ENGAGED MAKING SURVEY RICH, RED BLOOD THE GREATEST NEED

Of Kingston to Decide-What Settlement Work is Necessary.

With a view to the improvement of the conditions of life in the city of Kingston, a committee was recently formed of public-spirited and sympathetic citizens for the purpose of engaging the services of a "settlement" expert from a large American city, who would make a complete survey of Kingston and submit a report that will form the basis of any action that may be recommended to the city council if such a course might be deemed expedient and desirable.

The persons named are: Mayor H. C. Nickle, chairman; Prof. M. B. Baker, Miss Mae Chown, Mrs. A. S. Ferguson. A Boston woman, highly recommended for this kind of social work, was engaged, and has been quietly at work during the past two weeks. She has utilized the knowledge of local branches of social service, and the utmost co-operation has been given to assist the committee in the work. It is hoped to improve the general health of the people, and by the education of young mothers, improve conditions surrounding child life, by removing the handicaps to vigorous physical development. This can be done in many ways. First, there is the improvement in housing conditions and habits of living. It is known that there is a deplorable ignorance on these subjects, and it has taken the settlement workers of large American cities years to improve the conditions of life there. It is recognized that in order to stamp out the causes of crime and immorality, it is necessary to apply the microscope to the surroundings of the people.

While the prime object of the Kingston committee regarding the information obtained by the Whig is the physical well-being of the people, it is hoped that many other improvements will come as a result. During the influenza epidemic, many persons engaged in rendering assistance, who had never before been brought to compassion by what they learned and have since been endeavoring to bring about a remedy. For many years settlement work has been permanently carried on by social organizations with the co-operation of civic police and boards of health, and the Boston lady now at work in Kingston has had much valuable experience.

TO-NIGHT IS HALLOWE'EN

Many Parties Planned While Youngsters Will Play Usual Pranks.

To-night's the night—the night of all nights with the little folk, and also for a great many of the older folk. Hallowe'en! how the youngsters enjoy the fun. Kingston youngsters will follow out the usual practice. They will "dress up" and go the rounds of the houses, playing the usual pranks. So if you hear your door bell ring to-night, or a "tick-tack" at a window, you will know that the youngsters are out enjoying themselves. And yes, you had better have some sweets ready to give the young folk too, on this special occasion.

In addition to the "dressing up" part of the programme, there will be other special "doings," in the way of parties and dances. The night promises to be a lively and jolly one. The police do not expect any serious trouble. Not in many years have the police experienced trouble on Hallowe'en, because the celebration has been carried on in a sane manner, and there has been no trouble. A few years ago there was considerable trouble. Hallowe'en is the season of goblins, black cats, and the howl of the wind when the youth of the law is free to let themselves out for a real good time, and carry out any "stunts" in which they might wish to take part. At the parties many couples will dance or play games under the spell of magic light from the candle in a pumpkin, surrounded by typical Hallowe'en decorations of black and yellow. The young folk will, on their rounds, content themselves with rattling "tick-tacks" on the windows and ringing doorbells, in as much as there are few fences and gates left and the number of wagons that might be run out of the barns, has considerably decreased.

Tory propaganda is stirring up so many stories locally against the Liberals that the situation has become ridiculous.

Nearly All Ills Are Due to Poor, Watery Blood—How to Improve Its Condition.

To be in a healthy condition the human body requires a constant supply of new, rich blood. Nearly all the ill from which people suffer arise from one cause—poverty of the blood. If the blood is rich and red it absorbs nourishment from the food which passes into the stomach and distributes that nourishment to the brain, nerves, muscles and all the organs of the body. If the blood is weak and poor in quality it does not do its natural work of feeding the brain and body, and the result is weakness and disease.

Headaches and backaches, loss of appetite, poor digestion, nervousness, pimples and unsightly blotches on the skin, all indicate that the blood has become impure—that it is not doing its appointed work. If this condition is not remedied it will grow worse and worse, and a complete breakdown will eventually occur. To bring about a healthy condition of the blood no medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Their one mission is to make new, rich blood, which reaches every part of the body bringing with it new health and increasing vitality. Thousands have testified to the benefit they have found in the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when run down in health. Among those is Mrs. Bertha Kendall, Darling Avenue, Toronto, who says:—"In the summer of 1918 I was in poor health. My appetite was variable, and I was weak and unfit for work, and I suffered a great deal from nervous headache and palpitation of the heart. A lady friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which I used with splendid results, as by the time I had taken six boxes I felt like a new woman. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth their weight in gold to every nervous, sick woman, as they cure quickly and save big doctor bills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Our October Outing, 1920.
Four of us composed the party. All accounted, hale and hearty. Doing life's allotted part: Yet in need of recreation, So we planned a brief vacation, To be spent near nature's heart.

As no hydroplane was handy, We engaged a boat—a dandy, As admiring sport would say— And before the sunset hour Reached our cottage far away.

Many fleet-wing'd ducks and plovers Came to serve the nature lovers, Adding to their food supply, While the easy task of rowing, Mid the gentle breezes blowing, Made the days go gaily by.

From the blinds we daily bailed, Ere the sun the waters glided, With a rippling pathway bright, Ducks that feared to light or hover, Our decoys off flying over, We shot down in rapid flight.

Sometimes they indeed alighted, And as they arose affrighted, Fell before a fatal aim. So, it really did not matter Where, or how, they chose to scatter, The result was quite the same.

When the billows were not rolling, We along the shoals went trolling, But the number, size and weight Of the fishes safely landed, Isak Walton has commanded Never, never to relate.

And lest Nimrod be offended, We will call the story ended, Has escaped our ammunition, And is glad that our ambition, Did not bring us better luck. Kingston, Ont. W.W.W.

NEW PLAN TO BE INAUGURATED
J. Cullen Takes New Departure in One of Kingston's Leading Groceries.

One of Kingston's leading grocers, J. Cullen, who has been in business on the corner of Alfred and Princess streets for the past fifteen years, plans to inaugurate a new departure in the grocery business on November 1st of this year. On and after that date Mr. Cullen will conduct his business on a cash-and-carry basis, and he says that such a system will save his customers money.

Mr. Cullen has made a careful study of the cash-and-carry system as used in Toronto, Hamilton, London and a great many other Canadian cities and he has estimated that he can save his customers almost enough to pay their light and water bills. The reason for this is because the new system eliminates the expense of delivery, of keeping accounts, of waiting sometimes in vain for the payment of bills, and also reaps the benefits of careful buying and a quick turnover. The prices which Mr. Cullen will be able to offer will be a great inducement to the thrifty housewife in fighting the high cost of living.
