Theatrical

At the Grand.
Elaine Hammerstein's newest Selznick picture, "Whispers," a society photodrama, will be shown at the Grand, Monday of next week, one day only. In this play the star portrays the role of girl tormented on all sides by mercenary relatives, unwelcome suitors, and scandal-mongers. In running away from her relatives she stumbles upon a romance that quickly makes up for the unpleasantness of her past and brings her sunshine instead of gloom. Matt Moore, playing a newspaper reporter, is the official dispenser of clouds, and artisan of the happy ending. There will be another fine feature, "His Wife's Money," starring Eugene O'Brien. Mr. O'Brien is effective in the role of Richard Flint, a clean-cut, "two-fisted" young engineer who continually balks at being tied to his wife's apron strings, even though the winning card be one of gold. The picture is a Ralph Ince production and has an excellent supporting cast. There will be reels of good comedies and other subjects and a special musical programme by the Grand's orchestra. This bill will be seen for the one day only.—Adv.

"Experience" Is Coming.
The long-expected engagement of the modern morality drama, "Experience," which has been one of the biggest theatrical sensations of recent years, is now announced for the Grand Opera House on Tuesday, Sept. 28th. The play was written by George V. Hobbart, and it is patterned after the old-time dramas of four centuries ago. Yet while it retains the form and manner of the old plays, it is strictly up to date, and is adapted to modern conditions. The great novelty lies in the fact that it treats modern and up-to-date situations just as the priest-playwright of four centuries ago treated the moral and spiritual problems of that day and age.

In "Experience" one sees in ten vivid and dramatic scenes, the principal events in the life of an average young man who goes forth into the world in search of fame and fortune. The leading character, called Youth, says farewell to Love in the little country cottage, and sets forth into the big world. The glittering and gorgeous outlook does not last long, however, for Youth starts upon the downward path at various temptations, and is on the high road to Perdition when his salvation is brought about through a song he hears outside a church.

Messrs. Comstock & Gest, producers of "Experience," have given Mr. Hobbart's Impression play a superb stage setting, with brilliant scenes. The play is enacted by a company of forty players. "Experience" ran nine months in New York, seven months in Chicago and five months in Boston.—Adv.

Arlio Marks Co.
Take other outside attractions in the theatrical profession and compare them with a real true Canadian attraction such as Arlio Marks, the popular little comedienne, who will be at the Grand Opera House three nights, beginning Wednesday, Sept. 29th, with her associate players. She has shown this year that it is without a doubt the biggest and most expensive repertoire company traveling in Canada. The company is guided under the successful management of Lindsay E. Perrin, and nothing has been spared in way of proving that Canadian material can be superior to all others in their respective lines.

Arrangements have been made, and the company is playing the latest releases, and the rivalry between the acts has never before, on account of expense, been attempted by any other repertoire company. Popular prices will prevail. Opening play, "Where the River Shannon Flows." Extra added attraction with this attraction is Salona, the girl with one thousand eyes. She knows all. See her.—Adv.

Coming to Griffin's.
For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday a bill of exceptional merit will be shown at Griffin's, and is headlined by that sterling actor, Tom Mix, in "Three Gold Coins," his newest attraction, which is considered one of the finest vehicles of his screen career. "Three Gold Coins" is a tale of love, stunts and romance, in which the daring western actor has ample opportunity to perform to the delight of his numerous admirers, who relish seeing him in a stirring picture. Don't miss it. On the same programme as a special feature we will show Tom Wise, and Gail Kane, the greatest stars of the American stage, in "Romeo's Dad." Gail Kane is known as one of the most beautiful women on the stage, and is still appearing in legitimate plays. "Romeo's Dad" is only an incident in her busy life. As for Tom Wise, he is too well known both on the silver sheet and stage to require any introduction. "Romeo's Dad" is an example of an all too small class of highly desirable photoplays. It is well worth seeing. Don't forget the eighth episode of that wonder serial "The Whirlwind" is another item of interest on our programme for the first half of the week and a glance over the above feature will convince the most blasé theatregoer that it is away above the average. Be sure and come.—Adv.

At The Strand.
Commenting upon each successive picture in which Nazimova is the star has become a process very similar to that of the old frontiersman after he has caused a pesky redskin to take a large and fat mouthful of alkali dust. Every criticism of the marvelous screen artist is simple another notch cut in the gunstock of her fame. To say whether or not Nazimova is better in "The Heart of a Child," than in previous productions is somewhat beside the point. She is each time so utterly different, and each time it seems she were more moving and appealing. This, her present production, gives Nazimova the rather formidable task of depicting a cockney girl, Sally Snape, brought up hapless in the slums of London known as Limehouse. A tragedy of her girlhood causes the child to be thrown upon the world with no other protection against its complex and masked attack than her inborn sense of what is right. Sally's life goes far from Limehouse—into the theatre, into the world of fashionable shops and smart houses, but her heart runs true to its original and irresistible simplicity. It is the heart of a child. Ray C. Smallwood is to be congratulated upon his effective direction of "The Heart of a Child," shown on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.—Adv.

TRAP TO BE REMOVED; ACTION AGAINST OWNER

Following Shooting of Lad in a Kingston Orchard.

The police gave instructions for the removal of the rifle trap from the orchard of C. H. Powell, following the shooting of Percy Vincent, ten-year-old lad, on Thursday night. The lad was shot in the knee when he ran against the trap.

It was stated on Saturday morning, that the father of the boy would take action against Mr. Powell. The lad who was shot is reported at the Hotel Dieu as having passed a quiet night. The case is under the care of Dr. Crowley. If blood-poisoning does not set in, it is probable that recovery will take place, but owing to the condition of the knee joint there is no certainty as to its usefulness after the wound heals, and there is danger of the boy being crippled.
