

O-Look and Read

This is ideal bicycling weather and we know you'll enjoy it. It's cool in the evening and after a hot day's work, there's nothing nicer than to fly along with scarcely an effort on your part, hat and coat off, and enjoy the cool evening breezes.

That's what's possible if you own a good Bicycle. No gas, no oil, or other worries, and much more handier than a car.

We have a big stock of quality Bicycles, and rather than carry them over the winter, we are offering them at reduced prices.

It's up to you to buy now.

Easy terms if desired.

Don't fail to call in—we'll be expecting you, and don't forget that for pleasure and exercise, you can't do better than:

Few even among golf enthusiasts know the origin of the term "links." It really means a stretch of sand covered with short grass and stubble which lies between the high part of the coast and the water in parts of the Scottish seaboard. The early golf courses were laid out in such places, but when the sport spread to other countries the real meaning of "links" was forgotten.

George Chapman of Philadelphia, the new American paced cycle champion, has just turned twenty-one and is the youngest rider to ever win the title.

THE "BATTING EYE" THE BIG THING IN MAKING HOME RUNS

Babe Ruth describes how he makes home runs. He says:

First of all I get my feet in the exact position, the right one a little in advance of the left. My right leg is bent just a little at the knee, and as I stand this way the pitcher gets more view of my back and right hip than of my chest or side. The weight of my body is at the beginning, on my left leg. When the ball comes up I shift my weight to my right foot, which steps out directly toward the pitcher as my bat, my arms and my whole body swings forward for the blow.

At the start of my swing I reach back with my bat as far as I can, almost turning my back on the pitcher. As my bat comes forward the movement with which I throw my weight against the ball often carries my right foot beyond the chalk line of the batter's box. The greatest power in the stroke comes when the bat is half way through the swing—I mean directly in front of my body, and that is where it meets the ball. There is something to be said for the bat, too, because it is the heaviest one used in either of the leagues. I have them made especially for me. They are of ash with a slender handle. They are 40 inches long and weigh about 54 ounces—some wagon tongue. Most bats weigh 38 or 40 ounces. The wallop comes just at the balance point of the bat, and if you want to find where that is take a bat in your hand and balance it. That is where every batter should catch the ball, for there is the greatest leverage and the heaviest weight of the blow.

A free and easy swing is the one which I think connects most often with the ball. When I say free and easy don't think I mean slow. I mean fast, with a great big F and with every ounce of weight and strength that can be put into the swing. My elbows are always well away from my body when I poke at the ball; they are not stuck out, of course, but far-enough out to give complete freedom.

Strength is absolutely necessary to hit home runs consistently. And as I am out for a home run every time I get up to bat, I always swing at the ball with all my might. I hit big or miss big and when I miss I know it long before the umpire calls a strike on me, for every muscle in my back, shoulders and arms is groaning, "You missed it."

The big boys have a natural advantage in this respect, but would you think that there was such a thing as being too muscular? There is. I know a batter in the American league who is not much better than an ordinary hitter, although he had a good eye, weight, stance and fine development. His trouble is that he is muscle-bound—too strong to get a good, easy swing at the ball.

Shamrock IV's racing suit of sails cost $35,000.

Boston city high schools have discontinued rowing, and will concentrate on football, baseball and track sports.

Prince Henry is a keen athlete, probably the most athletic of King George's sons, and is particularly interested in running and rowing.

Bob Crowell, who managed the Charleston South Atlantic League team several years ago, is back in the league and playing with the Greenville team.

Pitcher Carrol Jones, who went to the Portland Pacific Coast League team from Detroit last year, has been sold by the Portland Club to the Sacramento Senators.

Eddie Roush has been putting up an excellent game at first base for the Cincinnati champions.

Dutch Hoffman, the walloping second baseman of the Fort Worth Panthers, won the batting honors of the Texas league for the first half of the season, with an average of .348.

Golf can be positively traced in Scottish history back to 1457 though some authorities declare that it originated hundreds of years before then.

Grand Complexion Improver! Better Than Cosmetics

When it's so easy to "ring back" the bloom of youth to faded cheeks, when skin disfigurements can be removed, isn't it foolish to plaster on cosmetics?

