LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Armistice Day.
Kingston, Nov. 8.—(To the Editor): Will you allow me the privilege of your columns in order to urge upon the citizens of this city the necessity of the proper observance of Armistice Day.

Consider for a moment what this day meant to a war-weary country. Two years ago when hostilities ceased, this city went wild with joy. And rightly so. For four years and three months we had been engaged in a life and death struggle with an unscrupulous foe; sixty thousand of our very best lay dead on foreign soil; our country had been bled not only of money but of the very best manhood in it; ordinary business had been upset; and every one keyed up to the highest pitch. No wonder there was rejoicing on every side—it was but the relaxation.

The point is, have we relaxed too much? Have we forgotten all this day means to our country? Have we forgotten what our debt is to those who lie in Flanders' fields; our debt to the relatives of those who gave all they had that Canada might live? If so, then was their sacrifice in vain.

Veterans are united in regard to the recognition of this sacrifice, but our federal government has not yet set aside a national memorial day, and since this has not been done, let us in this city at least recognize our duty and pay our respects to the ones who died that we might live; and let it be done on Armistice Day. Let it indeed be done properly, let us have the entire day as a holiday, or at least one-half day for these memorial services.

A memorial service is to be held in the cricket field, weather permitting. All citizens are asked to be there, and I hope this occasion will be one that will long be remembered in this city. Let us all be there; let us turn out in full strength to do honor to "Our Glorious Dead," and to the "Blessings of Peace."

Let us bring our offerings—wreaths, flowers, flags, anything that is suitable for the occasion—mothers and fathers who gave your sons, sisters who gave your fathers, widows who gave your husbands, sons and daughters who gave your fathers, fraternal societies, churches and veteran organizations; let none of us be missing on that day. And don't forget the lady who returned to Canada and who lies, not in Flanders' field, but in our own cemeteries. Let nothing but sickness keep any away on that day, and our Canadian people will surely remember the debt they owe to the lady who fought and died.

In conclusion, let me say that all veterans are invited to meet at the Great War Veterans club rooms at 9:45 a.m. and march with the band of the 14th Regt., P.W.O.R., to the cricket field, for the memorial service. Brig-General A. E. Ross, C.M.G., our honorary president, has kindly consented to take charge of the parade.

G.L.C. Wish to Meet R.C.A. Soccer Champions

There is still much talk among the soccer enthusiasts and some members of the G.L.C. are reported as being prepared to challenge the R.C.A. champions and holders of the British Whig cup, the winner of the exhibition game to be played on the cricket field to be paid the sum of $25 by the losing team. Commenting upon the report, a prominent member of the R.C.A. team stated that they were prepared to meet the G.L.C. if the stakes were raised to $25 per man on the team. This would mean that the winning team would receive $275.

Ladies' Golf Finals.
The finals in the ladies' golf competition were run off at the Cataract Club's links on Saturday afternoon with keen competition to the very end. In the ringer competition, Mrs. R. Keith Hicks won the prize donated by Miss Mabel Richardson. In the final round, there were twenty-one entries besides Mrs. Hicks. Her score was 5-4-3-4-5-4-4, with total of 38.

In the finals of the ladder competition, the players finished in the following order: Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. Welch; Miss Crothers, Mrs. Givens, Miss H. McKay, Miss Redden, Mrs. Dalton, Mrs. E. H. Fense, Miss Richardson, Miss N. Macene, Miss Leslie, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Gordon, Mrs. McFarlane, Miss F. Cunningham, and Mrs. Henry Hill.

Mrs. W. R. Givens has captured most games in the ladder series, and, therefore, wins out.

May Close German Schools.

NEEDS ONLY SPARK FOR CIVIL WAR

German Minister of Defence in Pessimistic Mood.

Berlin, Nov. 8.—"A mere spark is sufficient to explode a civil war in Germany now," according to Dr. Gessler, minister of national defence, in openly discussing the critical internal outlook at Leipzig. "We have arrived at a political armament race in Germany, both sides claiming they are acting only in self-defence. The great danger of such organization is that it results in mass organization."

"In the last analysis there is only one way for getting over the worst: namely, the common sense of the German people. But this is impaired by all manner of danger, by the steady deterioration of our economic situation, by the increasing lack of employment, by the senseless luxury of the newly rich, and by the continued fall of the exchange value of our mark."

Minister Gessler warned German organized labor, particularly the miners, that it could not prevent France from occupying the Ruhr district if Germany does not fulfill her obligations under the treaty. "So long as we fulfill our obligations there is every hope of avoiding any occasion for such an occupation."

"LAST SUPPER" ROOM CAUSE OF DISPUTE

Sultan of Turkey Said to Have Presented it to the Italian King.

Athens, Nov. 8.—Disposal of the supper room at Jerusalem which was the scene of the Last Supper of Christ and His disciples has recently been the subject of considerable dispute. The Sultan of Turkey has presented it as a personal gift to the King of Italy.

The view of the Greek Orthodox Church is that, since the room is a sacred one, and is, in fact, the most ancient sanctuary in Christendom, its disposition should be left, not to Mohammedan power, but to the British High Commissioner for Palestine, Sir Herbert Samuel, and it is urged that, as a Hebrew, and therefore, strictly natural in religion, Sir Herbert is best able to consider the rival claims of the Greek, Roman and English Churches.
