chorus on tour this season. McIntyre and Heath have been surrounded with a really remarkable company some of the best-known members of which are Homer Dickinson and Gracie Deagon, Vivian Holt, Lillian Rosedale, Mable Elaine, Betty Lewis, Dorothy Moore, Dan Quinlan, Edward Scanlon, Dan McNeill, Earl Richard, Phyllis Day, Newport and Strik, Chic Barrymore and others. "Hello Alexander" is in two acts and six scenes, all of which are unusually colorful and effective, while the sartorial display has been declared about the last word in startling costuming.—Advt.

At Griffin's.
"The Walk-Offs", a Screen Classics adaptation of the famous Broadway stage success by Frederic and Fanny Hatton will be the feature attraction at Griffin's for today, Friday and Saturday, with beautiful May Allison in the stellar role. It is a play with a rich society background, and has been mounted for the screen with a most lavish display in fashionable gowns and settings. The play gives May Allison a chance to appear to greatest advantage. In the character of Kathleen Rutherford a young society woman, she is sought by a wealthy bouncer of society, and a young Kentucky mine owner. She understands the one but does not love him, the other is from a world that is strange to her and the romance that results is tense and absorbing. The fourteenth episode of the wonderful wild animal serial "The Lost City" is one the same programme with the above picture, and as this exciting serial is drawing to a close some unusual and surprising scenes are shown. Our usual line of added attractions go to make the programme for the last half of the week one of exceptional merit, and a splendid evening's entertainment is guaranteed for patrons of Griffin's.—Advt.

At The Strand.
One of the biggest sets ever erected under cover will be seen in Thomas H. Ince's latest Paramount photograph, "Stepping Out," in which Enid Bennett will be featured at the Strand Theatre to-night. The set represents a New York cafe and cabaret. It is two stories high, sixty feet wide and seventy-five feet deep. Previously it was the custom of moving picture makers to rent a downtown cafe for such scenes. Only the new mammoth stages at the Ince studio make it possible to erect such a scene, which has the advantages of proper lighting effects in the studio not possible of attainment in a regular cafe. In this scene several hundred men and women in evening clothes, a jazz band and many entertainers are used. Miss Bennett is finely supported, Niles Welch being her leading man.—Advt.

Trafalgar Square Will be Reproduced.

"The Empire Triumphant" the evening spectacle in front of the grand stand at the Canadian National exhibition this year will be a pageant of splendor, color, light and action and will provide a striking object lesson in the making and keeping of the British Empire. Trafalgar Square, a spot so alive with associations and memories for thousands of returned men and other Canadians, will be the setting for this new triumph in stagecraft and the very spirit of Nelson will seemingly hover over the scene glorifying in the fact that we have never relinquished our beneficent heritage of seafaring supremacy. Reproduced with truthful attention to detail, Nelson's monument will be shown towering seventy-five feet in the air, with the National Gallery in the background, St. Martin's church on the left and public buildings on the right. Profoundly impressive will be the musical treatment and divertissement, including the Empire ballet, sailors' drill, etc., while an added touch of realism will be given by a large battle tank in action—"Over the top with the Canadians"—and a great battleship moving majestically to her anchorage crowded with cheering bluejackets—"Britannia Rules the Waves." Another of the many striking episodes will be the breaking out of the largest Union Jack in the world and the trooping of the King's Colors, a gorgeous event and one of the oldest of British army ceremonials, appropriately conducted on Trafalgar Square.

Eight Windsor Men Fined For Sunday Gambling

Windsor, Aug. 12.—Laws against Sunday baseball and public gambling in Windsor are to be more vigorously enforced. Eight young men were before the police magistrate today charged with gambling Sunday afternoon under a tree on the commons at Crawford Avenue, near Wyandotte. They were convicted and fined. In their defence, they asserted they were waiting for a ball game to start on the grounds on Wellington avenue. At the conclusion of the trial Crown Attorney Robb instructed police officers in court to watch in the future and see that no ball games are held.

At last the half dead tree in Clarence street park, close to the sidewalk, has been removed. It was cut down on Thursday morning. Use of cables has more than troubled since before the war.

DR. RICHARDSON WENT UP IN THE BALMY AIR

"It is Just Like Riding an Old High Bicycle," Says Physician.

"Why, in the old days, I used to jump on one of the high-wheeler bicycles, fifty-six inches high, and the sensation in an aeroplane is just about the same without the hard bumps," said Dr. A. W. Richardson on Thursday morning, when explaining the sensations in an aeroplane. The doctor was the guest of Aviator Janney the other evening, and enjoyed the trip very much. He ascended to a height of two thousand feet, and had a good outlook over the town. The doctor very seldom goes up in the air and loses his head, but he confessed that he became confused regarding Cataract Creek and the St. Lawrence river when he was up half a mile.

In loving memory of Frederick K. Leighton, who died August 12th, 1918. Oh, our loved one, Frederick, How we miss you from your place, There doesn't seem any other, Who can fill that vacant space, Oh, the loneliness and sorrow, In our hearts and in our home, When we know that no to-morrow, Will our loved one come.

How we miss that loving smile, That would greet us at the door, It made us feel we were secure, That would last for evermore, But on earth you were so happy, We know you are happy now, And that loving smile shall greet us, In our hearts and in our home, When we meet to part no more, Sadly missed by wife and son.
