To Free Your Arms of Hair or Fuzz

(Boudoir Secrets)
No toilet table is complete without a small package of delatone, for with it hair or fuzz can be quickly banished from the skin. To remove hairs you merely mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the objectionable hairs. This should be left on the skin about 2 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when it will be found free from hair or blemish. Be sure you get genuine delatone.

Kingston and Vicinity

Is the Principal.
Miss Nesbitt, Kingston, who used to be in Deseronto, as one of the teachers at the high school, is back there this season as principal.

Best Value in the City.
We have a few first-class winter overcoats left which we will sell at extremely low price. Prevost Clothing House, Brock street.

He Knew How.
Arthur Gravelle, Renfrew, went to Sudbury to open the safe of the late Dr. Charbonneau. It had been tried unsuccessfully by the local experts, but as usual, offered no difficulty to the Renfrew safe wizard.

Open Corporation Quarry.
In order to relieve the unemployment situation the Brockville council has made arrangements for opening the corporation quarry, which will provide work for a number of men throughout the winter months.

To Go To China.
Rev. Daniel Carey was ordained to the priesthood in Ottawa recently and he celebrated his first mass in St. Mary's church, Almonte. He is to proceed to China as a missionary, having already taken a course of study at the Chinese Mission College in Almonte.

Selected President.
At a meeting of the executive of the Ontario Municipal Association, held in Toronto, Jan. 6th, M. B. Holmes, ex-warden of Leeds and Grenville, and reeve of Athens, was selected as president to fill the vacancy caused by the death of T. J. Moore, Guelph.

Died in Montreal.
The death took place in Montreal, at her late residence, 373 Northcliffe avenue, of Annie Hart, wife of the late Maitland Newman, of Hamilton and Kingston, and daughter of the late John Hart, Sr., and Mrs. Hart, Perth, Ont., in her seventieth year.

He Deserved It.
A boy in Pembroke, who a few days ago viciously attacked his mother and threw a butcher knife at his sister was arrested by Chief Carroll, and appearing before Police Magistrate Stewart, was sentenced to spend two years in the reformatory at Toronto.

Case at Osgoode Hall.
James Richardson and Sons, Ltd., v. The J. McCarthy and Sons, Co., Ltd.—W. C. McCarthy (Ottawa), for defendants, appealed from certificate of local master at Ottawa in favor of plaintiffs as to validity of second mortgage. G. F. Henderson, K.C., for plaintiffs. Judgment: Appeal dismissed with costs.

After the Wardenship.
It is North Renfrew's turn for the wardenship, and from present indications there is likely to be a contest for the honor, with M. J. Breen, reeve of Bromley, and W. J. Connelly, reeve of Cobden, as the principals. Both are among the oldest members of the county governing body, and either one would creditably discharge the duty.

Weather Man Helps.
The Weather Man must be given credit for endeavoring to solve Canada's coal problem, for the weather has certainly helped to save the coal

What He Died For.
The Sentinel, Toronto.
"The unknown warrior" buried in Westminster, "might have been an Irishman," said Lloyd George in the House of Commons. "If so," asks the Roman Catholic Register, of Toronto, "what did he die for?"

It is a safe guess that the Unknown Warrior was not a Sinn Feiner. He might have been an Irishman, for 144,000 loyal Irishmen enlisted in the Great War, 74,000 of them from the little province of Ulster and the other 70,000 from amongst the loyalists scattered over the other three provinces. If the Unknown Warrior was an Irishman, he did not die in the hope of disrupting the United Kingdom and smashing the British Empire to

HEADACHES MAKE LIFE MISERABLE.

Headaches are one of the most aggravating troubles one can have, and it is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

Headaches seem to be habitual with many people; some are seldom, if ever, free from them, suffering continually from the dull throbbings, the intense pains; sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and then again over the whole head.

There is only one way to get relief from these persistent headaches, and that is by going direct to the seat of the trouble, for unless the cause is removed, the headaches will still continue to exist.

The fact that Burdock Blood Bitters keep the stomach, liver and bowels toned up is proof enough to show that it will eliminate the cause of the headaches.

Mrs. Harold Lanain, Owen Sound, Ont., writes: "My system was run down and my blood out of order. I suffered a great deal from severe pains in my head, which made me feel very miserable. After having tried other remedies I purchased a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and was very glad to notice a decided improvement in my health, so I took another and am glad to say that it has done me an enormous amount of good. I have recommended it to my friends, who were in a similar condition, and they all say it is a wonderful remedy."

B. B. B. is put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

supply. The man about the house has had no reason to complain about the amount of coal he has had to shovel so far, but cheer up, February and March have still to be heard from.

Cows Were Destroyed.
At Phillipville eleven valuable cows, owned by William C. Stevens, were destroyed by Dr. Roberts's government veterinary inspector. The destruction of the cows was made necessary through the appearance of tubercular tendencies in the animals.

Purchased An Ambulance.
Acting on behalf of the Renfrew Red Cross Society, W. E. Smallfield, has placed the order for the ambulance which will be operated by the society in Renfrew. The car will be furnished by McGarvey & Demarce, the agents for the Ford output, and the price is $1,350. The ambulance will be in commission about March 1.

Save the Apple.
It is said that apples may be kept two years or more by wrapping them in newspaper so as to exclude the air, but experience has shown that the newspaper must be one on which the subscription is paid in full to date of use or the dampness resulting from the "due" will cause the fruit to spoil.

Two Hundred Years Ago.
On Wednesday one of the giant elms of Merrickville, standing near the public school, was cut down. Though very large the tree was perfectly sound, and a woodsman expert pressed the view that it was 200 years old—that it was growing for over a century before the construction of the Rideau canal.

