GRAND SIRE OF THE I.O.O.F.

Joseph Oliver Guest of Honor at Banquet This Evening.

Joseph Oliver, grand sire of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, Toronto, arrived in the city on Friday to attend a meeting of the Oddfellows of Kingston this evening, at which he will be the guest of honor in recognition of the honor that has come to Canada by his elevation to the highest office of this great fraternal society, whose jurisdiction is wider than that of any other body, embracing the whole of North America. On December 31st, 1919, there were sixty-eight grand lodges, 17,374 subordinate lodges, with a total membership of 2,367,738. As showing the activity and growth, the funds available for relief amount to $80,000,000 and the membership increased last year by 102,286.

Mr. Oliver's elevation to the position of grand sire is a distinction that few Canadians receive. It has come to Canada only twice in a period of fifty years. The first was Dr. Campbell, London, Ont. Mr. Oliver was elected at the meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge held at Boston in September.

Grand Sire Oliver is one of Toronto's ex-mayors, one of the few Liberals who was privileged to sit in the mayor's chair. He won over the late Dr. Beattie Nesbit. His mother lodge is the Queen City No. 56, Toronto.

This evening a banquet will be given in the city hall, which will be attended by the officers and members of the I.O.O.F. in Kingston, who number about 1,200.

Theatrical

At The Grand.

"Open Your Eyes," the wonderful photoplay that has caused such comment throughout the moving picture world, will be seen at the Grand to-night and Saturday. This picture has been received with open arms by all right thinking people wherever it has been shown; mothers, fathers, doctors, ministers, and in fact every one who sees it, speak of it in the highest terms. It is a picture that handles a delicate subject in a masterly manner, that cannot give offence to the most critical. The effect of the "social evil" on the young people of to-day is portrayed in striking manner, and the wonderful lesson that runs through it has something in it for each and every one of us. There is also another extra fine feature entitled "Food For Scandal" starring the talented motion picture actress, Wanda Hawley. This picture has to do with a young girl who, to earn enough to keep the wolf from the door, gets mixed up in a divorce scandal, yet in a most unusual way. The working out of the delightful love story in this play makes one of the most successful photoplays released this year. Miss Hawley is seen to great advantage in this production, and is supported by an admirable cast. There are reels of news, comedies, and other subjects, and a special musical programme by the Grand's orchestra. This bill will be seen to-night and Saturday only—Adv.

Coming to the Grand.

On Monday, Dec. 13th, Ernie Marks and his company of advanced repertory and vaudeville players will present that great comedy drama, "The Price", and sure is a hearty laugh and a delightful play from start to finish. The play has been a great success for several seasons, because it's chuck full of fun, brimming over with good humor, and a story that grips the attention. There is entertainment galore in "The Price", with its music, clean, bright comedy, and scenes and situations of thrilling excitement and touches of pathos, all so true that it seems like a page torn from Nature's book, a great play for the children. Popular prices prevail. For an evening of enjoyment go to the Grand Opera House on the opening of the Ernie Marks Stock Co., supporting the clever actress, Kittle Marks. This clever company of entertainers come to the Grand Opera House for the entire week of Dec. 13th, with a change of play nightly and six big new vaudeville specialties between acts.—Adv.

At The Strand.

Kingston's playgoers witnessed the first starring effort of one of the newest of film twinklers last evening. The occasion was the premiere of the Strand Theatre of "You Never Can Tell," the initial Bebe Daniels. It is needless to say that Miss Daniels scored a real hit. This was a foregone conclusion with those who have watched her rise through comedies with Harold Lloyd to leading roles. Miss Daniels meets the test in a manner that thoroughly satisfied a large audience last night. She is delightful as the ambitious little check-girl whose love for beautiful things leads her almost into trouble before she meets and loves a "Prince charming" whom she thinks a taxi chauffeur, but who really is a young millionaire. It is a clever and amusing story of the "good little bad girl." The supporting cast shows a really remarkable array of acting ability. Jack Mulhall is spot-looking and thoroughly likeable as leading man. Careful direction is evidenced, for which praise is due Chester Franklyn. Tom Geraghty and Helmar wrote the scenario from two Saturday Evening Post stories by Grace Lovell Bryan.—Adv.

At Griffin's.

How two men of strong physical resemblance but widely different character would meet a complicated situation is set forth with skill in "The Man Who Lost Himself," the feature picture which was shown for the first time at this theatre last evening, while the dominant element contributing to the successful production is that of Mr. Faversham's personality and fine interpretation there are others of importance. The handling of the story is another piece of artistry bound to please, the settings are designed to be all that could be desired without appearing over conventional. Mr. Faversham plays the role of a man suddenly cast into new and unaccustomed environment with clear understanding of what is required. He becomes immediately busy

In breaking down the prejudices of century old social conditions through a live and progressive spirit, this without losing sight of the character's limitations. The star is ably supported by a well chosen cast headlined by Hedda Hopper. Her interpretation adds very materially to the delightful spirit of a product. This highly pleasing picture will be repeated to-night and to-morrow, along with the balance of our well selected programme, which includes the 5th episode of "Pirate Gold", and those master pictures of nature known as Prisms. Don't miss this delightful programme.—Adv.

FOG STILL TOO HEAVY FOR WATER TRAFFIC

The Missisquoi Could Not Go to Cape Vincent on Friday.

On Friday morning the steamer Missisquoi, which runs between Kingston and Cape Vincent, on account of heavy fog, found it necessary to remain at the wharf. On Thursday Capt. Carnegie found it necessary to return. On Friday morning, when speaking to the captain, the Whig learned that the fog was due to the water being warmer than the air.

The steamer Wolfe Islander, which, on account of the fog, found it necessary to take shelter at Breaker's Bay on Thursday morning, arrived at the city wharf at four o'clock in the afternoon. The islanders, who were aboard the steamer and were coming to Kingston, had large quantities of eggs, butter and poultry of every kind. It is quite likely that many of the people from Howe Island who had intended coming to Kingston on Thursday, but were forced to return, will cross to the main land on Saturday and drive to Kingston market. The boat authorities stated that there were over two hundred people who could not reach the Kingston market on Thursday.

CLAIMS A BREAD WAR IS ON IN KINGSTON

Doyle Bread Company Says the New Price is Too Low.

On Friday morning bread dropped to 21 cents a loaf of three pounds, which is a decrease of 25 per cent. within six weeks. The new wholesale price is 18 cents for a large loaf. On Thursday afternoon the New England Bread Company announced through the advertising columns of the Whig that the new prices would prevail on Friday. The bread dealers are selling ten tickets for $1.00.

Mr. Doyle, of the Doyle Bread Company, when asked the reason for the decrease, stated that there was a bread war on in Kingston at the present time. The price of flour had not dropped, and there was no reason for the decrease in price. As far as he was concerned, he could not manufacture bread and sell it for the prices which prevail at the present time.
