"IN THE PUBLIC EYE"
By J. Stewart

IS YOUR WORK HARD ON YOUR EYES?

If your work is hard on your eyes corrective glasses are needed. The lenses that will be prescribed will furnish the exact assistance needed—they will not be too weak or too strong. Eye examinations rarely show the condition of the two eyes to be the same. Don't let your eyes adjust themselves to glasses. We will make the proper lenses.

THE PREMIER ON EDUCATION

Loud cheering greeted Premier Drury as he arose to reply, the cheering being followed by the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Premier Drury Speaks.

In his opening remarks, Premier Drury stated that he felt it a great honor to have the degree conferred on him by Queen's, not only because of her past record, but because of her present, and undoubted future.

Premier Drury said he could not accept all the compliments paid to him by Principal Taylor without protest. A good deal of it he said had been undeserved. He said Queen's had a grand and glorious past. The university had stood alone without state support, in all these years of success and service to the community. The university had continued all these years to work with unselfish devotion. There was one thing that

DR. BRUCE TAYLOR
Principal of Queen's University, who presided at the Drury meeting Wednesday evening.

Queen's was noted for, and that was that she preserved her "independence of thought." Queen's, he declared, had never sold her birth-right. She always stood for freedom of thought, regardless of the consequences. And the speaker regarded this as the chief function of a university. Universities had a great part to play in the national life.

Continuing, Premier Drury said that graduates of Queen's held responsible positions all over the country. The university was not too large, and this made it possible for the personal touch between teacher and student.

"And what do we expect of the university graduates?" asked the speaker. "We expect above all, leadership and citizenship. We expect you to be the leaders wherever you are. Education is not to be used for your own selfish purposes. It is given to you that you might serve your fellows. There must be leadership in all the villages, towns and large cities. Educated men must not keep aloof from others. Education must be used for the building up of the country. There must be the ideal of public service. Every citizen should have an ideal. Everyone should be an alert citizen. There are ways in which every person may direct.

Universities' Commission.

"I thank you for the honor, and I trust that I will not prove unworthy of the honor. I wish for Queen's a prosperous and successful future. This afternoon I had the privilege of seeing some of the fine equipment of the university. Queen's has fared remarkably well, and she deserves it

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal-oil).

The inventor, E. N. Johnson, 246 Craig Street West, Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month. Adv.

all. The commission appointed by the government is looking into the needs of university life. That means that we will recognize the use and desires of the smaller universities. University work will be looked upon as a unit, and the needs met with in a unified method. Our government has not dared to economize in one line—that of education—which is one of the most vital needs of the people. It is not the only thing by any means; there are other and great problems to be met. One of the most vital things is education, but not alone in the university, but also in the primary and secondary schools and the needs of the common school, where the majority of the people receive all of their education. While we must economize in many things, we dare not restrict when we come to deal with the needs of education.

"We will promise this that when the report of the commission comes in, as it will in due time, and when it gives us the light that we should have to deal intelligently with the matter, the needs of the small educational institutions will not be entirely overlooked. In other words, the work that the smaller university is doing is worthy of recognition of a definite kind from the government."

In his concluding remarks, Premier Drury said he hoped this would not be the last occasion he would have of addressing Queen's faculty and students. The premier was loudly cheered on taking his seat.

The proceedings were brought to a close with the benediction, pronounced by Rev. Dr. Dyde, and the singing of the National Anthem.

BOARD OF WORKS MEETS

Will Not Have Any More Money to Spend Than Last Year.

The Board of Works is the first civic committee to meet this year. It convened Wednesday afternoon with Aids. Angrove, (chairman) Graham, Corbet, Couper, O'Connor and Smith in attendance. Mayor Nickle was also present, and the members learned from his worship that they would not have any more money to spend on streets than last year, if the same rate of taxation was to be maintained. This means that economy must again be the watchword of the street committee.

Reports were received from the city solicitor and the city engineer with regard to several requests for damages. The committee took no action on the claim of G. L. Lockett for damages to his automobile on Union street west as the engineer reported that the roadway was in very good state of repair. No action was also taken on the claim of a resident for damages caused by a large branch of a tree being blown on a fence on his property and demolishing it. The tree was reported sound and as having been broken during a heavy gale. The committee decided to pay Mrs. Lapum $21 for damages sustained through the blocking of the city sewer into which her drain emptied.

The resignation of W. J. Fair as city's member on the Suburban Road Area Commission was accepted. No appointment will be made in his stead until the board members look about for a suitable man.

The city engineer was asked to report upon the question of securing a motor driven flusher for cleaning the pavements. This was suggested in the mayor's address, and if such a machine will save money to the city, it is likely that one will be bought. The engineer said he thought it might reduce the amount of labor by one-half.

The committee agreed that the policy of giving preference to married men or men with other dependents should be continued in connection with filling places on the sewers under construction.

THE MAYOR CRITICIZES BOARD OF EDUCATION

Thinks It Has No Right to Overspend Its Appropriation.

Mayor Nickle told the Board of Works on Wednesday afternoon that the civic finance committee intended ascertaining if the Board of Education had any right to create an overdraft on its year's operations in connection with the schools. The overdraft from 1920 he said, would be about $7,500, which meant an additional half mill in taxes for the people to pay this year.

"If the Board of Education can create an overdraft by spending what it pleases, what is the use of it coming to the city council and asking for its year's requirement?" asked the mayor.

"Is there no way we can curb them?" asked Ald. Smith.

"Yes, probably by refusing to pay this overdraft and forcing an issue," said the mayor. "I am told that the head office of one bank, which was applied to for funds, refused to meet the request of the Board of Education because it was held that the board had no authority to borrow money."

It is claimed that the individual members of the board are liable for the amount expended beyond that granted by the city council.

A Good Samaritan.

One day this week a man hailing from Vanleek Hill while in a drunken condition and with his face bleeding entered the residence of Thomas Pink, Pembroke. The police were called and he was placed in the lockup. Next morning he appeared before Police Magistrate Stewart, who imposed a fine, which the man was unable to pay. Rather than see him go to goal Mr. Pink paid the fine and gave him his liberty.

Almost every man knows that he could write better stories than he reads in the magazines, if he didn't have to devote all of his time to earning a living.

We know a dub who calls himself a newspaper man because he once wrote a patent medicine testimonial that appeared in an advertisement in a number of journals.
