Told in the Twilight

The Levana Society of Queen's University gave its annual reception to the freshettes on Thursday evening in Grant hall, Miss Bessie Abernethy, the president of the association being assisted in receiving by Mrs. Bruce Taylor, Mrs. MacNeill and Mrs. Skelton. An orchestra of girls in cloowns' costume composed of Miss Goldie Bartels, Miss Jean Douglas, Miss Anita Martin, Miss Lillian Desrochers and Miss Genevieve Bullock, played delightfully for the dancing which formed the first part of the programme, the freshettes, who were in gymnasium costume, being chosen for partners by their seniors. Then the herald, Miss Agnes Mac-racher, who was also the convenor of the invitation committee, gathered the new girls together with the sound of her trumpet, and went through eight "stunts" which were very clever and amusing after which they took the vow of allegiance to their Alma Mater. Supper was then served, with a huge and gorgeous birthday cake with significant green icing and twenty-four candles for the year of the graduation of the guests of honor, as a centre for the pretty table. College songs and yells ended the evening and the girls were seen safely home by junior sophomores and seniors of the society.

Dahlia and Virginia creeper, with their gorgeous coloring, made the rooms lovely and centered the tea table, where Miss Ethelwyn Mowat and Miss Annie Fowler and Miss Mary Ross were in charge with Miss Isabel Ross, Miss May Macdonnell, Miss Helen DuFr, Miss Chrissie Dyde and Miss Marion McFadgen as their assistants. ## Conspicuous nose pores

How to reduce them

Complexions otherwise flawless are often ruined by conspicuous nose pores.

The pores of the face are not as fine as on other parts of the body. On the nose especially, there are more fat glands than elsewhere and there is more activity of the pores. These pores, if not properly stimulated and kept free from dirt, clog up and become enlarged.

To reduce enlarged nose pores: Wring a soft cloth from very hot water, lather it with Woodbury's Facial Soap, then hold it to your face. When the heat has expanded the pores, rub in very gently a fresh lather of Woodbury's. Repeat this hot water and lather application several times, stopping at once if your nose feels sensitive. Then finish by rubbing the nose for thirty seconds with a piece of ice.

Notice the improvement the very first treatment makes—a promise of what the steady use of Woodbury's Facial Soap will do. But do not expect to change completely in a week a condition resulting from long continued exposure and neglect. Use this treatment persistently. It will gradually reduce the enlarged pores and make them inconspicuous.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 26 cent cake will last a month or six weeks. The Andrew Jergens Company, Cincinnati, New York and Perth, Ontario.

The right proportion is a (level) dessert-spoonful for each cup. Just pour boiling water on it—don't boil it—let it stand for ten minutes, then drink nature's charming and healthful food-beverage.

furs in new Modes

Beauty and Economy

FUR COAT is today, especially in the Canadian climate, a veritable necessity. When you consider the years of service and the extra comfort which such a coat will give you it is really more economical than a cloth one.

The new beauty and dainty sheen of fine quality Hudson Seal appeals to every woman. Its soft fur is so light and comfortable, yet so warm and cozy, and it blends so perfectly with such furs as Beaver, Alaska Sable, Opossum, which are so popular as trimmings; and yet a coat of Seal is quite handsome in itself.

Hudson Seal is equally suited to the young girl or the matron, and is shown in our Style Book in various lengths and styles. There is one there which is just your own. Hudson Seal is also shown in charming Neckpieces, Mitts, Bags and Hats.

Black Lace and Black Velvet Make This Dinner Dress.

Black velvet, supple and lustrous, is particularly adapted to the lovely dinner gown. The model illustrates a very charming development of this beautiful material. Designed with a clinging skirt that betrays the henna influence, it is girdled with jet and royal-blue beads.

Slight bouffancy is revealed on the hips where black lace is effectively draped. Beneath these puffings, the lace is continued so that it forms side trains.

A plastron of lace forms the upper part of the corsage. This contrasts well with the black velvet evening.

It is safer to learn from an enemy than it is to instruct a friend.
