LINDSAY'S

"CHOOSE MUSICAL GIFTS THIS CHRISTMAS"

"IF LINDSAY SELLS IT-- IT'S ALL RIGHT"

Most people know little about Pianos or Phonographs, and most rely upon the word of the merchant from whom they purchase. There is double satisfaction in dealing with a firm in which the buyer can place implicit confidence. Just such a firm is LINDSAY'S. A glance at the enumeration of the lines of musical goods they sell suffices to see that none but the best is ever offered in a LINDSAY'S store.

Get your Christmas Piano or Phonograph now while our stock is varied: whatever you select we will deliver at once, or later—on Christmas Eve if desired. Divided payments accepted on all purchases.

We are open every evening until Christmas.

HAVE NOT ENOUGH FUNDS INCIDENTS OF THE DAY

To Engage Poor Relief Agent To Establish Central Bureau.

At the meeting of the City Poor Relief Society held on Tuesday afternoon, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year—Honorary president, Mrs. S. Oberdorffer; president, Mrs. John Wright, (re-elected); 1st vice-president, Mrs. J. G. Elliott; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. H. Gimblett; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. F. E. Robinson; treasurer, Mrs. S. S. Corbett; secretary, Mrs. A. M. Macfar; assistant secretary, Miss B. Jack. On account of the lack of funds, it was decided that it would be impossible to secure an agent for the time being.

A Central Bureau. At a meeting on Tuesday afternoon, of representatives of the different churches and societies, held in the city council chamber, at which Mrs. John Wright, president of the City Poor Relief society presided, and after a very long discussion it was decided to work in conjunction with Mayor H. C. Nickle and establish a central bureau of information in the city. The mayor stated that he had been in conference with the police magistrate, and if the committee thought wise to establish a bureau of information, they could use his office in the city hall. The idea is that if such a bureau was established, it would mean that all complaints, of relief could be handled through the one centre.

DIES OF PTOMAIN POISON AT UTICA

Mrs. Mary Etta Slack Elliott Was in Her Forty-second Year.

The funeral was held at Carthage, N.Y., of Mrs. Mary Etta Slack Elliott, a native of Athens, who died Friday at her home in Utica, N.Y., as a result of auto-intoxication following ptomaine poisoning. She was aged forty-one years.

Mrs. Elliott became suddenly ill three weeks ago from the effects of an unusual and accidental poisoning from light foods which she had eaten. Although she became greatly distressed within a few hours after partaking of the food, she did not seek immediate medical aid and the ill effects became more pronounced within the next few days. Since that time she had received most tender scientific care but her condition passed from the serious stage to that of most critical with the result that death took place on Friday.

The late Mrs. Elliott was born at Athens on Dec. 7th, 1878, and was the daughter of the late Edward B. Slack and of Mrs. Mary Keyes Slack, now residing in Carthage.

"OPEN YOUR EYES."

Is Attracting Big Crowds at the Grand Opera House.

"Open Your Eyes," the feature photoplay at the Grand all this week is attracting big audiences. It is a picture that is handled with commendable discretion, and has been approved by medical authorities everywhere. It is a throbbing drama of youth, love, disillusionment, suffering and medical quackery. It is a picture with a double purpose.

The central figures are two young women, just budding into womanhood. The one finds her mother her confidante, the other is allowed to investigate the mysteries of life without any guiding hand to help her. While one mother talks sensibly to her daughter, explaining to her the sacredness of motherhood and the beauty of a pure mind in a pure body, the other finds her daughter's questions too trivial for attention in a whirl of social affairs and super dainties. The result is inevitable. One girl avoids the pitfalls that trap the unwary, the other learns her lesson in the bitter, cruel school of experience. Interwoven with the two girls' lives is the career of Alex. Vandenine, a typical Broadway rounder, who brings shame and suffering to one, whom he abandons under promise of marriage, and is about to wed the other, whom he really loves, when the abandoned one halts the wedding ceremony by proclaiming that the bridegroom is unfit to become the husband of any woman.

Leading physicians, clergymen, Y.M.C.A. workers and educators everywhere have lavishly praised this picture in every city where it has been shown.

"Open Your Eyes" is being presented every afternoon at 2.30, with one showing at night at 8 p.m. with other pictures.

WORK OF THE Y.W.C.A.

Have a Centre of Attraction and Industry.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Y.W.C.A., held on Monday last, reports were given which showed that good work had been accomplished. Meetings were held every day during the week of prayer with encouraging results. The last of a series of medical lectures for the Fellowship Club was given by Dr. Boyce.

Gymnasium classes are being held in Queen's gymnasium. There is a membership of thirty, and the girls are enjoying very much the instruction given by Miss O'Connor, physical director for the girls of the university.

The Glee Club, under Miss Patterson's direction, the "City Corps" studying girl guiding, the regular classes in cookery and sewing, prove that the home on Johnston street is a centre of attraction, as well as of industry.

Had Make Shift Crew.

The steamers General Rochester and General Card reached Clayton on Sunday with make-shift crews as the result of the prediction of a fortune teller at Detroit, who stated that two vessels were leaving Detroit, but that one would be lost. As a result twenty-seven members of the crew deserted the vessels, and the captain had to get other men.
