ORIFLAMME WARE

Dazzlingly brilliant with color and fascinating with its opalescent reflections. It is the result of a new and wonderful discovery of an English potter.

Oriflamme ware fulfills the sound condition of the highest art. No two pieces are alike.

The old bronze and old gold effects produced with this dull metallic surface are at once artistic in the highest degree, the same in the furnace transmits at will the modern creation.

THE G.W.V.A. INSTALLATION

President Connor Makes Some Very Pointed Remarks to the Comrades.

G. W. V. A. official report.—The semi-monthly meeting of the Great War Veterans Association was held on Friday night, Oct. 22, at the residence of the president, Mr. J. W. Connor, in the chair.

The installation of the new executive officers occupied the attention of the comrades for some time, each member of the executive being requested to take the oath of office according to a ritual drawn up by the dominion command. The president took this opportunity of thanking the comrades for their confidence in re-electing him for a second term, and in a few well chosen words, outlined his policy for again bringing the branch on a firm financial footing.

He stated that the branch needs money. The people of this city know we need money, and they are going to see we get it. Despite all the knocks and criticism levelled at us this past few weeks. Keep the standards of our association above reproach, and we will have nothing to fear; the truth must prevail; might does not make right. You have kept the faith with the citizens of this fair dominion, and I am convinced they will not fail you in your present difficulties.

It has been said in this city that there was nothing to be gained by soldier staff, that it was dead, there was no money in it. We know there is no money in it comrades, but the need of the man yet in hospital is great. Many are not yet re-established. Much work is yet to be done, and until this is completed to the satisfaction of all veterans, you have a duty to fulfill.

When you are out of your present difficulties I shall be pleased to relinquish the honor of president, a position which I prize highly, as the Kingston branch ranks high in our association. But be sure comrades, the man you select does not attempt any of the Tammany boss stuff, for that surely brings your downfall. Credit belongs only to those to whom it is due. Much has been taken by persons in this city for the settlement of complaints, etc., when no credit was due to anyone but the department making "the settlement. We intend to have the credit which rightly belongs to us, but ask for no more. Anything claimed more than that may be considered stolen.

Several communications from comrades in different parts of the country were read complimenting the president and second vice-president for their letters to the press, and a motion was later carried by a standing unanimous vote, heartily endorsing the actions of the president and second vice-president.

A communication was also read notifying us that as a result of our investigation, Comrade Kaillen had been awarded the contract for the carrying of mail to and from the local stations.

The names of eight applicants for membership were read, and these, if accepted, will be initiated at the next general meeting.

A communication from a comrade in the city and another from a comrade at present in the U. S. A., notifying us of their resignations, because of the letters in the press of last week, were read to the meeting, and a motion was unanimously carried that the resignations be accepted.

In view of the generous number of donations being received for our benefit fund, it was decided to allow those who contributed the right to elect a board of trustees, and to have the use of the club rooms when desired, also to have the right to wear a special badge now being secured.

The floor of the large assembly hall was ordered to be put in first-class condition for dancing, when it will be rented to parties desirous of holding dances, card parties or other forms of amusements.

A meeting was called for Wednesday night, when final arrangements will be completed for our tag-day on Saturday next, Oct. 30th, the president reporting the George Richardson Chapter I.O.G.E. eager for the tag.

A most interesting meeting closed with the singing of "God Save the King."

FLYING BOAT KEPT BUSY

Many Took the Air Trip Over Kingston Saturday and Sunday.

The flying boat of the Huff-Daland Co., Ogdensburg, N.Y., which was in Kingston over the week-end, attracted great attention on Saturday and Sunday when Folger's and St. Lawrence wharves were crowded with citizens, who were eager to take a flight in it over the city and the harbor, or to see the wonderful machine perform.

The boat was kept going with passengers all the time. Every one who took flight came down and declared it was a most delightful experience, and this was confirmed by a member of the Whig's staff. The flying boat contains some advantages over the land aeroplane because it is made so that it can navigate the lake like a boat. As it glides from the water there is no perceptible jar, indeed one is high up in the air before he knows it, and in returning to the surface from a great height, the pilot makes a long incline and the boat goes into the water gently and no shock or jar is felt by the occupants.

After leaving the water the boat went over Wolfe Island, from which point a beautiful view was obtained. Looking to the south you saw over the island, the south channel and into the state of New York; down the river you see past Howe Island and Gananoque; in the north you trace the Rideau for many miles until it expands into a chain of lakes; westward are to be seen Simcoe and Amherst Islands, Prince Edward peninsula and Picton. But it is old Kingston that it is so to see from above, and it looks like a tiny village.

The plane or boat was as steady as a rock. You might be sitting in a comfortable arm chair in your drawing room so far as sensation was concerned, there was not a tremor to cause the slightest sense of fear. Mr. de Vitis served several years in the Canadian flying service in France, and is a most experienced pilot. Mr. Post, the other pilot, saw service in the American flying corps, but Mr. de Vitis is trained in Canada.

Those who went up on Saturday and Sunday were: F. Beaudry, W. W.

Newton, Mrs. H. C. Nickle, A. McKenzie, Leo Ryan, C. A. Moise, W. Arzue, Victor Sudds, Mr. Dawson, Jas. H. Macnee, C. E. Vanzalstyne, Mr. Severs, J. R. Forster, Albert Sloan, W. J. Hunter, Leonard Meeks, Thos. Buckley, Mrs. Sparks, W. A. Newlands, Mr. Hyslop, Masters Donald Hurd and Alfred Rose, J. B. Webster, Mr. Chamberlain, F. C. McClory, Albert Glover, Blake Edwards, H. Keech, Masters Gordon and Wilson McMahon, Mr. Zaliki, P. Lalprosa. On Monday morning, H. E. Corbett, Dr. D. M. Gordon.

Osteopathy Standardized.—Laws regulating the practice of osteopathy have now been passed in every state in the union. This means that osteopathy is now standardized and regulated by law in a manner analogous to that by which the practice of medicine is controlled. Unqualified, incompetent and illegal practitioners of osteopathy are therefore now barred from practice by law and the public is just as well protected from injury by unqualified osteopaths as it is saved from harm by unregistered medical doctors. No osteopath can practice in any state in the union now without being legally registered by the state.

Educational standards in osteopathic colleges have been raised to the level of medical standards and are enforced most rigidly. There are only seven osteopathic colleges in the world, and they are all members of the Associated Colleges of Osteopathy. This organization compels absolute uniformity of entrance requirements and a minimum curriculum of study hours and subjects equal to that of medical schools. The length of the course of study in osteopathic colleges is four years and no person can enter without a high school education. These colleges are located in Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Kansas City, Des Moines, Kirksville, Mo., and Los Angeles.
