SEPTEMBER 20TH TO 26TH

Are the Dates Chosen for This Year's Kingston Fair.

The annual meeting of the Kingston Industrial Agricultural Society was held on Monday afternoon. John Sibbett, president, occupied the chair, and reports were presented by the various committees, including that of the secretary-treasurer and manager of the Kingston Fair, and the financial statements of the auditors which showed a balance on hand of $13, and assets amounting to $1,071. The statement was as follows:

Receipts.
Balance from 1919	$ 396 00
Legislative grant	1,034 00
Municipal grants	900 00
Membership fees	143 00
Admission fees	3,701 40
Rents	1,235 00
Grand Stand	152 50
Money borrowed (1920)	4,000 00
Field crop competition	50 00
Legislative grant for gate loss	300 00
Rain insurance	2,202 50
Entry fees	525 25
Total	$ 16,942 15

Expenditure.
Cash prizes	$ 3,153 99
Field crop competition	24 00
Attractions	2,629 61
Rent, light, heat, etc.	2,701 55
Advertising and printing	2,312 96

Total	$ 16,942 15

Assets.
Balance on hand	$ 396 00
Coops, lumber, typewriter	675 00
Total	$ 1,071 00

The auditors reported that the statement conformed to the requirements of the government, and that vouchers were submitted for all items of expenditure.

Mr. Bushell directed attention to the conditions of the field crop competition and called for entries. Many were made on the spot in the five-acre white oats and ensilage corn. The prize list was then reviewed, but the only amendment was the addition of the minimum and maximum weights of bacon hogs which are from 170 to 200 pounds. The secretary presented a letter from the city treasurer, showing how the fire insurance is distributed over the different buildings at the fair grounds, which was regarded as satisfactory. He announced that he was invited to address the provincial agricultural fairs convention to be held in Toronto, Feb. 8th and 9th on rain insurance for fairs. He directed attention to the satisfactory result of this class insurance at Kingston last year. Of the one hundred and sixty fairs held

HAD BAD COUGH FOR THREE YEARS

The constant hacking, racking, persistent cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it, is the kind that is dangerous.

The longer the cough sticks, the more serious menace it becomes to your health.

There is no remedy that will relieve coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It has a healing and soothing action on the air passages, and at the same time acts as a disinfectant of the respiratory organs, destroying the germs that produce serious lung complications.

Mrs. John Miller, Minburn, Alta., writes: "I had a very bad cough for three years. I went to several doctors and tried different cough medicines, but nothing seemed to help me. One day a friend told me about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after using several bottles I became completely relieved. I always keep a bottle in the house, and also recommend it to others."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has been universally used for over 30 years, and so great has been its success, it is only natural that a great many imitations have been placed on the market. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 35c. and 60c. a bottle; manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

in Ontario. Kingston was the only one that had the advantage of rain insurance, which netted the society $2,202.50. As a result of his enterprise, he was appointed representative for the insurance company in the province of Ontario.

He told of the plans made for the visit of Premier Drury. Efforts were to hold the meeting in the city hall but owing to inability to secure it in time Dr. Taylor consented to the use of Grant Hall and the society was greatly pleased with the manner in which Dr. Taylor and Queen's University entertained the premier.

The officers elected were: Honorary presidents, Mayor H. C. Nickle, W. F. Nickle, K.C., Dr. J. W. Edwards, M.P., A. M. Rankin, M.P.P., Col. G. Hunter Ogilvie, Brig. Gen. A. E. Ross, C.M.G., M.P.P., J. S. Sibbett, Dr. G. W. Bell, J. A. B. Clarke; President, James Henderson; first vice-president, J. J. Wilmut; second vice-president, A. E. Weller; directors, J. S. Sibbett, Thomas Doyle, E. Braden, J. A. Wilson, James B. Baxter, R. J. Moore, J. L. F. Sproule, H. J. Simpson, Arthur Day, E. Cooke, H. Orser, D. C. Rogers; auditors, John Quinn, C. Adair; secretary-treasurer and manager of the fair, R. J. Bushell; delegates to the Ontario convention, James Henderson, president and R. J. Bushell.

James Henderson expressed his warm appreciation of the confidence shown in him by his associates. He felt it a high honor to be elected president and hoped that next year would be a successful one.

J. S. Sibbett, the retiring president, paid a high tribute to Mr. Henderson, and he was glad to vacate the chairmanship to him. He thanked the officers and members for the splendid support given to him during the past year, and joined with them in hopes for success during 1921. Mr. Wilmut, also, spoke in high terms of Mr. Henderson as a conscientious and enthusiastic farmer and who was an authority on stock raising in Frontenac county.

Mr. Henderson took the chair and the very important question of selecting the date for this year's fair was taken into consideration. Mr. Bushell presented letters showing that the Toronto exhibition would be held from Aug. 27th to Sept. 10th and the Ottawa fair from Sept. 9th to Sept. 19th. It was then decided to hold the Kingston fair from Sept. 20th to the 26th, the first day being given to the farmers and merchants to place their exhibits in place. The sum of $400 was voted as salary to the secretary-treasurer, with a bonus of $200 if the fair is a success.

1,200 WAR CEMETERIES

Canadian Government to Supply Register to Relatives of Soldiers Buried.

Ottawa, Jan. 19.—Twelve hundred cemeteries scattered across France and Belgium will be constructed by the Imperial War Graves Commission as final resting places for the thousands of soldiers of the British Empire who fell during the war. Some of these cemeteries have been completed under the direction of distinguished architects, but by far the greater number are yet to be constructed. In many of these cemeteries Canadian soldiers are or will be buried, and some of them will be composed largely, if not entirely, of Canadian graves. As the record of each cemetery is completed by the military authorities, it is handed over to the Imperial War Graves Commission for making, beautification and care.

When a cemetery is completed, a register is compiled, neatly bound in book form, containing photographs and descriptive matter in regard to the cemeteries, and an alphabetical list of the soldiers buried there, with full particulars of rank, regiment, age, date of death, location of grave, and names of next of kin. These registers, when complete, form a complete roll of the cemetery. One copy, bound in leather, is left at the cemetery, other copies being sent to public libraries and institutions of that nature, while still others have been sold, on application, at the cost of production.

The Canadian government, having seen examples of the registers, and realizing what treasures of possessions they will be to relatives of soldiers, who are buried in the cemeteries overseas, have decided to purchase sufficient copies of the register of each cemetery, as it is published, to supply the nearest relative of each soldier buried in the cemetery. Arrangements have consequently been made to have supplies sent to Ottawa, as each register is completed. They will be distributed to the nearest relative from Ottawa.

Proportional Representation Kills Interest in Elections.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 19.—"Extremely fair and highly moral, but deadly dull," is how the Vancouver Sun describes the civic elections under proportional representation which took place last Thursday. Returns were finally completed last Sunday. The Sun says:

"A proportional representation election is an election with the kick taken out, a non-alcoholic beverage, a christening in which the baby cannot possibly refuse to accept the name bestowed upon it. So long as an election is more uncertain than a horse race, you can get the electors worked up to a pitch of excitement, but take away the element of uncertainty and you take away the element of excitement."

Only six thousand voters out of forty thousand turned out to cast their ballots.
