CAMPBELL BROS.

BIG SHOW AT FAIR-GROUNDS INCIDENTS OF THE DAY

MANY TENTED SHOWS AND ARENIC MARVELS ARE SEEN.

The La Rose Electric Fountain is a Great Attraction—Thousands Walk the Joy Trail.

The assemblage of tented shows and arenic marvels as presented by the Polack Bros. twenty big shows last evening at the fair grounds is a most varied one, a little romancing to suit every taste, and while entertainment and amusements are foremost, there is much also that is educational to be found along this great joy-trail. A world of living wonders and human curiosities, old fashion sideshows that will take you back to kid days, daring wild west performances, trained animal acts, death defying automobile and motorcycle stunts, a spectacular, fire-water and electric display, merry-go-round, whip, ferris wheel and a host of other novelties and attractions.

The man who cannot find amusement to keep him going for hours somewhere in the tent-circled enclosure, must be afflicted with a permanent grouch.

The old familiar racket assails the ears as the joyseeker turns into the precincts of the joy trail, plus a few more ear-splitting clacks which have been devised since last year. Bands blare forth brazenly, and the mechanical music-makers of the barrel order tribe grind out deafening melody. Electrically operated contraptions draw attention to this or that sideshow, while spellers, male and female, add their voices to the chorus. Gasoline engines snort and pop amidst a babble of talk and laughter, mingled with squeaks of delight from those going through some of the trick stunts.

In addition to the mystery shows, platform attractions, as well as some half dozen riding devices, the La Rose Electric Fountain comes forth as the shining star of all outdoor tented attractions, and is an added feature to carnivaldom, setting a pace to all showowners and managers as an uplifting and elevating feature of the most modern amusement—the carnival. Thousands viewed the shows.

PROF. W. D. TAYLOR CABLES RESIGNATION

Queen's Assistant English Professor to Join Staff of Aberdeen, Scotland.

Many friends of Queen's University will regret to learn that Prof. W. D. Taylor has cabled his resignation as assistant professor in the department of English language and literature. Prof. Taylor was a graduate of Oxford and Glasgow universities and a brilliant scholar. During his term at Queen's he was highly respected by staff and students and won many friends by his quiet humor and affability. His scholarship was of high order and his lectures will be greatly missed by students who understood his sincerity and painstaking work. However, the Queen's university at Aberdeen, Scotland, where he has accepted a professorship in English, he will have an opportunity to continue his splendid efforts.

There is considerable difficulty now, it is believed, in retaining professors from the old world in some of the Canadian universities. The remuneration now granted in the old country universities has been considerably augmented and scholars are being induced to return to the English and Scottish universities where the surroundings are most congenial to them.

LAUNCH SUNK IN COLLISION

Niagara is Wrecked and Capt. John Dingman Sustains Injuries.

On Sunday the passenger motor boat F.H.F., in command of Herbert Fitzsimmons, Rockport, Ont., and the Niagara II, in command of John Dingman, Alexandria Bay, had a collision just above Watch Island. The prow of the F.H.F. pierced the side of the Niagara, cutting her almost in two. Both boats had lights out and the water was as smooth as a mill pond. Each captain blames the other.

Dingman was injured in the accident but not seriously. Mrs. Laura Edwards went to the rescue of both in a rowboat. The F.H.F. with the assistance of men from the shore, towed the Niagara II to the McLoughlin dock, Rockport, where she sank in about twelve feet of water. The F.H.F. took her passengers to the Dingman's hotel at Ivy Lea, and then returned to render further help. The Niagara is a wreck. Her chairs and deck furniture were saved.
