DEATH OF THOMAS M'AULEY

Kingston's Veteran Bookseller Passed Away Early on Saturday Morning.

Kingston's oldest merchant passed way on Saturday morning at 2 o'clock, in the person of Thomas Mc- of the Navy League campaign. Auley, bookseller, who died at the General Hospital after quite a in Grant Hall, on the following dates :- lengthy illness. Mr. McAuley had been in business in this city for sixty years, and was widely known. 2. Monday, Nov. 22-Jan Hambourg was eighty-four years of age. Mr. Mc-Auley was stricken with illness about two months ago, but prior to this he had been in his usual good health, 4. Monday, Jan. 10 Boris Hambourg and able to attend to his business in his store at 93 Princess street. Deceased was regarded as Kingston's veteran bookseller, and was speed, probably than any other craft continually in harness. He very rare- of similar type that has previously $2.50. These entitle holders to num- ly missed a day at his business. Mr. visited Kingston. McAuley was a familiar figure on the streets, and was known to almost [] every person. Possessed of a pleasing French Professor hall at Queen's Post Office till Friday personality, fond of a joke, he could tell many interesting stories, and he was one of Kingston's best-known

> The late Mr. McAuley was Irish by birth, and a native of the county of Meath, He was just a lad when he came out to this county. He lived in Toronto for a short time before coming to Kingston, and there he entered the book bindery of Mr. Wanless, later on a post of some note. At the age of sixteen, Mr. McAuley became a journeyman. He was still a boy, to Hamilton, and there he worked for short time, attaining the position

Deceased came to Kingston in 1859 and joined the staff of the late Chas. Hobrough, who did husiness then over the store occupying the site of Wade's drug store, corner of King and Brock streets. In 1860 Mr. Mc-Auley bought Hobrough out and was doing well, when, in 1862, fire destroyed the old bookstore-Dr. Robison's, managed by John Creightonand the store next it, and made sufferers of all concerned. Mr. Creighton resumed business, this time on his own account, and Mr. McAuley started overhead. Mr. Creighton built the new city bookstore (formerly the Whig), and into it Mr. McAuley, Mr. Creighton and Sheldon & Davis removed, remaining a happy family for many years. When Mr. Creighton was appointed warden of the penitentlary he sold his book store stock to Mr. McAuley, who has continued both businesses ever since, but changing locations several times.

Deceased, in spite of his advanced years, was a great walker and for many years walked into the city and back to his home at "River View" on King street west. When bicycles came in Mr. McAuley was one of the first to take to the "bike", and up till a few years ago, was able to take a spin with the rest of the boys. Mr. McAuley was one of the first to take The Cartage and Transfer business as both Kingston's oldest and youngheretofore carried on by the Kingston est automobilist. Mr. McAuley was Transfer Company, is now being con- also a motor boat enthusiast. He was ducted by the undersigned, who very fond of the water, and spent hopes, by close attention and super- many hours outside of business hours vision, to merit the confidence of all on the St. Lawrence. The City Was Flooded With Navy League Literature. Mr. Post, who is here with Mr. De Vitallis, in charge of the Huff-Daland flying boat gave several Kingston residents a flight over the city on Saturday morning and afternoon. Among them were Mrs. H. C. Nickle, wife of Mayor Nickle, Mr. Newman, treasurer was Mr. Newman who flooded the city with Navy League literature from the flying boat. All of those who went up enjoyed the trip very much. A member of the Whig staff obtained an entirely new view of the city and very high order. The papers were the people about whom he writes every day. The accommodation provided for passengers in the flying boat is very

Attitude of London Press. London, Oct. 23.—The attitude of the press towards the fresh strike onference this morning is one of hastened hopefulness in view of the previous failures, but signs are not wanting of a more reasonable labor spirit, and it is pretty certain that the railway sympathetic strike on Sunday will not occur. It is signicant that the demand for insurance against riot risk is greatly increasing, especially by jewelry

50-Year-Old Connie Ediss Astounds London Audiences -Took Gland Treatment.

London, October 23.—"I feel l could jump over a house," said Connie Ediss yesterday. She was for many years the principal actress at the Galety theatre, afterwards going to America, where she earned fresh laurels. She is now appearing with Cyril Maude at the Criterion theatre in the successful comedy "Lord Richard in the Pantry," and everybody has been struck with her youthful vigor despite

The secret of this rejuvenescence is that for four months she has been taking a thyroid gland treatment. She has taken altogether twelve injections of thyroid extract and is overjoyed at the result although she confesses to the latent fear she may slowly turn into, an animal. She says Maude tells her that she will revert to the monkey type which would have its compensations, she admits, since she ought then to have no difficulty in amusing her

Speaking seriously, she says she does not know what fatigue is and feels ready to dance and sing all the time. She had been suffering with her heart, which is all right now, despite the fact that she smokes fifty cigarettes daily. Her hair also has grown.

PRICE OF NEWSPRINT DUE FOR A TUMBLE

Hoarded Stores Must be Sacrificed-Canadian Output Doubled.

New York, Oct. 23 .- Within the past fortnight, offers of newsprint at ower prices have brought out the fact that a number of big papers in the United States have immense stores of paper in warehouses, costing them about five cents a pound probably fifty millions of dollars' worth. And European pulp countries are offering to ship paper here at falling prices. The output of the Canadian paper mills will be double of their capacity of a year ago, with still greater increases in a few weeks from new mills, or old ones enlarged. The holders of the paper in hoard in the States are getting ready to unload as quick as they can to papers that have none, in the hope that they will not lose more than a cent pound if they get rid of it right
