Queen's And Varsity Play No Score Game

One of the best intercollegiate soccer games ever seen here was played at the athletic grounds on Saturday afternoon. The game was entered in the soccer series and this leaves Varsity and Queen's to fight it out. The local college has a crack team this year, and although they had the edge on the blue and white for aggressive play in Saturday's game, they could not pound the ball past Evans. The Varsity goalkeeper and his two backs saved the game for the Toronto team on many occasions. Curphey saved well for Queen's also, on one or two occasions when the Varsity forwards got a chance for a shot.

The game started with Queen's goal at the north end of the field and the players kicking against a strong southwest wind. Despite this handicap the Queen's men started on the aggressive and maintained it well for the whole first half. Donaldson, at centre half, was by far the best man on the field. Time and again he fooled the Varsity forwards and halves and made some very close long shots. On two or three occasions his shots just touched the bar or hit it squarely and bounded back onto the field. The usual Queen's tuck was in full attendance, and showed itself when, in both the first and second halves Queen's peppered the top bar of the Varsity goal but always failed to score.

Time and again in the first half Queen's rushed Varsity goal. The ball peppered the uprights and bars, but never once got through. Evans, Varsity goal, played a wonderful game. At last Queen's were awarded a penalty kick on a foul of one of the Varsity backs. Donaldson sent it true but Evans stopped it and was rushed by Storey. The ball went straight up in the air and then curved over the top of the bar.

The Queen's goal was not in any danger in the first half at all. Anything that looked like a shot was well returned by Curphey in good time. At half time both teams were still remarkably fresh.

In the second half, the contestants settled down to work desperately. Shortly after play had started Ransome's had knee went back on him and Queen's were minus their centre forward for the rest of the game, as substitutes are not allowed. In spite of the loss of one of their best men, Queen's kept decidedly on the offensive. The game became a succession of rushes on the Varsity goal. Donaldson was here there and everywhere, playing centre forward, centre half, and extra back all at the same time. Many times he broke up the good combination plays of the blue and white and booted the ball back up to Varsity territory. On one of Queen's rushes they took three open shots in succession. Two of these hit the cross bar and the other struck the upright.

With Queen's playing a man short Varsity had an opportunity to get away when Donaldson was playing upfield. They took advantage of this on many occasions but Vedova and Scott were always on the job. To get away from Vedova you must pass him four times as he can usually run about twice as fast as the ordinary man. On two or three occasions the Varsity forwards got a chance at Curphey, but the lanky goalkeeper for Queen's kept his head and used his feet and hands. Varsity rushed the "goalie" in a much more vindictive manner than Queen's and on two occasions fouled him. Outside of that the whole game was clean.

The game ended with Queen's still on the offensive, but still unable to score. Both teams were in remarkably good shape when they came off the field and if some of their rugby brethren had about half as much condition the games might be faster. It is a long time since such a good exhibition of soccer has been seen in Kingston. Two senior teams of the intercollegiate playing a no-score game is a thing which is seldom seen. The results of the return game in Toronto will be awaited with keen interest.

JENNINGS WITH GIANTS.

Appointed Assistant Manager New York National Team.
Hughie Jennings, who for many years was manager of the Detroit American League team, signed a contract as assistant manager of the New York National League Baseball Club. This was announced officially by Vice-President and Manager John J. McGraw. No details as to the terms of the contract were given out.

Jennings was born at Pittsburg, Pa., in 1870, and first played professional baseball with the Leighton, Pa., club in 1890. The following year he signed with the Louisville American Association club as first baseman and shortstop. In 1894 he was traded to the Baltimore Nationals and four years later shifted to the Brooklyn Nationals, on which team he played first base. An injury to his arm, which he received in diving into a swimming pool at Cornell University, prevented him from returning to his regular position as shortstop. In 1901 he became manager and captain of the Philadelphia Nationals and two years later he returned to the Baltimore Eastern League Club, playing second base and shortstop until 1907, when he was drafted by the Detroit Americans. Since that time Jennings has acted as manager of the Detroit team until the close of the present season, when he resigned.

Forward or Backward?

Toronto Globe.—Introduction of more interference in Canadian football—interference which is permissible under the new rules—may or may not improve the game. To date in the more important games, it has had a tendency toward mass play. Interference on the line of scrimmage will not tend to open up the play. No doubt the new rule is a desirable one, but unless others are introduced which will encourage the use of the lateral pass, the spectacular, extended run and an attack which results in affording the spectators and opposing teams an occasional peep at the ball, the international regulation will prove a boomerang instead of a benefit.

Accuracy is of much importance, and an invariable mark of good training in a man. Accuracy in observation, accuracy in speech, accuracy in the transacting of affairs.

The sale of intoxicating drinks was prohibited in England as early as the reign of the Saxon king, Edgar, who closed hundreds of ale houses.
