A VERMONT LEGISLATURE
 Was Well Known by People About Lavant Station, Nov. 22.—Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Wilson and baby, Lois, have returned to their home in town after spending the past three weeks with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Lee. Mrs. J. E. Lee and baby are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lashley, Watson's Corners. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Boyd spent a few days last week with the former's sister, Mrs. R. Alcorn, North Bay. We are pleased to learn that J. B. McKinley, who was a partner and manager of the Chandler-Jones Lumber Company, some few years ago, was elected by a large majority to the Vermont state legislature. Mr. McKinley was very popular with all who knew him in this district and are quite pleased to hear of his success. It is six years since he went to reside in that state. Mrs. William Paul, Kibbey, Sask., is visiting friends here. Mr. and Mrs. H. Paul and Mr. and Mrs. E. Paul, Lavant, spent Sunday at E. J. McFarlane's and with their mother, Mrs. Paul, who was hurt in an automobile accident last week. We are glad to know that she is improving. Miss Zelma McDougall, Lammemoor, is spending some time at William McDougall's, John E. Lee and Rev. R. J. Wilson shot a bear, last week, weighing 310 pounds. Miss Emma Rowarth, who has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas, left last week to enter a hospital as nurse-in-training in Quebec. Miss A. Hayes, of Lantana, spent the weekend with her friend, Miss Elsie Lee. As the roads are unattractive for "ordinar," the young archers are replacing their joyriding by "sleighing." The box social held here by the women's institute was a great success. The proceeds amounted to $46.65.

A Waist of Brown Satin Completes This Box Suit of Gray Duvelty.

"Ah!" I exclaimed. "Now I know why you said to wait and make the sketch when you removed your coat. What a darling waist!"

"You like it?" she queried, as she smoothed down the soft folds of the brown satin.

"Like it! I think it's the most fetching thing you've ever worn."

"Of course," continued Marie. "Maybe it seems a rather odd combination, but I'm really partial to anything that lifts one out of the rut in dress."

"Well, that certainly does, so many people I know have their three-piece suits made with costume blouses of the same color as their skirts—or, at least, trimmed like them—that I really think this is unusually effective."

"In Paris the smartest women are using silk sweaters instead of blouses. They are usually of bright, contrasting hues, and I think the fad is influencing the creators of costume blouses," said Marie.

"Perhaps," I murmured. "Anyway, I think your costume is a huge success."

"Did you notice that the collar, cuffs and belt of my waist are made of the gray duvelty?" I asked, as I closely scrutinized the waist in question.

"You see, with these trimmings you know that the blouse is really part of my costume," said Marie.

"Your little inside collar is exceedingly dainty," I commented, as Marie's artistic fingers sought the picturesque pin that fastened it.

"Yes, this is an addition of my own. The last time I was in Paris I came across a young widow, who supported herself and babies by doing the most exquisite handwork. I immediately asked her to make me some collars, and this is one of them."

"What sheer taste and what charming embroidery!" was my next remark, as I noted the delicate stitching on this very feminine accessory.

"There's one thing you haven't remarked about my waist. Only I expect perhaps you didn't have an opportunity to see it," said Marie, as she rose from the table.

Looking at her carefully as she put her hand on the back of her chair, I knew what she meant. "Oh, it's the frilly little peplum in the back!"

"Yes," said Marie, "and I'd like you to know that it's an afterthought of my own."

"Well, it's a most successful one!" I exclaimed, as I followed her from the room. "I really believe I must have a three-piece suit, for they look tremendously stylish."

"I don't suppose you're interested in hats?" questioned Marie, as she adjusted hers.

"Indeed, I am! And, what's more, I made a note of the odd trimming of yours—a piece of blue and a piece of gray ribbon, wired and threaded through gray bone rings on the brim of black hatters' push."

"Then I have your approval of both hat and suit!" said Marie. To which I replied, "Indeed you have!"

Look for Buyers of the Crop.
 Blenheim, Ont., Nov. 25.—Tobacco-growers all through this district are decidedly anxious regarding the disposal of this year's crop, which is one of the largest they have ever had. Up to the present no buyers have put in an appearance. Usually by this time the growers have turned over a large percentage of their crop.

APPLES A TOTAL LOSS
 Bloomfield Reports Thousands of Bushels in Orchards.

Bloomfield, Nov. 21.—Thousands of bushels of apples are on the trees and in the orchards yet, and will be a total loss. The reason for this is the shortage of labor and apple barrels, and the extremely cold weather, which has come earlier this year than in many years before.

Washington Marshall has sold his farm to Harry Dunning. The evaluators are not buying apples in the same quantities as other years, owing to poor demand for dried fruit.

Mrs. Charles Zavitz, Guelph, is visiting friends in this village. W. J. Gerow, Henry Norwood, John Eaton and Charles H. Taylor have returned from deer hunting, bringing the usual quantity of deer home with them.

The neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dorland gave a surprise party to them on Friday evening to bid them good-bye before they go to reside in Toronto. Mrs. Effie Storey is moving from her home here to her farm, Picton road. An auction sale of the farm stock and implements was held on McDonald's Island. George Ketcheson, who has been on the farm for a number of years, is moving to the farm he purchased from Selwin Foster. Mr. Workman, Belleville, will be the new proprietor of McDonald's Island. The W.M.S. are invited to the home of Mrs. Theresa Cunningham at West Lake on Wednesday afternoon.

Presentation at Inverary.
 Inverary, Nov. 24.—The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. William Gummer, Inverary, gathered at their home Monday evening, Nov. 22nd, previous to their leaving to reside in Kingston, and presented Mr. Gummer with a handsome Morris chair and Mrs. Gummer with a grand rocker and a serverette. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gummer replied, thanking their friends for the kindness shown them and expressing their sorrow on leaving the neighborhood.

Reeve McFadden acted as chairman and called upon Jack Donoghue, formerly of Kingston, at present employed in Montreal, to read an address. The presentation was made by five young ladies of the village: Mildred McKnight, Ethel Arthur, Anna Thompson, Gladys Garrett, and Rita Dennee.

After the address had been read the chairs called for speeches from P. S. Ferguson, Sheldon Perry, A. J. Garrett and Charles Loney. The evening was spent very quietly. A delightful lunch was served. The evening broke up with the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and "The King."

Twenty Per Cent. Bonus.

Do you know there are only two methods of Knitting Underwear?

1. One is the method used in the manufacturing of "CEETEE"—knitted on full fashioning machines, which "knit-to-fit"—used only by Turnbull's, and by no other underwear manufacturer in Canada.

2. The other method is that of knitting on circular knitting machines, such as are used by every other manufacturer of knitted underwear in Canada—also by Turnbull's, for their other lines.

Good appearance, wonderful softness, ease and comfort in fit, with quality always first, the best yarns, the most modern process of manufacture—are embodied in all Turnbull's Underwear.

For over sixty years Turnbull's have specialized in the making of high grade knitted underwear in Canada.

AUTOMOBILES

Now is the time to purchase that car for next year, for many good reasons, which we can not only explain, but are in a position to guarantee.

For example: we guarantee the price of every new car that is delivered or even ordered, against any decrease in price as far as July, 1921, and in the event of a decrease we further guarantee to refund the difference between the present and new price.

Further, we have the best value in the used car line that has ever been offered in this city. Cars were never so reasonable as they are at the present moment. And you will find that the prices have become settled already, and that the purchaser of a real good reliable car this fall will be ahead in the Spring of the year even if he takes into consideration the fact that the car must be wintered. Let us have a talk with you on the matter and think it over. We have the value and it is the best in the city.
