Why Turkeys Are Dear.

So long as agents from the United States are permitted to come in and buy up Canada's turkey supply, the people at home will have to pay almost prohibitive prices for these choice birds. Ten thousand pounds of turkey were shipped from one township in Frontenac county for the American Thanksgiving.

McGuire-Switzer Wedding.

An interesting marriage was solemnized at Norwood Methodist church, Edmononton, Nov. 15th, when Mildred F. McGuire, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Switzer, Hnisfall, Alberta, formerly of Orillia, Ont., was united in marriage to John McGuire, Edmononton, formerly of Port, Ont.

Passed Away at Edmononton.

W. J. McGrath, formerly of Deseronto, died in Edmononton, aged fifty-two years, from paralysis. He was a real estate operator, served in the council and unsuccessfully ran for mayor in 1912. At Deseronto he was in the Cheese exporting business going west in 1904. Deceased was a Methodist, always interested in clean sport, curling and lawn bowling being his favorite games.

Naphin has just received official notice of his appointment as liquor license inspector for the southern part of the county of Hastings and for Prince Edward county, as successor to the late Richard C. Event at Mallorytown.

The members of the Ladies' Aid and choir of the Methodist church gathered at the Methodist parsonage, Mallorytown, last Friday evening for the purpose of making a presentation to Frank Eaton for his valuable service in the Methodist choir for the last season. The ladies presented him with a handsome hymn book and an appropriate address was read by Mrs. Meredith, after which an enjoyable evening was spent. Mr. Eaton was engaged to manufacture cheese at the Union factory during the season. He will close the factory and return to Frankville this week.

Lighting System.

Some weeks ago the minimum lighting bill for Carleton Place was raised to $1 per month for each house using the service, says the Central Canadian. This rate was fixed by the Hydro Commission of Toronto and is altogether out of the control of the local Public Utilities Commission. There is considerable resentment in town over the increase, which affects small users only.

What Became of Liqueur?

What became of the fifty-eight cases of Wolfe Island liqueur? This is a question which the court, presided over by Justice of the Peace Bradshaw and Allison, were unable to settle on Friday. The case was fixed by the Hydro Commission of Toronto and is altogether out of the control of the local Public Utilities Commission. There is considerable resentment in town over the increase, which affects small users only.

Honored in Belleville.

Rotarian Billy Doyle, Belleville, who has been secretary since the inception of the club here, has retired, and was presented with an address and club bag in recognition of his services. After an address on reforestation by Billy Schuster, a committee composed of Gus Porter, Frank Wills and Owen Herity was appointed to act with Rotarian Schuster in promoting a scheme of reforestation for Hastings county.

Belonged to R.C.H.A.

T. Hewitt, late of the R.C.H.A., has been appointed regimental sergeant-major of the 1st Brigade, C.F.A. and has taken up his duties. R.S.M. Hewitt went overseas at the beginning of the great war with the R.C.H.A., and saw continuous service throughout the conflict. When the Canadian expedition was sent to Russia he received an appointment to the C.F.A. and remained in that country till August, 1919, when he returned home. Besides the 1914-15 star and the two service medals, R.S.M. Hewitt is the holder of the Meritorious Service Medal, the Order of St. Stanislas, first class.

Made Very Fast Time.

The Grand Trunk made some fast time on the special train ordered to carry Dr. Anderson from Toronto to Kingston, to attend Robert Richardson, son of the late Senator Henry W. Richardson, who is critically ill. The call was put in for the train at ten o'clock on Friday morning. It left Toronto at 11:10 and arrived in Kingston at 2:35 p.m., making the 164 miles in three and a quarter hours, with twelve minutes detention. The engine is known as Greyhound No. 188, and was under the charge of Conductor Norton.

Not in Accord With Party.

Country, go to a better 'ole.

Just the place some these disagreeable kinds cannot find in Canada. Kingston will stand for H. C. Nickle for 1921 as mayor. Don't you make any mistake. If they don't, then I am off for a better 'ole, not 'ole. Your truly, E. A. HOWLEY, 63 Stephens street.

PUBLIC CONTRIBUTIONS TO RELIEVE DISTRESS

The Poor Relief Committee in Favor of the Whig's Plan.

Mrs. John Wright, the president of the Poor Relief Association, stated that members were very favorable to the scheme of collecting to provide Christmas cheer for needy people, as outlined by the Whig. She stated that it was her intention at the meeting of the committee which would be held on Tuesday next, to take up the matter and outline plans. If the response was large, she would suggest that a portion of the money be used in providing Christmas cheer and the rest of it could be used for relieving distress during the winter months.

