STRAND'S FALL SEASON

OPENS ON MONDAY WITH NEW LIGHTING SYSTEM.

The Stage Will be Nicely Decorated by John Arthur, Toronto, To Conduct the Strand Concert Orchestra.

On Monday next, will see the commencement of the fall season at the Strand theatre, in addition to other features, a new lighting system will be introduced. The entire theatre is to have the most up-to-date lighting system, something which is novel and an innovation in Kingston.

Another new feature will be the new lighting of the stage, which will be in operation on Monday. Creeping vines and flowers have been secured for the stage, over $200 being expended in this feature. Manager Wilson also announces that on Monday, the Strand concert orchestra, which was such a huge success in the past season, will be again at the theatre, furnishing the very latest popular and operatic music. The programmes of music arranged for the fall and winter, will be bigger and better than ever, and the patrons of the Strand are assured, in addition to the latest in pictures, of the finest music possible to secure. The Strand concert orchestra will be under the personal supervision of John Arthur, musical director of the famous Regent Theatre orchestra, Toronto, and who has an enviable record as a musician and musical supervisor. He comes to the city on Sunday, when a special rehearsal of the concert orchestra for the first night, will be held. Mr. Arthur is musical supervisor of the Famous Players' Canadian Corporation musical library in Toronto, where over $10,000 worth of music has been purchased for the Famous Players' theatres in Canada. He is one of the most famous musicians in the Dominion and his supervision of the Strand concert orchestra assures the patrons of that theatre the best there is to obtain in the musical line. All the music used at the Strand theatre, with the exception of feature music, coming with feature pictures, will be supplied through the College book store.

Theatrical

At the Grand. "High Speed," the wonderful racing picture that is showing at the Grand will be seen for the last time to-night. Mile after mile, hour after hour of "High Speed," with the speed mad drivers greeting death at every turn, makes a picture that for thrills and suspense cannot be surpassed. The stars are Edward Earl and Gladys Hulette, and they are supported by a capable cast of clever players. "The Climbers" is the role of the other fine feature playing the same dates as the above, and it has for its star the beautiful Corinne Griffith. The story deals with a young society girl who marries the wrong man, and her fight for happiness among the exclusive society in which she moves, makes a splendid vehicle for the talented star. There are reels of extra good comedies and other subjects, and a splendid musical programme by the Grand's Special Orchestra under the leadership of Gerald Radcliffe. This bill will be seen for the last time to-night. — Advt.

Coming to The Grand. Olive Thomas, the charming young star of motion pictures, who has won such a splendid place for herself by her faithful portrayal of the many different roles that she is called upon to play, will be seen at the Grand the first three days of next week in "Love's Prisoner," which many claim to be her best picture. This play has been specially selected for Miss Thomas as the supporting cast carefully chosen. This bill will be seen for the last time to-night. — Advt.

"Sleeping Partners" Coming. With a reputation gained from many seasons as a comedy production, long engagement with the Mutual in photoplays, beautiful Edna Goodrich is now touring the country in person and will be seen at the Grand Opera House on Thursday and Friday, August 25th and 26th in "Sleeping Partners," a comedy direct from a seven-month's run at the Bijou Theatre. The managers make the important assertion that the organization which will play this city is the only one on tour and that the original production, the only one ever built for this play in this country, will be seen in the local presentation. "Sleeping Partners" is totally different from anything that has ever been seen in this country. It is typically French. The atmosphere is there, the adroitness of situation and dialogue, and the consummate expertness of workmanship which characterizes French farce in its highest form. — Advt.

At the Strand. Mack Sennett's newest comedy creation, a five-part comedy production, "Down on the Farm," regarding which there has been no end of exceptionally favorable comment since its issuance by United Artists Corporation, will be the feature at the Strand Theatre on Monday, giving the people of this community the opportunity of witnessing a comedy production that is making film history. The release of "Down on the Farm" through United Artists Corporation is not to be wondered at, for the production is of such magnitude that it fits in admirably with the type of pictures in which the "Big Four" has been specializing. It has been known for some time that United Artists would not confine itself only to the distribution of the productions of Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and D. W. Griffith exclusively, but would distribute the occasional big production that came to the open market for specialization in distribution. This is an indication that the "Big Four" will have a release list of wide variety in addition to the big productions of its four principals. Critics everywhere throughout the country have praised this production "to the skies," placing it in a class all its own, a production that reaches the greatest heights that have ever been reached by a producer of comedy spectacles. Every resource of the enormous Mack Sennett studios in California are involved in the results of this production; every means that was ever contrived in a studio to bring merriment to motion picture lovers has been brought into play and every incident that is brought about by the story which is laid on a real honest-to-goodness farm in the intimate manner in which none other but a Sennett could do, brings forth results that are thrilling, comic, hilarious, farcical and furiously funny. Astonishing in the extreme is the wonderful manner in which Mr. Sennett succeeded in training the birds and beasts of the farm to act the leading roles in this production. A dog, a cat, a cow, a flock of turkeys, ducks, geese, and chickens, all lend themselves to parts in the production in a way that has never before been accomplished. The work of these habitues of the farm is of such a calibre that every audience becomes amazed at the manner in which they perform. "Down on the Farm" is an exceptional feature and has been a sensation in every community in which it has appeared. It is not a matter of wonderment why United Artists decided to release it, since it surely is in excellent keeping with the best that is being produced for the lovers of amusement. — Advt.

At Griffin's. To-night will be the last opportunity to see the splendid bill which has been attracting such attention at Griffin's during the last two days, and is headed by Madge Kennedy in "Through the Wrong Door," a species of East and West comedy-drama, with the added advantages of the heart interest and intensely dramatic situations which arise from a startling exchange of identities and the bright humor that is necessarily incorporated in an up-to-the-minute play of this type. Madge Kennedy was never so brilliant as in "Through the Wrong Door." It is a captivating role, and one which her admirers are sure to find delightful. Don't miss it. Also to-night will be the last chance to see the final episode of that wonderful serial "The Lost City," which is exceptionally interesting, particularly to followers of the picture. Other good pictures make up the balance of a meritorious programme which should be seen by all. — Advt.

Centreville Notes. Centreville, Aug. 19.—The farmers have finished harvesting and are busy now threshing. Rain is needed for the root crop and gardens. Many of the residents have been attending Chautauque concerts in Napanee this week. Michael Ingoldby, Waterford, and Miss K. Dromgole, Amherst Island, visiting friends here last week. Centreville and Moscow ball teams played here on Saturday and Moscow was defeated. Percy Lochhead motored from Tara, Bruce County, and arrived on Thursday to visit his mother, Mrs. Charles Lochhead, George McGill and Meacham Breault took in the excursion to the west. Mrs. John McNeill and Carmel, Napanee, visited last week, at J. Cavanaugh's.

With the Muse. It has not always been laziness that caused famous writers to do their work in bed. Most authors have a peculiar position in which they find inspiration flows more easily. Charles Reade and Wilkie Collins worked best when standing. The Victor Hugo wrote practically the whole of "Les Miserables" standing at a high desk.

Walt Whitman's favorite position was lying full length on a pile of lumber, while Byron composed many of his best verses on horseback.