After Railway Connection.
The efforts of Belleville civic organizations to have the Madoc branch of the G.T.R. extended to Whitney on the Grand Trunk railway system is awakening interest in all parts of Hastings county. The Hon. R. W. Wigmore, general manager for eastern branches of the Dominion Canners, has offered to donate the orchard property, north of the present public school to the new consolidated school.

A Site Provided.
There is great interest at Wellington in the idea of the consolidated school being built. The question of the site for the school is under consideration and we hear that S. G. Nesbitt, of Brighton, general manager for eastern branches of the Dominion Canners, has offered to donate the orchard property, north of the present public school to the new consolidated school.

Won't Redeem Stamp Machines.
There will be no redemption of the machines issued to the merchants for the purpose of cancelling luxury tax stamps, according to Hon. R. W. Wigmore, minister of customs and inland revenue, who stated that an announcement to that effect given out last week had been an error. The merchants who received cancelling machines for luxury tax stamps were not charged anything for them, but were simply charged two dollars for the license. Therefore, the department can make no rebate for the return of the machines.

Dies on Step Where She Sat.
Feeling seriously ill, while walking on Moira street, Belleville, on Monday, Miss Eileen McGarry rested on a doorstep. She was discovered in a sitting position and as she appeared ill, calls were sent for an automobile and for a physician, but before the arrival of the car and the doctor the neighbors learned pieces. He did not die to start a rebellion in Ireland, and if he had lived he would not shoot his comrades from behind the hedges. He died fighting against the foe with whom the Sinn Feiners formed an alliance. Perhaps he died while the Sinn Feiners were starting that Easter rebellion. Perhaps he would have lived if that hundred thousand men who had to be sent to Ireland to keep the peace could have been sent to France. Perhaps, if some of those hospital ships had not been sunk off the Irish coast, his life might have been saved. Whether he was an Irishman or not, he died helping to defeat the enemy and to maintain the unity and integrity of the British Empire and everything for which the empire stands. Gallant soldiers and policemen are dying for exactly the same ideals in Ireland to-day and it is Sinn Feiners who are now doing the work of the Hun.

Too Particular.
He was the meekest of the meek. He was so very small and so very mild. "You'll find me quite easy to please," he said to a landlady at the Bottlepop Arms, where he had applied for a room. "Ah, that's what they all say!" replied the landlady. "Feller comes here lars' week. I aint perticker, sez 'e. No, 'e wasn't! Perricker didn't, sez 'e. First, 'e objected to sleepin' in a room with four others. Then when I give 'im a bed to 'isself 'e said it wasn't long enough. Then 'e complained of the towel—the same towel all the other visitors had used without a murmur. Well, now, are you goin' to be as perticker as all that?" "Perhaps, after all," murmured the meek applicant, "I'd better not risk it."

What She Had Seen.
An English tourist was on a visit to Arran and decided to have a day's fishing. He made inquiries of local experts, and on being told that the cleg, or horsefly, would suit his purpose for lure, he sought the highland servant at his inn. "I say, my girl, can you get me some horseflies?" he asked. The girl looked at him stupidly. He repeated his question and added ed that she was dead. She was sixty years of age.

Trip to Amherst Island.
The steamer Wolfe Island made a trip to Amherst Island on Tuesday morning and brought down a large number of passengers and much freight. She made the return trip at 2:30 p.m., and all of the residents of the upper island appreciated the service very much. Not in many years has a steamer been able to do this on January 11th.

Automobile Was Stolen.
The Kingston police were notified on Wednesday morning, of the theft at Ottawa of a five passenger Cadillac car belonging to J. R. Booth, Jr. The car was stolen in the capital on New Year's morning. A reward of $400 has been offered for the recovery of the car. A complete search of the Ottawa district failed to reveal any clue of the missing car which was valued at $6,500.

The Late Mrs. Mortimer Meeks.
The death occurred at Parry Sound, on Jan. 8th, of a most esteemed lady, Mrs. Mortimer Meeks. She was seventy years of age and a daughter of the late Isaac Walroth, Colebrook. She is survived by a large family: Mrs. B. Revell, Mrs. Flora Thompson, Mrs. W. H. Thurston, Hilton Meeks, of western Canada, Frank and Forest, Parry Sound, and one brother, William Walroth, Cameron, Ont., the last surviving member of the family. The funeral took place Tuesday, at Parry Sound.

Presentation at Mount Chesney.
A large number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of George Fowler, on Wednesday evening, Jan. 5th, to welcome himself and his bride. The Glenburnie club, U.F.O., of which Mr. Fowler is an active member, presented them with a handsome china cabinet. The address was read by Miss Keith Black, and the presentation was made by Joseph Draper, James W. Bell, presided and called upon several members of the U.F.O. and U.F.W.O. for speeches. All wished the young couple long life and happiness. Mr. Fowler in a neat speech thanked all assembled for the beautiful present, and their good wishes. After partaking of refreshments, card playing and dancing completed a very social evening.

Going to New York.
Mrs. H. A. Lavell, president of the Dominion board of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, left for New York on Thursday, to attend the twentieth annual meeting of the Federated Women's Mission Boards of North America, which takes place there on January 14th and 15th. These meetings were inaugurated at the great meeting of mission workers in Edinburgh in 1900, the first annual meeting being held in 1921. On Friday evening a reception will be held at which the authors of the books used at the mission study classes of the federated societies will be present. From the 18th to the 20th of January the annual meeting of the Foreign Mission Societies will be held in Garden City, at which Mrs. Lavell will also be present. Here will gather in conference the general boards of both the Men's and Woman's societies, and many prominent Canadians will be present.

"Why, girl, did you never see a horsefly?"
"Naa, sir," replied the girl, shaking her head, "but wance I saw a coo jump over a cliff."