Letters to the Editor

Re Mayor Nickle. Kingston, Dec. 2.—(To the Editor), Your article concerning Mayor H. C. Nickle's running again for Kingston, I would like to mention him as the best man for Kingston, in defiance of what I have heard. There are some supposed veterans whom I have had a rap over the knuckles from for defending an able man; but take the knocking easy and say nothing, but watch the actions. I find their money is slow in coming when it comes to supporting the labour class. Mayor Nickle says he has been the soldiers' friend. Well, he had no need to tell us. We all know. There has not been a person in any of the organizations of veterans who can say, he has done more than his, his work has done, since I returned to Canada at any rate. I have heard a good many more say, outside and inside the veterans circle: "If you had any trouble, go to Nickle. Sure enough, he has got for them what others have failed to get. Mayor Nickle made the remark on 'Arm's Day,' that if they don't like this Unreasonable.

(Cincinnati Enquirer) mother knows much about the raising of children," said little four-year old Dorothy. "What makes you think so?" asked her father. "Well, she makes me go to bed when I am wide awake and she makes me get up when I am awfully sleepy," was the reply.

Rev. Mr. Moore, B.A., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Moore, Carleton place, pastor of St. Andrew's church at Sarnia for over seven years, has accepted a call to Amherstburg.

Never be alarmed with the idea that you may do more than your duty.

It is only those who are in touch with the local conditions who have any idea of the need that there is at the present time.

Although the campaign was only spoken of a couple of days ago, already a list of names has been received at the Whig office. The list of the contributors will be published from time to time.

CARD PARTY AT R.M.C.

The Sergeants Made Ideal Hosts on Thursday Evening. The sergeants of the Royal Military College held a "mess warming party" on Thursday evening, when they organized the first social function in their comfortable and cosy mess on Fort Frederick peninsula.

The sergeants' mess was thrown open to the ladies and many flattering remarks were passed at the taste shown by the soldiers in furnishing the different rooms, and the pleasing effects obtained. Rather humourously, the warrant officers and non-commissioned officers had not considered the necessity of providing a mirror in the mess building, and this careless negligence brought forth a storm of disapproval from the fair sex. At the next mess meeting, a resolution to purchase a mirror for the institution will doubtless be passed unanimously.

Tables of "five-hundred" and "whist" were formed and prizes were won by Mrs. Coldham, Mrs. Ross, of the right to exercise his conscience. This was not right in his opinion, as he believed that a representative should exercise his conscience in discharging his duty to his country. He announced that it was not his intention to be a candidate for alderman for next year, and he thanked all his friends in Frontenac ward for the support given him in the past.

New Hotel At Round Island.

The building of a medium sized, exclusive hotel at Frontenac is said to be the project of a number of the property owners of Round Island. According to reports the owners are desirous that an establishment replace the famous Hotel Frontenac destroyed a number of years ago. It is claimed that the same patrons who came in the years gone by would be glad to return to the island for summer seasons and that a medium sized hotel would find good patronage, the guests being acquaintances in large part of the island summer occupants. It is known that a contract for building the nine-hole golf course has been let. The course will be completed by spring. Nothing definite regarding the hotel, however, has been announced as yet.

Use Church For Waterworks.

Dr. A. A. Metcalfe has a suggestion to make regarding the proposed waterworks plant for Almonte. He thinks that the old St. John's church would make a most convenient and economical building for it, especially if it is determined that the source of supply should be artesian wells. His plan is that the well should be bored from within the building and the water pumped to a reserve tank placed high up within the church if a force supply is not tapped. If necessary the walls could be raised a few feet. This would give a gravity flow to a good portion of the town. Dr. Metcalfe's proposal appears to find a good deal of favor.

Brash-Thomson Wedding.

A happy event took place on Wednesday evening, December 18th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Thomson, Woodburn, when their eldest daughter, Eva Alice, was united in matrimony to George Denton Brash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brash, Pittserry. The bride presented a picture of youthful loveliness in a frock of ivory crepe de chene and carried a bouquet of carnation roses. Her only ornament was the groom's gift, a cameo ring mounted on onyx encircled with pearls. She entered the parlor on the arm of her father to the strains of a wedding march played by her sister Beatrice, and took up her position under an arch of evergreens and bridal bells, where the groom awaited her. They were unattended. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. N. Maxwell. After the ceremony and the signing of the register, the bride and groom led the way to the dining room where covers were laid for forty guests, all near relatives. The young couple left for their future home at Pittserry. The bride wore a travelling suit of navy tricollette, with hat and blouse to match. The many presents consisting of silverware, cut-glass, china and several substantial cheques, testified to the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held. Among the guests were the only surviving grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Thompson.

Sergt.-Major Hilton and Sgt.-Major Faulkner.

Refreshments were served after the cards, and the happy party was brought to a successful conclusion at midnight, after the ladies had elicited promises that they should be again invited to the sergeants' mess, conditionally upon the much-needed mirror being provided for them.

During the evening, Major E. H. de L. Greenwood, and Lieut. S. C. Cutbush visited the mess and contributed much towards the success of the event.