Go to the root of the trouble—remove the cause—correct the condition that keeps you from looking as you ought. Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills and very soon you'll have a complexion to be proud of. How much happier you'll feel—pimples gone, cheeks rosy again, eyes-bright, spirits good, joyous health again returned. Never a failure with Dr. Hamilton's Pills; get a 25c. box to-day.

WILLARD SEEKS ANOTHER BOUT

Dempsey Willing to Accommodate the Former Champion. A bout with Georges Carpentier and a return match with Jess Willard are included in the tentative program of Jack Dempsey, heavy-weight champion, it is announced by Jack Kearns.

Carpentier is expected to arrive in the United States in October, and Kearns declared he hoped to have the Frenchman matched with Dempsey within three weeks after he arrives. Willard, according to statements by Kearns, went into secret training six months ago, and already has asked Tex Rickard to promote a match that would give him another chance at the title.

After his bout with Mike, Dempsey's next engagement will be with "Gumbo" Smith at Boston, September 19th. A bout with "Bill" Brennan at New York on October 12th is next on the champion's schedule.

FINE GAMES BOOKED

Stanley Trotter On the Hop All the Time.

Dozens of good games have been staged at the Cricket Field this summer and still they come, Teams from Perth, Belleville, Brockville, Deloro, Gananoque, Watertown, Clayton, Alexandria Bay, Deseriet, Glen Park, and other places have competed with the two local teams on the baseball field. Two more cities will be added to the list when Ogdensburg plays here tonight and St. Andrew's of Toronto, Friday and Saturday the 27th and 28th. Belleville is here on the 21st, which is next Saturday, and the following Saturday our old friends Alexandria Bay appear on the scene once more.

These games have been and will be appreciated by more fans than have ever before turned out in the interest or pursuit of any sport in the city of Kingston. They carry the name of Kingston and Kingston sport to a wider field even than the famous hockey teams of the Old Limestone. They are good for the city at home, and good for the city abroad.

Naturally there is someone back of all this big boom and overflow of success which has marked the present baseball season. There certainly is someone behind it. There are several men who work hard among them is Stanley Trotter, who can book more games in a day when Babe Ruth can knock home runs in a whole season. "Stan" is always on the hop and on the job, and any team with a half ounce of pep that fights within 200 miles of Kingston eventually lands on the diamond at the Cricket Field and all due to Mr. Trotter's efforts. No wonder the season has been a success. After it is all over and the wise ones are reviewing the year they might start to figure out Stanley Trotter's batting average as a worker for Baseball in this city. It will work somewhere around five thousand.

Friede a Triple Winner. Leo Friede, New York, international canoe sailing champion, was a triple winner at the national championships of the American Canoe Association being held at Sugar Island, Friday afternoon, Friede captured the first race for the national canoe sailing trophy, leading Dudley B. Murphy of Lexington, Mass., over a six mile triangular course by one minute, 48 seconds.

British Boys as Boxers. Hero worship of such boxers as Georges Carpentier among English schoolboys has resulted in a mania for boxing in the schools of Great Britain. Many old-time professionals are now engaged in teaching boxing in the schools. The amateur and public school championships in London have been entered by hundreds of boys since the war ended.

Johnny Wilson, the lad who knocked off Mike O'Dowd's crown, is not after the tough fellows. He doesn't look like a Stanley Ketchel, but he's good.

Old Folks' Coughs, Catarrh, Bronchitis Quickly Cured

This Tells of a Method That Cures Without Using Drugs.

Elderly people take cold easily. Unlike young folks, they recover slowly. That is why so many people past middle life die of pneumonia. Cough Syrup seldom do much good because they upset digestion. Any doctor knows that the more effective treatment is "CATARRH-OZONE," which heals and soothes the irritated surfaces of the throat.

In using Catarrh-Ozone you do not take medicine into the stomach—you simply breathe the fumes into the throat, nose and lungs rich play balsamic vapor, so full of healing power that colds, catarrh and bronchitis disappear almost instantly.

The germ-killing balsamic vapor mixes with the breath, descends through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, and finally reaches the deepest air cells in the lungs. All parts are soothed with rich, pure, medicinal essences, whereas with a syrup the affected parts could not be reached and harm would result through burning the stomach with drugs.

A Catarrh-Ozone Inhaler in your pocket or purse enables you to stop a cold with the first sneeze. Large size costs $1.00 and supplies treatment for two months, small size 50c; trial size, 25c; all storekeepers and druggists.
