ST. MARK'S IS RE-OPENED TO LEAVE POLITICS ALONE

Dean Starr Delivered a Fitting Sermon for the Occasion.

The re-opening services at St. Mark's Church, Barrieffield, took place on Sunday, and the occasion was marked by very large congregations and a fitting sermon by Dean Starr. It will be recalled that this historic edifice had a very close call from being destroyed by fire on Civic holiday. However, the decorator has been busy at work, the past few weeks, with the redecoration of the church again presents a beautiful appearance. Dean Starr congratulated the congregation on its successful re-opening, and in fitting terms, referred to the part the congregation has taken in the work of the diocese. He made special reference to the good work carried on by the church, and the united spirit that prevails at St. Mark's. Dean Starr also made reference to the faithful service of the rector, Rev. A. O. Cooke.

The Kingston Branch of the G.W.V.A. Makes This Decision.

The advisability of again taking an active part in politics, either municipal, provincial or Dominion, came up for a lengthy discussion, at the G.W.V.A. meeting on Monday night, and from the various members who spoke on the subject, the opinion gained was to the effect that, while every member should individually take an active interest in the administration of his city and country, it was felt that the association as such, would be far wiser to leave politics alone, and devote the whole of its energy to the work it is pledged to do, that of providing for and looking after the interests of the returned soldier and his dependants, a duty which still calls for a great amount of work on its part.

The monthly meeting was attended by one of the largest and most enthusiastic body of members that has ever attended any meeting in the rooms. The president, Comrade J. W. Connors occupied the chair, and opened the meeting in the usual impressive manner, by all present standing to attention in silent prayer for their fallen comrades, for the space of one minute.

The secretary read a communication from the Board of Pension Commissioners, stating that in answer to a G.W.V.A. request, Cos. Margeson and Thompson, of the Pensions Board, would visit Kingston within the next few weeks, to speak on the amendment to the Pensions Act, and the act providing for insurance to soldiers.

On Tuesday, Sept. 21st, a reunion of all Veterans in the city is to be held in the club rooms, where a good old fashioned smoket will be provided, and an opportunity given for all veterans to meet together.

Arrangements have been made by the entertainments committee for providing for the social welfare of the members during the coming winter, and in doing so the report given by the chairman a good time is in store for the members during this fall and winter.

In view of the anticipated demands upon the funds of the association this winter, schemes are under consideration for the boosting of the association finances.

KINGSTON MILLS ROAD BAD

It Needs Repairing—No One Knows Who To Blame. Kingstonians, as well as tourists, who for years have been in the habit of visiting Kingston Mills on picnic excursions, are gradually discontinuing their trips in this direction due to the dreadful condition of the roads leading to and from the Mills. The Barrieffield road, which has been the most popular drive leading towards Kingston Mills, is at the present time almost impassable in places. On dry days it is not nearly as difficult to pick out the "prairie trail," as after a rain, as the "shell holes" can be discovered without the use of glasses.

One old gentleman, who happened to be in the general store at Kingston Mills on Saturday afternoon, remarked that he did not think that the holes would bother him because he could not see them on account of his failing sight, but he was reminded by those who had just travelled over this "beautiful" road, that good vision was not necessary as the holes are so thick they could not be missed by any driver.

The other road which leads to the Mills is in bad condition in some spots, but the authorities in charge have made some effort to improve conditions.

Several have asked who is responsible for such conditions. This is a question which the Whig has been unable to have answered. There are those who blame the provincial government, which is taking over this road as the permanent highway between Kingston and Ottawa. The Whig was informed some time ago it was now up to the Ontario government to act. If the road has been taken over by the Ontario government, people think that temporary repairs be made at once if the government does not intend to commence road building until next year.

Others claim that the government has not taken over the road, and that the matter rests with the county council-road committee.

An enjoyable day was spent. Before leaving the supper table, with Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins seated at the head of the table, all joined around and sang "For Them a Jolly Good Fellowship", wishing them many years of health and happiness. Next day Dr. and Mrs. Wilkins returned home, Mrs. Wilkins' mother, Mrs. Knapp, going with them. They have many good thoughts from their old home, through the Whig they hear of local events, and would not think of being without that newspaper in their home.
