Just Eleven Days. "Just eleven more days for Christmas shopping," remarked a local shopkeeper to the Whig. "Put this in the paper and keep it before the people so that they will not forget."

A Great Life This. This is certainly a great life—if you don't weaken. To-day we have the boats running on the harbor and sleighs, vehicles, automobiles and bicycles on the street.

Received a Grant. The Cobden Memorial Hall building fund committee have received a cheque for $2,000 from the provincial government as a grant under the Community Hall Act. This is the first grant of its kind in Canada.

Closing of Factories. At the meeting of the Brockville cheese board on Thursday, the last of the season, 865 boxes were sold to L. McVeigh at 19 1/2¢. Practically all the factories in the district are closed for the year, and the offerings were accordingly light. One combination and half a dozen factories registered, and McVeigh took the entire board.

An Ancient Apple Tree. An apple tree over 100 years old which is on the premises of Frank Rutherford, Belleville, yielded abundantly, some of the fruit weighing over ten ounces. This tree, of the Gloria Mundi variety, is one of the old Meyers' orchard planted by John W. Meyers in or about 1804, and of which trees not more than twenty remain.

A Death at Lombardy. On Saturday last the death occurred at Lombardy of a well known and most highly esteemed resident in the person of James Joynt. He was fifty-seven years of age. For a number of years he followed farming at New Boys and later retired and lived at Lombardy. He was an Anglican in religion and a Conservative in politics.

The pep put into the municipal elections last January appears to have been forced—more wind than anything else. This time there is no life in the campaign. In fact there is not even a campaign.

It is announced, for the benefit of those who do not know, that the mayor's office hours in the city buildings are from eleven till twelve in the morning, and not at night, as a couple who called at the mayor's office at 11.30 one night this week chance to see His Worship, but it was only a chance, and a risky one at that.

The girls from all over Ontario are just crazy to come to train as nurses in the Kingston General Hospital. And why wouldn't they be, with a brigadier-general in command and such a lot of handsome Queen's medical students over-running the place.

The Lampman was glad to see that Dr. Ross was not chosen head of a party destined for the next generation to remain in opposition. The doctor would be better at the head of the people's party, something that would win.

Portsmouth is some place, mark you. The common school board has ordered that a thermometer be purchased for the junior room. May we not take for granted that the senior room of the school already has one?

An ex-mayor is said to have lost his ticket when he went to the Tory convention at Toronto last week and had only a few cents left in his purse. As there were four ex-mayors of Kingston at that revival, it's not easy guessing.

If some organization wants to make some easy money, let it arrange a debate in Grant Hall between J. L. Morrison and one Lind-
